

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

To the Electors of the County of Carleton—John Holmes.

The Ottawa Times.

MONDAY, JULY 29, 1872.

Political Caterers for the County of Carleton—Mr. Sheriff Powell and Mr. Boucher.

LATEST TELEGRAPHIC ITEMS.

A report is in circulation in Paris that Duc Lave intends to resign his seat in the Assembly.

A landslide on the railway near Mount Coma obstructed the passage of the express train. No lives lost; but the passengers were obliged to walk three miles to reach another train.

An official report is made to the Department of War at Madrid to the effect that Castillo had been killed, with a loss of 1,000 men.

A destructive fire occurred at Godrich on Friday morning. The loss of property was estimated at $50,000.

A boy and girl, children of a fisherman named Lescar, and a fisherman named Harvey, were carried over Niagara Falls on Saturday afternoon.

Grand Master Johnson has presented E.O. No. 421, Toronto, with his portrait. The lodge intend placing it on their banner.

A shocking accident occurred at Walkerville, Windsor, on Saturday. A child of Louis Montreal, while watering a horse at the river, put the nose at the end of the rope over his head, and the horse while in the water got frightened and ran along the shore, dragging the child; the horse then made for the stable, dragging the child along the ground, and the body of the child coming in contact with a log of wood the head was jerked off and thrown a distance of twenty feet.

Mr. Brooks who was elected for Sherbrooke by acclamation, made very strong declarations on the hustings in support of the Government.

THE CARLETON ELECTION.

MEMORANDUM.

Today the nominations for the County of Carleton will take place. We trust, and have indeed little doubt from all we can learn, that the electors will be in a becoming manner resent Mr. Sheriff Powell's interference, and will let him know what they think of the man, who because he cannot obtain anything by fair means, resorts to the use of force.

Mr. Holmes' address is before the electors. Like himself it is honest and straightforward. He appeals to them for support on the ground that he has done and he would to support that policy which has resulted so advantageously to Canada, and has faithfully protected the interests of the community which he represents. He does not ask the electors to return him because he is an "orator"; his claim to their confidence and their suffrages is placed upon a different basis. He was chosen by them in 1857 to support the administration then formed by Sir John Macdonald so long as that administration was faithful to the policy of union which the electors desired to see carried out, and he has done so.

Mr. Holmes' address is before the electors. Like himself it is honest and straightforward. He appeals to them for support on the ground that he has done and he would to support that policy which has resulted so advantageously to Canada, and has faithfully protected the interests of the community which he represents. He does not ask the electors to return him because he is an "orator"; his claim to their confidence and their suffrages is placed upon a different basis. He was chosen by them in 1857 to support the administration then formed by Sir John Macdonald so long as that administration was faithful to the policy of union which the electors desired to see carried out, and he has done so.

Mr. Holmes' address is before the electors. Like himself it is honest and straightforward. He appeals to them for support on the ground that he has done and he would to support that policy which has resulted so advantageously to Canada, and has faithfully protected the interests of the community which he represents. He does not ask the electors to return him because he is an "orator"; his claim to their confidence and their suffrages is placed upon a different basis. He was chosen by them in 1857 to support the administration then formed by Sir John Macdonald so long as that administration was faithful to the policy of union which the electors desired to see carried out, and he has done so.

Mr. Holmes' address is before the electors. Like himself it is honest and straightforward. He appeals to them for support on the ground that he has done and he would to support that policy which has resulted so advantageously to Canada, and has faithfully protected the interests of the community which he represents. He does not ask the electors to return him because he is an "orator"; his claim to their confidence and their suffrages is placed upon a different basis. He was chosen by them in 1857 to support the administration then formed by Sir John Macdonald so long as that administration was faithful to the policy of union which the electors desired to see carried out, and he has done so.

Mr. Holmes' address is before the electors. Like himself it is honest and straightforward. He appeals to them for support on the ground that he has done and he would to support that policy which has resulted so advantageously to Canada, and has faithfully protected the interests of the community which he represents. He does not ask the electors to return him because he is an "orator"; his claim to their confidence and their suffrages is placed upon a different basis. He was chosen by them in 1857 to support the administration then formed by Sir John Macdonald so long as that administration was faithful to the policy of union which the electors desired to see carried out, and he has done so.

