He repelled the insignation of Mr. Robertson, that they were actuated by improper motives, with a view to replace discharged teachers by other persons. In regard to Miss aving, it was only after they found that her leaving the Central School West would not be injurious to its interests, that they consented to her going. He thought " was a credit to the public schools that one of their teachers could fill so honorable a position. Mr. Robertsov said he did not believe mere sentiment in such matters. He thought the members of the Board hould be actuated by no other consider tions than the welfare of the public schools, which were especially confided to their care. He would not move an amendment to the report, but would record his dissent against the arbitrary proceedings of the ounmittee on School Management.

The resolution to adopt the report was then carried on the following division: Yeas: Messrs. Barber, Hiffe and Le Nays: Messrs Robertson and Bedard.

VOTE OF THANKS. Moved by Mr. LESUEUR, seconded by Mr. BARBER, that in view of the prospec tive withdrawai of Miss A. M. MR. ROBERTSQN trusted the mover would not press the resolvtion, as he felt it was adding only insul to injury. Miss Living had been allowed to violate her engage ment to the injury of the school she was leaving, and the resolution contemplated rewarding her for this course of conduct. he thought she was treating the Board very unfairly. A vote thanks to Mr. Ryan for his conduct in the chair, to a certain extent closed the proceedings, but Mr. Stevens, the hospitable host, invited the gentlemen attending the meeting to partake of a barbecued and most succulent baby porker. The board was spread in most bountiful style. Mr. Mackintosh occupied the chair, faced by Mr. Ryan, and the other scribes were nothing loth to tuck their legs under the mshogany of Mr. Stevens.
