A N .W ARBUMENT FOR A CHANGE OF ADMINISTRATION.

The Toronto Globe has changed its bas ; and has adopted altogether a new line o. argument against the Ministry. It pears to be almost willing to concede that the baues which divided parties in former times have no longer any point or significance, nor does it insist with any d g of energy or persistence on the wive, doing or corruption of the Administration. but it claims that "if they (the Ministry are as pure nd inno ent as they are con tinually represented to be, and if all ferences are dead," they ought at once to allow their opponents to oc. upy their places and examine their record, and then says th Globe, "if no practical abuse could be brought home to them, and no better administrative course suggested" what a denild and his colleagues after having tion to say, " We gave you every opportu " nity for bring ng home to us any kind of " mal administration. Every patient has a bed, with one or two mattresses, two blankets, and clean sheets. The body linen and sheets have often, from the nature of the wounds, to be changed daily, and in five weeks 7.946 articles had to be washed, without reckoning a large amount of banrages and 566 mattresses. The "Gallerie ies Batailles ' is devoted to the medicines and the thousand other requisites. The foo l is prepared in two kitchens in differout wings of the palace in order to expe. dite to passage to the hospital rooms. Besides the usual diet of meat, white bread and wine, ham, trutt, sausage, champagne, etc., are provided for the severely wound el. The fruit is supplied by the palace g rdens, and the champ goe is the gift of the King of Prussis, who daily sends orderlies with newspapers, and frequently with delicacies. The King and Crown Prince often visit the convalescent.