Mr. Holmes' address is before the electors. Like himself it is honest and straightforward. He appeals to them for support on the ground that he has done and he would to support that policy which has resulted so advantageously to Canada, and has faithfully protected the interests of the community which he represents. He does not ask the electors to return him because he is an "orator"; his claim to their confidence and their suffrages is placed upon a different basis. He was chosen by them in 1857 to support the administration then formed by Sir John Macdonald so long as that administration was faithful to the policy of union which the electors desired to see carried out, and he has done so.

Mr. Holmes' address is before the electors. Like himself it is honest and straightforward. He appeals to them for support on the ground that he has done and he would to support that policy which has resulted so advantageously to Canada, and has faithfully protected the interests of the community which he represents. He does not ask the electors to return him because he is an "orator"; his claim to their confidence and their suffrages is placed upon a different basis. He was chosen by them in 1857 to support the administration then formed by Sir John Macdonald so long as that administration was faithful to the policy of union which the electors desired to see carried out, and he has done so.

Mr. Holmes' address is before the electors. Like himself it is honest and straightforward. He appeals to them for support on the ground that he has done and he would to support that policy which has resulted so advantageously to Canada, and has faithfully protected the interests of the community which he represents. He does not ask the electors to return him because he is an "orator"; his claim to their confidence and their suffrages is placed upon a different basis. He was chosen by them in 1857 to support the administration then formed by Sir John Macdonald so long as that administration was faithful to the policy of union which the electors desired to see carried out, and he has done so.

Mr. Holmes' address is before the electors. Like himself it is honest and straightforward. He appeals to them for support on the ground that he has done and he would to support that policy which has resulted so advantageously to Canada, and has faithfully protected the interests of the community which he represents. He does not ask the electors to return him because he is an "orator"; his claim to their confidence and their suffrages is placed upon a different basis. He was chosen by them in 1857 to support the administration then formed by Sir John Macdonald so long as that administration was faithful to the policy of union which the electors desired to see carried out, and he has done so.

Mr. Holmes' address is before the electors. Like himself it is honest and straightforward. He appeals to them for support on the ground that he has done and he would to support that policy which has resulted so advantageously to Canada, and has faithfully protected the interests of the community which he represents. He does not ask the electors to return him because he is an "orator"; his claim to their confidence and their suffrages is placed upon a different basis. He was chosen by them in 1857 to support the administration then formed by Sir John Macdonald so long as that administration was faithful to the policy of union which the electors desired to see carried out, and he has done so.

form an idea of what Mr. Rochester's mission would be. He would vote and act as "Doctor" Powell's "medical adviser" had him. In gratitude he would be bound to do so, if it were only for the wonderful cure which the "doctor" has effected.

A GLANCE ROUND THE FIELD.

Today we propose to glance round the field of contest in Ontario, with a view of enabling our readers to form some idea of the relative strength of the two parties, and what hopes there are of the triumph of those whose motto is "Union and Progress," and of the defeat of that band of Factionists who have during the past five years done nothing but obstruct and impede all wise legislation.

So far it must be admitted that the prospect looks most encouraging for the Union cause. At the time we write four candidates have been elected in the Province of Ontario, viz: Messrs. Currier and Lewis, for the city of Ottawa; Mr. Kirkpatrick, for Frontenac; all three Ministers; and Mr. Cookburn, the Speaker of the House, for West Northumberland.

In Carleton County, as our readers are aware, there are three or four candidates in the field. Mr. Holmes, the old member, the candidate of the People; Mr. Sheriff Powell, and Messrs. McGraw and Mohr. Of these latter Mr. Holmes or Mr. McGraw would support the Progressive policy which has been attended with such splendid results, and would in their Parliamentary acts be actuated by a sole desire to serve the constituency. Mr. Rochester, if he were elected, would simply vote as Mr. Powell told him, and with a single eye to the furtherance of that gentleman's ambitious schemes which are pretty well understood. We are glad to learn that the electors of Carleton have no intention of allowing Mr. Powell to dictate to them their representative.

