The Duke of Chartres is now in France under an assumed name. The restoration of a regency and the old legislative assembly is much talked about It is said that a restoration contemplates a close alliance with Prussia. Bismarck has recently been approached on the subject, but entirely refuses to commit himself to a restoration. He said, when Paris falls we shall find a de facto Government. If it is willing to accept peace and elect a Constitutional Gove nment to confirm the terms of peace, we will not interfere with the internal offices of France. If, on the other hand, the temporary government is inclined wicked y to prolong this war, we will be willing to treat with the Empire, which has not yet been constitutionally set aside.

London, Jan 14.—Gen. Chausey recalled his disordered troops near Lemans, and is retreating in good order. NEW YORK, Jan. 14 - The Herald's correspondent writing from the headquarters of the Second Army of the Loire at Lemuns, at midnight on the 11th, gives the following particulars of the second day's battle between Chausey's forces and the Germany army under Prince Frederick Charles. He writes: This has been one of the most eventful days in the history of France during the present war, and it is probable one of the most eventful battles fought since the struggle began, closed at nightfall of this day.

AS NEW FALL GOODS -50 After the defeat of yesterday General Chausey, displaying much energy, rallied his broken columns and, having received reinforcements, determined to strike another blow to retrieve his fortunes, knowing that the whole hope of France centred upon the ability of his army to break through the strong opposition of the Re i Prince and advance to the relief of Paris. After a night of increasing labour and anxirety daybut found the French forces prepared for the conflict. Their army consisted of three corps, the 16th, 17th, and 21st, respectively under the command of Admiral Jourequibery, and Generals Colomb and Jouffrey, The corps averaged 50,000 men each, making an effective force of 150,000 men, the whole army being C. Gen. Chausey, perceiving the danger which threatened his position, moved forward his reserves of artillery to the support of Jourequibery. These opened a terrific fire, which checked for a while the further advance of the Germans in that direction. Two or three severe as-

After two hours desperate fighting the French centre was driven back. It retreated, however, slowly and in good order for a short distance only to a position in the rear of that first occupied, where a rising ground afforded good facilities for artillery. Here a heavy force of guns was posted which was manned by the marines, opened a severe and well directed fire upon the advancing enemy, this not only checked the Germans but compelled them to fall back lato the town. Heavy counter fires soon opened from the German batteries Wellington Street, Upper Town, Ottawa which during the engagement had advanced to a commanding position on the left of the raisroad. The superiority of the German guns in firing soon became apparent. After an unequal duel the French fire slackened, the Germans causing great loss to the Fre ch lines. Still the French infantry maintained their position, and another attempt to dislodge them signally failed. For some time the engagement had the appearance of an artillery due but when the German lines had taken the positions assigned them a more active at-
