The Minister of Public Works is ex pected to arrive here to day

We have ascertained that the statement, of the Toronto Globe's correspondent, as to the alleged increase of officials since Confederation is who'ly untrue, being a pure invention.

It is hardly worth while perhaps dent says, seeing that he is obliged to indaily, but it so happens that Mr. Chapuis has not been absent from Ottawa for some every day, working, like the rest of the in the public service.

FACT AGAINST FACTION AND FICTION. A few weeks since the Toronto Globe made a gross personal attack upon the Premier. So vile was it, so utterly untrue and thoroughly despicable, that its Ottawa correspondent publicly stated that The Globe was chall nged to give its au-It failed to do so, and to-day every thinking man in Canada is convinced, as we were from the first, that the falsehood was coined in the Globe office, that it never had a shadow of foundation, and that the Honourable George Brown stands convicted of being a wilful bearer of faiswitness against his great political rival.

Had Mr. Brown had a spark of manipood in his composition, or had the Globe been governed by those rules of fair play which we are glad to believe are recognised by most Canadian journals, the falsehood would have been retracted and apology made for the grave injustice per petrated. As men were wont to appear "from Philip drunk to Philip sober" in order that justice might be done, so might perhaps have been anticipated that an appeal might have been made from the Hon. George Brown drunk phrenzied with envy, jealousy and hatred, to the Hon. George Brown in a calmer and less vindictive frame of mind. But, unfortunately, such is not the case. As i conscious that by no additional amount of tergiversation he can sink himself lower in public esteem than he already has done, and as if glosying in his shame, Mr. Brown repeats the falsehood of which he stands convicted!

The Globe rejoices to think that its recent course in this matter " has not been with out its effect." So do we-for once we are in accord with our Toronto contemporary The "effect" of the Globe's falsehoous concerning the Premier has been exactly what we desired. They have proved, a all events to people in Ottawa who know how utterly baseless they are, that as long as that journal is published, as it now is for the sole purpose of gratifying Mi Brown's personal ambitions and villifying those who venture to differ from him, there is no reliance whatever to be placed upon it, and that there is no falsehood however untrue, to which it wil produced has disgust men who formerly had some respect for Mr. Brown and believed in his organ, and to show them that though, according to the Globe itself, "the Premier is not always lost to a sense of self-respect and public duty," Mr. Brown's mind has of late been so utterly warped by malevo lence and envy, that the same can no longer be said of him. Lost to a sense of public duty, the political views of the Chief Factionist have gradually narrowed down to hatred of the Premier, whose sole crime consists in his success as a statesmun. He sees his old supporters one by one loaving him and, daring to form a conscientious opinion of their own, become minis terial supporters. In vain he cracks his editorial whip, and gnashes at mulice; they do but laugh at and scorn weights, very cheap, at bim in return. And so, reduced to the lowest depths of desperation, he invents scandalous stories concerning the Premier and persistently abides by them, though every one knows them to be false. In all singerity we are sorry for Mr. Brown, We cannot help regretting that a man who might have rendered good service to the country should have sunk so low, entirely in consequence of his having surrendered himself unreservedly to jealous and Mr. J.