It is in the riding of Carleton that the contest will be the most interesting. Mr. Powell is the candidate of the People; Mr. Sheriff Powell, and Messrs. McGraw and Mohr. Of these latter Mr. Holmes or Mr. McGraw would support the Progressive policy which has been attended with such splendid results, and would in their Parliamentary acts be actuated by a sole desire to serve the constituency. Mr. Rochester, if he were elected, would simply vote as Mr. Powell told him, and with a single eye to the furtherance of that gentleman's ambitious schemes which are pretty well understood. We are glad to learn that the electors of Carleton have no intention of allowing Mr. Powell to dictate to them their representative.

It is in the riding of Carleton that the contest will be the most interesting. Mr. Powell is the candidate of the People; Mr. Sheriff Powell, and Messrs. McGraw and Mohr. Of these latter Mr. Holmes or Mr. McGraw would support the Progressive policy which has been attended with such splendid results, and would in their Parliamentary acts be actuated by a sole desire to serve the constituency. Mr. Rochester, if he were elected, would simply vote as Mr. Powell told him, and with a single eye to the furtherance of that gentleman's ambitious schemes which are pretty well understood. We are glad to learn that the electors of Carleton have no intention of allowing Mr. Powell to dictate to them their representative.

It is in the riding of Carleton that the contest will be the most interesting. Mr. Powell is the candidate of the People; Mr. Sheriff Powell, and Messrs. McGraw and Mohr. Of these latter Mr. Holmes or Mr. McGraw would support the Progressive policy which has been attended with such splendid results, and would in their Parliamentary acts be actuated by a sole desire to serve the constituency. Mr. Rochester, if he were elected, would simply vote as Mr. Powell told him, and with a single eye to the furtherance of that gentleman's ambitious schemes which are pretty well understood. We are glad to learn that the electors of Carleton have no intention of allowing Mr. Powell to dictate to them their representative.

It is in the riding of Carleton that the contest will be the most interesting. Mr. Powell is the candidate of the People; Mr. Sheriff Powell, and Messrs. McGraw and Mohr. Of these latter Mr. Holmes or Mr. McGraw would support the Progressive policy which has been attended with such splendid results, and would in their Parliamentary acts be actuated by a sole desire to serve the constituency. Mr. Rochester, if he were elected, would simply vote as Mr. Powell told him, and with a single eye to the furtherance of that gentleman's ambitious schemes which are pretty well understood. We are glad to learn that the electors of Carleton have no intention of allowing Mr. Powell to dictate to them their representative.

It is in the riding of Carleton that the contest will be the most interesting. Mr. Powell is the candidate of the People; Mr. Sheriff Powell, and Messrs. McGraw and Mohr. Of these latter Mr. Holmes or Mr. McGraw would support the Progressive policy which has been attended with such splendid results, and would in their Parliamentary acts be actuated by a sole desire to serve the constituency. Mr. Rochester, if he were elected, would simply vote as Mr. Powell told him, and with a single eye to the furtherance of that gentleman's ambitious schemes which are pretty well understood. We are glad to learn that the electors of Carleton have no intention of allowing Mr. Powell to dictate to them their representative.

It is in the riding of Carleton that the contest will be the most interesting. Mr. Powell is the candidate of the People; Mr. Sheriff Powell, and Messrs. McGraw and Mohr. Of these latter Mr. Holmes or Mr. McGraw would support the Progressive policy which has been attended with such splendid results, and would in their Parliamentary acts be actuated by a sole desire to serve the constituency. Mr. Rochester, if he were elected, would simply vote as Mr. Powell told him, and with a single eye to the furtherance of that gentleman's ambitious schemes which are pretty well understood. We are glad to learn that the electors of Carleton have no intention of allowing Mr. Powell to dictate to them their representative.

It is in the riding of Carleton that the contest will be the most interesting. Mr. Powell is the candidate of the People; Mr. Sheriff Powell, and Messrs. McGraw and Mohr. Of these latter Mr. Holmes or Mr. McGraw would support the Progressive policy which has been attended with such splendid results, and would in their Parliamentary acts be actuated by a sole desire to serve the constituency. Mr. Rochester, if he were elected, would simply vote as Mr. Powell told him, and with a single eye to the furtherance of that gentleman's ambitious schemes which are pretty well understood. We are glad to learn that the electors of Carleton have no intention of allowing Mr. Powell to dictate to them their representative.

