SIR JOHN A. MACDONALD.

There is a decided improvement in the state of Str John A. Macdonaid's health. He passed a very good day yesterday, and, for the first time since his recent attack, he feels some degree of returning strength. We have no doubt this cheering news will be received with that pleasur, which affords to usin giving it.

A MISCHIEVOUS LOYALIST.

The love of mischief is particularly remarkable in some people. It is a propensity as much innate to the individual as the poetic frenay. There is at every public school some "Jumpy Jobson" of a little wretch, who peafers all the big boys and is a source of terror in addition to appoyance to all the smaller boys. The "Jumpy Johsons" grow up and sometimes obtain by that force of impudeace, which had grown with their growth, a degree of influence which neither their talent, energy, or attainments justify. The Globe is assuredly possessed by a "Jumpy Jobson," Continually brawling and over in round him every now and then an admiring crowd. The creature has restreming qualities that could not be dispensed with—one that aged 19 years, employed at the Bous-cours too.
