MR. PRINCE ON HIS OWN GAME BILL

To the Editor of THE TIMES.

Sir,-Having quietly exposed the insincerity and absurdity of Mr. Albert Prince's proposed amendments to the game laws for Ontario, I expected just such an irate communication from him as appears in your columns this morning. Knowing game of both land and water in this province, it does not surprise me that he is wedded to his own Bill and his peculiar views, and considers everybody else within and without the County of Essex, amentably ignorant on the subject of inent" nor disrespectful towards the onstrued into "abuse" of the author and comoter of the bill. I have merely in ormed my friends on a matter of public concern, and discussed the same (as every person has a right to do) openly and airly. It would have been very easy for me to adduce personal instances to prove the selfish of ject of Mr. Prince and his friends in the proposed sectional legislaion. Take the following example :- The existing statute prohibits quail hunting for three years. Mr. Prince says this "ridiculous," The Optario legislature and the "community and farmers" whose representatives procured it, evidently did below 4,000 feet, as far as they have been improved, and now is, to all appearances, mentable ignorance." If Mr. Prince had sail the prohibition was inconvenient to himself and his Toronto triends, the " farmers and sportsmen and all" in the townships of Merres and Colchester might have agreed with him. Rumour says that the House rose. Mr. Albert Prince, the member for Essex. and his brother Capt.