It is in the riding of Carleton that the contest will be the most interesting. Mr. Powell is the candidate of the People; Mr. Sheriff Powell, and Messrs. McGraw and Mohr. Of these latter Mr. Holmes or Mr. McGraw would support the Progressive policy which has been attended with such splendid results, and would in their Parliamentary acts be actuated by a sole desire to serve the constituency. Mr. Rochester, if he were elected, would simply vote as Mr. Powell told him, and with a single eye to the furtherance of that gentleman's ambitious schemes which are pretty well understood. We are glad to learn that the electors of Carleton have no intention of allowing Mr. Powell to dictate to them their representative.

It is in the riding of Carleton that the contest will be the most interesting. Mr. Powell is the candidate of the People; Mr. Sheriff Powell, and Messrs. McGraw and Mohr. Of these latter Mr. Holmes or Mr. McGraw would support the Progressive policy which has been attended with such splendid results, and would in their Parliamentary acts be actuated by a sole desire to serve the constituency. Mr. Rochester, if he were elected, would simply vote as Mr. Powell told him, and with a single eye to the furtherance of that gentleman's ambitious schemes which are pretty well understood. We are glad to learn that the electors of Carleton have no intention of allowing Mr. Powell to dictate to them their representative.

It is in the riding of Carleton that the contest will be the most interesting. Mr. Powell is the candidate of the People; Mr. Sheriff Powell, and Messrs. McGraw and Mohr. Of these latter Mr. Holmes or Mr. McGraw would support the Progressive policy which has been attended with such splendid results, and would in their Parliamentary acts be actuated by a sole desire to serve the constituency. Mr. Rochester, if he were elected, would simply vote as Mr. Powell told him, and with a single eye to the furtherance of that gentleman's ambitious schemes which are pretty well understood. We are glad to learn that the electors of Carleton have no intention of allowing Mr. Powell to dictate to them their representative.

It is in the riding of Carleton that the contest will be the most interesting. Mr. Powell is the candidate of the People; Mr. Sheriff Powell, and Messrs. McGraw and Mohr. Of these latter Mr. Holmes or Mr. McGraw would support the Progressive policy which has been attended with such splendid results, and would in their Parliamentary acts be actuated by a sole desire to serve the constituency. Mr. Rochester, if he were elected, would simply vote as Mr. Powell told him, and with a single eye to the furtherance of that gentleman's ambitious schemes which are pretty well understood. We are glad to learn that the electors of Carleton have no intention of allowing Mr. Powell to dictate to them their representative.

It is in the riding of Carleton that the contest will be the most interesting. Mr. Powell is the candidate of the People; Mr. Sheriff Powell, and Messrs. McGraw and Mohr. Of these latter Mr. Holmes or Mr. McGraw would support the Progressive policy which has been attended with such splendid results, and would in their Parliamentary acts be actuated by a sole desire to serve the constituency. Mr. Rochester, if he were elected, would simply vote as Mr. Powell told him, and with a single eye to the furtherance of that gentleman's ambitious schemes which are pretty well understood. We are glad to learn that the electors of Carleton have no intention of allowing Mr. Powell to dictate to them their representative.

It is in the riding of Carleton that the contest will be the most interesting. Mr. Powell is the candidate of the People; Mr. Sheriff Powell, and Messrs. McGraw and Mohr. Of these latter Mr. Holmes or Mr. McGraw would support the Progressive policy which has been attended with such splendid results, and would in their Parliamentary acts be actuated by a sole desire to serve the constituency. Mr. Rochester, if he were elected, would simply vote as Mr. Powell told him, and with a single eye to the furtherance of that gentleman's ambitious schemes which are pretty well understood. We are glad to learn that the electors of Carleton have no intention of allowing Mr. Powell to dictate to them their representative.

It is in the riding of Carleton that the contest will be the most interesting. Mr. Powell is the candidate of the People; Mr. Sheriff Powell, and Messrs. McGraw and Mohr. Of these latter Mr. Holmes or Mr. McGraw would support the Progressive policy which has been attended with such splendid results, and would in their Parliamentary acts be actuated by a sole desire to serve the constituency. Mr. Rochester, if he were elected, would simply vote as Mr. Powell told him, and with a single eye to the furtherance of that gentleman's ambitious schemes which are pretty well understood. We are glad to learn that the electors of Carleton have no intention of allowing Mr. Powell to dictate to them their representative.

to the Great Western Railway Company. The contest will be a very exciting and very bitter one, and both parties are sanguine of success.

