KILLING PERSIANS INSECT
DESTROYING POWDERS.

THE CONSOLIDATION OF ITALY.—so long fragmentary and impotent, into one powerful State, with Rome as its capital; the humiliation of France through a series of crushing defeats ended with the siege and capitulation of Paris, and the final extinction of the empire by the forces from the Spanish throns, and the substitution for them of a seton of the most illustrious royal houses; the virtual absorption of the kingdom of Hanover, Wurtemberg, Bavaria, with Baden, Hesse, the Hesse-Darmas, &c., under the leadership of Prussia; into the most powerful empire of Germany; and the arming of Russia to re-assert her pre-eminence in the councils of Europe. To accomplish her often postponed and ever-victorious designs on the great city founded by Constantine, the East, but decaying and anarchical dominion of the South, all combine to invest with profound interest the eventful closing phases of our tidings from the Old World. The tributes, through trusted correspondents stationed at Constantinople, where great movements are in progress or imminent, aims to present a complete and instructive picture of events on that continent, and to mirror the present struggle between middle age Feudalism and Ecclesiasticism, and the Nineteenth-Century scepticism and secularity of the other. Recognising a Divine Providence in all the processes, and it looks hopefully on the rest contented as destined (like our own recent conquests) to bring strife, disaster, and seeming chaos, a fairer and happier future for the setting masses of mankind.

In our own country, a war upon corruption, and upon the power of money, has been inaugurated in our city, whereby the government of our State has been revolutionised through an intense interest of Reform which surpasses the most sanguine anticipations. It is morally certain that the movement thus inaugurated cannot in its progress, be circumlocuted by local party, but that its purifying influence is destined to be felt in every part of the Union, rebuking the power of opposing robbery, wresting power from politicians by trade, and condoning it in their worst and most odious forms. The beneficial and vital need of reform, the Friends of Justice devote their energies, regardless of personal interest, to the prediction, estimating the choice of honest and faithful men to office as of all New Departures that may be required.

The virtuous surmise by the Democratic party of the hostility to Equal Rights regardless of Color, has disengaged our current politics of half their bony intensity. However parties may henceforth rise and fall, the principles of the fundamental principles which have hitherto guided us will remain.

Republicans are henceforth to be regarded as practically accepted by the whole country.
