HOMBLY GIRLS -"How did that homely woman contrive to get married?" is not unfrequently remarked of some good domestic creature whom her hasband regards as the apple of his eye, and in whose plain face he sees something better than eauty. Pretty girls who are vain of their charms are rather prone to make observations of this kind; and consciousness of the fact that flowers of lovliness go off readily, is no doubt in many cases at the oottom of the question. The truth is, most men prefer homeliness and amiability to beauty and caprice. Handsome women are apt to overvalue themselves and in waiting for an immense bid occar sionally overstep the market. election, Pembroke townsfolk, wise in SIVER NATIONATION CO. Thomas Murrsy, a shrewd, active and intelligent gentleman, an extensive merpoliticians of Ontario have a deeper love for their well being than have those of Lower Canada; that nationality is a mere sentiment, and counts for nothing; that our laws and institutions are not worth the preserving; and that our interests torn at 7 30 a.m. generally are safer in the hands of a grasping majority from Ontario than in those of a Quebec minority. This task, somewhat difficult, it would seem, has 85 8.30 am. been allotted to Mr. Murray, under the betief that certain qualities personal to himself would induce a portion of the AA H. electors to take him on trust, irrespective of any of his previous public acts. How far the electors of Pontisc may allow themselves to be blinded by prejudice remains to be seen. In the meantime there are three questions, out of the host which present them-elves, that should be seriously considered, affecting, as they uo so meterally our interests. 1. Will Mr. Murray, with his large stake filed in time, Mr. Savary | in the town of Pemi-roke, -with the maso custions connected therewith that link by link have grown up around him: with fresh in his memory the pledges but t ree short years ago he made to the people of Renfrew, standing before them as their representative in Parliament; with ties of family friendships and motives of self-inlast night with one guide and an Indian terest all pointing to an opposite course,boy for the Rocky Mountains, taking will Mr, Murray, in the face of all trese feelings by which men are ordinaril fluenced, be the first to pull nown the out at alian McKinnon's & fabric of his fondest hopes, and with heart and hand assist the people of Pontiac in securing the construction of the Pacific Road from Nipissing to De p River, and thence through Pontiac to the village of Aylmer, the present terminus of mouire before he records his vote. As it will be impossible for Mr. Murray to deny his public acts, he will endeavor ot get out of in Pontisc what he would consider a feather in his cap in Rentrew. This he will attempt to do, by saying that the whole matter is referred to the decision of Her Majesty's Privy Council, and consequently the House of Commons in Ottawa has nothing to do with it. Such is not the case, however; the question is not referred, and we have the authority of the Hon.