TOWNSHIP EAST.—Mr. James Beatty seeks re-election and is sure to be returned. Township West.—The Union candidate Mr. Frank Sherry is not likely to meet with any serious opposition.

TOWNSHIP WEST.—The same may be believed as said of Mr. John Crawford the Union candidate in this division. FRANK EWERS.—Mr. J. S. McCaig is to oppose, in Union interests, the re-election of Mr. W. R. Ross. A close contest is expected. Result doubtful.

FRONTENAC.—Mr. Hagar will probably be returned. NORTHUMBERLAND.—The Grits have brought out an Annetization in the person of Mr. Charlton with whom they hope to defeat Mr. Walsh. They will, however, be disappointed.

NORFOLK SOUTH.—In this riding there seems to be some dispute among the Unionists as to whom they will support. The contest is pretty sure to be a close one and the friends of Progress should remember that only "Union is strength."

NORTHUMBERLAND EAST.—Here there is likely to be an exciting struggle. Mr. Keeler is the Union, and Mr. Biggar is the Grit candidate.

ONTARIO NORTH.—Here will be another close contest between Mr. Gibbs (Unionist) and Mr. Thompson the late member, a Grit.

ONTARIO SOUTH.—Mr. T. N. Gibbs the Union candidate will be re-elected. Mr. T. P. Hill will not do much better than his friend and adviser Downie in 1867 in this riding.

IN NORTH AND SOUTH OXFORD we fear that Mr. Oliver and Mr. Bedwell will be returned. Unionist and Grit respectively.

FRANKLIN.—Hon. John Hillyard Cameron (Unionist) is strenuously opposed, but will no doubt be elected.

FRENCH NORTH.—Here there will be a close fight between Mr. T. M. Daly the Union candidate and Mr. Redford. Mr. Daly says his chances are good.

FRENCH SOUTH.—Another hand to hand contest may be looked for here between Mr. Kidd (Union) and Mr. Ballantyne (Grit). The contest will be a close one.

PETERBOROUGH EAST.—Mr. P. M. Grover, Unionist, the sitting member, and Mr. Evans Ingram, Grit, are the candidates. Mr. Grover will be returned by a large majority.

PETERBOROUGH WEST.—In this constituency the contest will be close between Mr. Claxton (Union) and Mr. Bertram (Grit).

SMITHS NORTH.—A close fight between Mr. McCarthy (Union) and Mr. Cook (Grit).

SMITHS SOUTH.—Mr. W. C. Little will be elected without doubt.

WATERLOO NORTH.—In this riding the contest will be close and the result doubtful. Mr. Staples is the Ministerial candidate.

WATERLOO SOUTH.—The indications are that in this riding the Union candidate, Mr. Dorrner, will be unopposed.

WATERLOO NORTH AND SOUTH are given over to the Grits.

County of Ottawa Nomination.

ALONZO WRIGHT, ESQ., ELECTED BY ACCLAMATION.

The nomination for the County of Ottawa took place on Saturday at Aylmer, resulting in Mr. Alonzo Wright being declared elected by acclamation. Owing to the fact that there was no opposing candidate, and consequently no prospect of excitement the turnout in the village was not very large, but the assembly present numbering about two hundred persons represented the wealth and influence of the County.

Among the many gentlemen present were: Messrs. Pritchard, Robinson, McNaughton, J. McLaren, John McLaren, W. K. Wright, J. A. Cameron, from the Township of Aylmer; Dr. A. J. Murray, LeDuc, Thompson, Crain, P. Wright, Dr. Wright, S. Higginson, Kennedy, Dr. Church, R. Klock, Church of Chelsea, George Link, J. M. Currier, R. L. Church, C. B. Eddy, R. Mather, Wm. Murphy, Seth Cate, Bourgeois, Paschy, H. McLean, Colonel Chaboussier, Dr. Wilson and many others.

