From Daily Telegray The Toronto Telegrap livision on the Banking r. " Viewed as a defeat of t. Grit party of Ontario, the division list on Friday last, is most significant. It shows that those who call themselves Reformers, per excellence, in this division of the Dominion, have no allies whatever ontside of this Province, if we ex-the Provinces of New Brunswick and Nova The Telegraph is not very sorry that the ultra Reformers can secure no great following, and finds solace rather than sadness in their political, impotency. But it might be worthy of the attention of the Reformers, themselves, one and all, to "take stock" of their relations with the Maritime Provinces, and enquire why they have not been more successful in winning the confidence of the liberals of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. Patriotic feelings might alone suggest such a study; political aspirations if they exist, enforce it. Numerically, indeed, Ontario might a-pire to govern the Dominion. The existence of party government, and the diversity of sentiment and interests which may be expected long to continue, will effectually prevent that consummation, and make it necessary for the dominant party to secure a respectable following in Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Branswick. This the Refor-the beginning and the middle and the end or the Dominion. They are desirous enough to acquire new territory, as an outlet for their agricultural and manufacturing products, but here their aspirations terminate. They showed no aptitude to compose the political difficulties in Nova Scotia. They take no interest in the material development of the Maritime Provinces. Our people feel a deep interest in the improvement of the capals of the West the improvement of Inland Navigation, and the acquisition of the Northwest Territory. These great works will mainly and primarily benefit Ontario, and next to that Quebec; they are fitted, also, to benefit the Maritime Provinces, but obviously to a much less extent. Have theOntario reformers shown any corresponding disposition to promote the material development of the Maritime Provinces? We see no signs of it. The Intercolonial Railroad is a Canadian rather than a Provincial work. Yet Ontario does little more than gramble over that work, and regards it as a wonderful boon benefit the Upper as well as the Lower Provinces, finds few advocates among the Reformers of Outario. They are full of the On Money Order Offices throughout the Domi- Northwest, but care little for the interests of nion, Grert Britain and Ireland, Newfound- the people by the sea. In this respect they land and Prince Edward Island, can be compare unfavorably with the representatives obtained at this Office. Also, Postage and of Quebec as a rule. Eminent or upstart Reformers (we scarcely know which to call them) write to each other, without rebuke, of the political contests of the Maritime Provinces, describing them as "parish politics." Yet the party which thus treats us with undisguised contempt aspires to rule us, and wonders that it has so few followers among us! If we deemed it worth while we might show that the politiclans of New Bronswick are ahead of these of Outario in several respects. Not to go further than our election law, of which the Ontarlo Reformers are quite ready to deprive us, it might easily be shown that it is superior to any in existence in Old Cauada, Our centested elections are referred to the legal trib. unals, and not to the questionable adjudication of the dominant party in the House of 8.10 am, 1.00 pm, 10.00 pm Commons. Is that a specimen of parish politics?' Wa have only one day's voting. Is not that preferable, politically and morally, to two? We life vote by ballot, OTIAWA OFFICE-York street, corner o Sussex | for which Reformers all over the world (Ontario excepted) have labored so strenuously, and, in many cases, so successfully. Is that another example of " parish politics ?" Our public men from Nova Scotla and New Brunswick have been supposed to compare favourably in ability and culture with those of the other Provinces, We do think that several of them are quite as well author of the famous phrase, " parish poli-

interests than these. They do not constilike to hear a great statesman talk wheat or with wheat at San Francisco for a race to Eng. | however, that the tendency of some of the grits is in that direction. They manifest no their sakes and for our own. We should like to find friends and allies among those who ought to be the liberals of Ontario and Quebec. At the present moment we feel keenly that we are not being ime during the season, and has hopes of the treated by the party in power as we deserve. But if we look to the ranks of the Reformers of Ontario, where are we to find one influential or sympathizing political ally If we were anxious to impose a tax on breadstuffs—the bare mention of which has caused flour to rise in price-we might find willing allies among the wheat-growers and-millers of Ontario, but in other respects of great interest to us, we find an utter want of sympathy. This, as we have said, is as little satisfactory to us, as it must be to the fully expect to be able, in the long run, to take care of ourselves, but, in the meantime, any political party. The Coalition Government seems determined to annihilate the leyal Conf. derates of New Brunswick, and the Clear Grits look on well pleased,
