NORTH NORFOLK.

On Thursday we published a letter written by the Grit candidate for North Norfolk in 1866, in which the Canadian Colunteers were ridiculed and abused in a most shameful menner. The Globe makes a lame attempt to defend the man who at the very moment when all Canada was mourning the loss of those who fell at Ridgeway, had the heart, or rather we should say the lack of heart, to make game of the c mrades of those murdered men. First the Globe says that Mr. Charlton was in joke and did not mean anything, and then, alluding to the fact that when the letter was produced at the hustings he tore it up in a fit of passion, the organ says it was "unfortunate that this should have taken place for Mr. Chariton and Mr. Taylor are firmly convinced that the contents of the document were tampered with." This miserable sneaking attempt to defend Mr. Charlton is worthy of the Globe, and worthy of the party. If Mr. Charlton was not ashamed of his letter, if he had not been thoroughly well aware that it contained what was most di graceful and discreditable to him, And now of course it has been "tampered known however. WHAT IS NOBLE?

What is noble? to inherit Wealth, estate, and high degree? There must be some other merit Yet higher than these for me! Something greater far must enter Into life's majestic span Fitted to create and centre True nobility in man.

What is noble? 'tis the finer. Portion of our mind or heart. Linked to something still diviner Than mere language can impart? Ever prompting—ever seeing Some improvement yet to plan ; To uplift our fellow being, And, like man, to feel for man!

What is noble? is the sabre Nobler than the humble spade? There's a dignity in labor Truer than e'er pomp arrayed! He who seeks the mind's improvemen Aids the world, in aiding mind! Every great commanding movement Serves not one, but all mankind.

O'er the engine's iron head-Where the rapid shuttle flishes, And the spindle whirls its thread; There is labor lowly tending Each requirement of the hour-There is genius, still extending Science, and its world of power! Mid the dust, and speed, and clamor. Of the loom shed and the mill:

O'er the forge's heat and ashes-

Great results are growing still! Though too oft by iashion's creature's, Work and workers may be blamed. Commerce need not hide its features-Industry is not ashamed! What is noble? that which places Truth in its enfranchised will Leaving steps like angel traces,

That mankind may follow still

Prove him poorest of his clan,

He's the noble—who advances

Midst the clink of wheel and hammer,

Freedom and the cause of man! CRIME IN FRANCE-TERRIBLE

THE ESSEX ELECTION.

WINDSOR, August 2. The certainty of the Hon J. O'Connor's election is every day more assured. His majorities in the Northern Townships will be very large and in the Southern many of Rankin's heretofore strongest su porters are working hard against him. Ferris has withdrawn, and the contest is now a square one between the opponents of Sir John's Government and its friends. A meeting celled by Rakin in this town last night proves the latter to be greatly in the majority. Rankin was listened to patiently until he commenced with some of the stock abuse of Sir John, when such indignation was aroused as to cause the larger part of the assemblage to leave the hall, and organize a meeting outside where Mr. Jas. Gibson made a stirring speech. The enthusissism was immense. and Mr. Rankin's meeting came to an untimely end.