Precisely at noon Mr. C. W. Deegan, Returning Officer, read the writ, after which Mr. Allan Gilmore came forward and proposed in a brief speech Mr. Alonzo Wright as a fit and proper person to represent the County in the Dominion Parliament.

Mr. Bourgeois in a very able speech seconded the nomination.

In answer to the Returning Officer's question, "Are there any other nominations to be made," a general cry of "No, no" was heard, and the assembly adjourned.

Mr. Wright then came forward and said it was with pleasure he saw so many kind and good faces before him. He saw around him men who had grown up with him from boyhood to manhood, and who had on many occasions given him the hearty help of assistance. He thanked them from the bottom of his heart for the compliment they had paid him by electing him for a third time their representative. Nine years ago they had carried his election against opposition, and five years ago they had elected him by acclamation. He was glad to affirm the principle that the interests of the county should be confided to the best man available. He again stood before them and would be glad to be again elected by acclamation. He had been paid the highest compliment that was paid to a member of Parliament. He had never violated the confidence of his constituents. With regard to his position he could appeal to every man in the county. He would repair the road, looking whether to the best of his ability he had not always used his best efforts for the interests of the county. The approval of the county was his only reward.

He then referred to the condition of the county, comparing it with the condition of his condition ten years ago. He, a resident of the county had represented it during the last nine years, and they all knew how he had endeavored to do for the county. He did not take any particular credit to himself, for he thought that what he was doing was owing to the county itself; but he would do his best to justify to say that he had always done all in his power to advance the interests of the county. He saw around him men representing different creeds, nationalities and interests and he thought they all approved of his course. He was glad to see them all united in the same cause. He referred to the Gatineau Railway and said that its construction would enhance the property of the county. He said that it was a great blessing to the county. He said that it was a great blessing to the county. He said that it was a great blessing to the county.

Mr. Wright then referred to the condition of the county, comparing it with the condition of his condition ten years ago. He, a resident of the county had represented it during the last nine years, and they all knew how he had endeavored to do for the county. He did not take any particular credit to himself, for he thought that what he was doing was owing to the county itself; but he would do his best to justify to say that he had always done all in his power to advance the interests of the county. He saw around him men representing different creeds, nationalities and interests and he thought they all approved of his course. He was glad to see them all united in the same cause. He referred to the Gatineau Railway and said that its construction would enhance the property of the county. He said that it was a great blessing to the county. He said that it was a great blessing to the county.

Mr. Wright then referred to the condition of the county, comparing it with the condition of his condition ten years ago. He, a resident of the county had represented it during the last nine years, and they all knew how he had endeavored to do for the county. He did not take any particular credit to himself, for he thought that what he was doing was owing to the county itself; but he would do his best to justify to say that he had always done all in his power to advance the interests of the county. He saw around him men representing different creeds, nationalities and interests and he thought they all approved of his course. He was glad to see them all united in the same cause. He referred to the Gatineau Railway and said that its construction would enhance the property of the county. He said that it was a great blessing to the county. He said that it was a great blessing to the county.

Mr. Wright then referred to the condition of the county, comparing it with the condition of his condition ten years ago. He, a resident of the county had represented it during the last nine years, and they all knew how he had endeavored to do for the county. He did not take any particular credit to himself, for he thought that what he was doing was owing to the county itself; but he would do his best to justify to say that he had always done all in his power to advance the interests of the county. He saw around him men representing different creeds, nationalities and interests and he thought they all approved of his course. He was glad to see them all united in the same cause. He referred to the Gatineau Railway and said that its construction would enhance the property of the county. He said that it was a great blessing to the county. He said that it was a great blessing to the county.

Mr. Wright then referred to the condition of the county, comparing it with the condition of his condition ten years ago. He, a resident of the county had represented it during the last nine years, and they all knew how he had endeavored to do for the county. He did not take any particular credit to himself, for he thought that what he was doing was owing to the county itself; but he would do his best to justify to say that he had always done all in his power to advance the interests of the county. He saw around him men representing different creeds, nationalities and interests and he thought they all approved of his course. He was glad to see them all united in the same cause. He referred to the Gatineau Railway and said that its construction would enhance the property of the county. He said that it was a great blessing to the county. He said that it was a great blessing to the county.

