An Unnatural Parent. SINGULAR SCENE AT A FUNERAL.

The Baltimore American of Tuesday decribes the following scene, which was enacted at the Baltimore cemetery on Sunday last, which painfully illustrates to what extent an unforgiving spiritonu go: "Many months ince a young lady residing in this city married against the wishes of her father, and as a punishment for her disobedience the father declared that the daughter should never again behold the face of her Oranges, Lenions, Almira Grapes, Apples was ernoerned he kept his vow. At last the mother sickened; was informed that she must die; but still the obdurate father would not allow the daughter to visit the mother in the lying hour. The mother died, and on last Sunday the daughter, with a heart almost breaking with anguish, followed the funeral train to the Baltimore cemetery. She begged, pleaded and entreated to be permitted to have to change in prices, for the reason that there just one look at the face of her mother, but the father refused to have the lid of the cofin
