MR. PR VENCHER, late of the Minerce, Secretary of the Council of Red River, has been on a visit to the Capital during the last few days. Mr. PROVENCHER will leave Ottawa this morning, on his way to Fort Garry, and carries with him the best wishes of his many frien is in Quebec an i On tario.

His Lordship the Bishop of Ottawa will attend the Ecumenical Council at Rome on the 8th December next. We understand that the Emperor Napoleon has ordered all the travelling expenses of the French Bishops at home and in Quebec to be defrayed from the Imperial exchequer. His Lordship was presented with addresses by his flock on Sunday last, conveying their good wishes on his journey, and we are glad to have the and fortunate return.

Prince ARTHUR will probably have three or four days' hunting next week on the Upper Ottawa before his return to Montreal. Young will receive some of our distinguished Visitors to the Capital, at an At Home on Friday night next, and on the following CONSIDERABLE excitement exists not in Ottawa, but in Montreal and Toronto with regard to the order calling out the Voluntee Militia for active service. Rumours are affoat that a Fenian Raid may be expected within ten days, but we believe we may state on reliable authority that the action taken at headquarters only looks to a properly organized defensive attitude, should any emergency arise. It is well known that at the coming November elections in the neighbouring Republic, both political parties, Republican and Democrat, are anxious t by the public opinion of the successful party o wink at the infringement of the neutrality laws by the Fenians. A vigilant detensive attitude is therefore a prulent precaution the present time, and this consideration, to gether with the desire of testing the efficiency of the Volunteer Militia force of the Dominion, is sufficient to explain the action determined upon at headquarters.

lies, and that he will prove it as soon as that Fiss has travelled in company with Gen. GRANT several times during the summer, and, according to Gen. GRANT's own statemovements in gold. Gen. GRANT says, however, that when Fisk asked him some questions with regard to the sales of gold to be made by Government, he answered that he (Grant) could not in fairness disclose anything of that nature, and that the usual onotice of the proposed sales would be published in the ordinary way, simultaneously in all the papers, so that nebody could be said that $125,000 was paid over by Fisk to pearance. The worst of it is, that public officers it ness with which charges of this kind made for party purposes, and the thin cioth out of which it is well known they are commonly manufactured, is that public opinion is really beginning to give little heed to them, in any case.