Mr. Wright then referred to the condition of the county, comparing it with the condition of his condition ten years ago. He, a resident of the county had represented it during the last nine years, and they all knew how he had endeavored to do for the county. He did not take any particular credit to himself, for he thought that what he was doing was owing to the county itself; but he would do his best to justify to say that he had always done all in his power to advance the interests of the county. He saw around him men representing different creeds, nationalities and interests and he thought they all approved of his course. He was glad to see them all united in the same cause. He referred to the Gatineau Railway and said that its construction would enhance the property of the county. He said that it was a great blessing to the county. He said that it was a great blessing to the county.

Mr. Wright then referred to the condition of the county, comparing it with the condition of his condition ten years ago. He, a resident of the county had represented it during the last nine years, and they all knew how he had endeavored to do for the county. He did not take any particular credit to himself, for he thought that what he was doing was owing to the county itself; but he would do his best to justify to say that he had always done all in his power to advance the interests of the county. He saw around him men representing different creeds, nationalities and interests and he thought they all approved of his course. He was glad to see them all united in the same cause. He referred to the Gatineau Railway and said that its construction would enhance the property of the county. He said that it was a great blessing to the county. He said that it was a great blessing to the county.

Mr. Wright then referred to the condition of the county, comparing it with the condition of his condition ten years ago. He, a resident of the county had represented it during the last nine years, and they all knew how he had endeavored to do for the county. He did not take any particular credit to himself, for he thought that what he was doing was owing to the county itself; but he would do his best to justify to say that he had always done all in his power to advance the interests of the county. He saw around him men representing different creeds, nationalities and interests and he thought they all approved of his course. He was glad to see them all united in the same cause. He referred to the Gatineau Railway and said that its construction would enhance the property of the county. He said that it was a great blessing to the county. He said that it was a great blessing to the county.

Mr. Wright then referred to the condition of the county, comparing it with the condition of his condition ten years ago. He, a resident of the county had represented it during the last nine years, and they all knew how he had endeavored to do for the county. He did not take any particular credit to himself, for he thought that what he was doing was owing to the county itself; but he would do his best to justify to say that he had always done all in his power to advance the interests of the county. He saw around him men representing different creeds, nationalities and interests and he thought they all approved of his course. He was glad to see them all united in the same cause. He referred to the Gatineau Railway and said that its construction would enhance the property of the county. He said that it was a great blessing to the county. He said that it was a great blessing to the county.

Mr. Wright then referred to the condition of the county, comparing it with the condition of his condition ten years ago. He, a resident of the county had represented it during the last nine years, and they all knew how he had endeavored to do for the county. He did not take any particular credit to himself, for he thought that what he was doing was owing to the county itself; but he would do his best to justify to say that he had always done all in his power to advance the interests of the county. He saw around him men representing different creeds, nationalities and interests and he thought they all approved of his course. He was glad to see them all united in the same cause. He referred to the Gatineau Railway and said that its construction would enhance the property of the county. He said that it was a great blessing to the county. He said that it was a great blessing to the county.

Mr. Wright then referred to the condition of the county, comparing it with the condition of his condition ten years ago. He, a resident of the county had represented it during the last nine years, and they all knew how he had endeavored to do for the county. He did not take any particular credit to himself, for he thought that what he was doing was owing to the county itself; but he would do his best to justify to say that he had always done all in his power to advance the interests of the county. He saw around him men representing different creeds, nationalities and interests and he thought they all approved of his course. He was glad to see them all united in the same cause. He referred to the Gatineau Railway and said that its construction would enhance the property of the county. He said that it was a great blessing to the county. He said that it was a great blessing to the county.

County of Ottawa Nomination.

ALONZO WRIGHT, ESQ., ELECTED BY ACCLAMATION.

The nomination for the County of Ottawa took place on Saturday at Aylmer, resulting in Mr. Alonzo Wright being declared elected by acclamation. Owing to the fact that there was no opposing candidate, and consequently no prospect of excitement the turnout in the village was not very large, but the assembly present numbering about two hundred persons represented the wealth and influence of the County.

Among the many gentlemen present were: Messrs. Pritchard, Robinson, McNaughton, J. McLaren, John McLaren, W. K. Wright, J. A. Cameron, from the Township of Aylmer; Dr. A. J. Murray, LeDuc, Thompson, Crain, P. Wright, Dr. Wright, S. Higginson, Kennedy, Dr. Church, R. Klock, Church of Chelsea, George Link, J. M. Currier, R. L. Church, C. B. Eddy, R. Mather, Wm. Murphy, Seth Cate, Bourgeois, Paschy, H. McLean, Colonel Chaboussier, Dr. Wilson and many others.

Precisely at noon Mr. C. W. Deegan, Returning Officer, read the writ, after which Mr. Allan Gilmore came forward and proposed in a brief speech Mr. Alonzo Wright as a fit and proper person to represent the County in the Dominion Parliament.

Mr. Bourgeois in a very able speech seconded the nomination.

In answer to the Returning Officer's question, "Are there any other nominations to be made," a general cry of "No, no" was heard, and the assembly adjourned.

Mr. Wright then came forward and said it was with pleasure he saw so many kind and good faces before him. He saw around him men who had grown up with him from boyhood to manhood, and who had on many occasions given him the hearty help of assistance. He thanked them from the bottom of his heart for the compliment they had paid him by electing him for a third time their representative. Nine years ago they had carried his election against opposition, and five years ago they had elected him by acclamation. He was glad to affirm the principle that the interests of the county should be confided to the best man available. He again stood before them and would be glad to be again elected by acclamation. He had been paid the highest compliment that was paid to a member of Parliament. He had never violated the confidence of his constituents. With regard to his position he could appeal to every man in the county. He would repair the road, looking whether to the best of his ability he had not always used his best efforts for the interests of the county. The approval of the county was his only reward.

He then referred to the condition of the county, comparing it with the condition of his condition ten years ago. He, a resident of the county had represented it during the last nine years, and they all knew how he had endeavored to do for the county. He did not take any particular credit to himself, for he thought that what he was doing was owing to the county itself; but he would do his best to justify to say that he had always done all in his power to advance the interests of the county. He saw around him men representing different creeds, nationalities and interests and he thought they all approved of his course. He was glad to see them all united in the same cause. He referred to the Gatineau Railway and said that its construction would enhance the property of the county. He said that it was a great blessing to the county. He said that it was a great blessing to the county.

Mr. Wright then referred to the condition of the county, comparing it with the condition of his condition ten years ago. He, a resident of the county had represented it during the last nine years, and they all knew how he had endeavored to do for the county. He did not take any particular credit to himself, for he thought that what he was doing was owing to the county itself; but he would do his best to justify to say that he had always done all in his power to advance the interests of the county. He saw around him men representing different creeds, nationalities and interests and he thought they all approved of his course. He was glad to see them all united in the same cause. He referred to the Gatineau Railway and said that its construction would enhance the property of the county. He said that it was a great blessing to the county. He said that it was a great blessing to the county.

Mr. Wright then referred to the condition of the county, comparing it with the condition of his condition ten years ago. He, a resident of the county had represented it during the last nine years, and they all knew how he had endeavored to do for the county. He did not take any particular credit to himself, for he thought that what he was doing was owing to the county itself; but he would do his best to justify to say that he had always done all in his power to advance the interests of the county. He saw around him men representing different creeds, nationalities and interests and he thought they all approved of his course. He was glad to see them all united in the same cause. He referred to the Gatineau Railway and said that its construction would enhance the property of the county. He said that it was a great blessing to the county. He said that it was a great blessing to the county.

Mr. Wright then referred to the condition of the county, comparing it with the condition of his condition ten years ago. He, a resident of the county had represented it during the last nine years, and they all knew how he had endeavored to do for the county. He did not take any particular credit to himself, for he thought that what he was doing was owing to the county itself; but he would do his best to justify to say that he had always done all in his power to advance the interests of the county. He saw around him men representing different creeds, nationalities and interests and he thought they all approved of his course. He was glad to see them all united in the same cause. He referred to the Gatineau Railway and said that its construction would enhance the property of the county. He said that it was a great blessing to the county. He said that it was a great blessing to the county.

Mr. Wright then referred to the condition of the county, comparing it with the condition of his condition ten years ago. He, a resident of the county had represented it during the last nine