THIRTIETH ANNUAL FAIR.

SECOND DAY.

The second day of the great Exhibition opened yesterias at the outset with every indication of good weather, but people were too sanguine, and as too often happens under such circumstances, rain again fell to the dismay of those whose hopes had been buoyant from early morn. It did not last long, however, but a cold northerly blast succeeded it, which blew the greater part of the day randerdisagreeable. The Exhibitors heeded not judges, who were expected to go to work in ; the afternoon. It would seem as if there was no end to work, for much remained to be done yesterday from the previous day, and there is even yet a considerable amount of stuff to be put in position in the Crystal Palace. There were no new being a great increase in the number who attended. There could not have been less than 5,000 people on the grounds in in 9 o'clock in the morning till nightwas lined with every conceivable form of vehicle, and in addition to this, a great Elgin streets. The steamers too on the canal did a rushing business. The Elgin street road, on a near approach to the Exhibition Grounds, was very beautiful, passing as it do s through natural shrubbery, and presenting occawas music, bears climbing poles, fat women, Punch and Judy shows, marion ettes, swinging carioles, roundabouts, and every conceivable adjunct of a fair. Inside the gates policemen proper, Dominion officers of the peace, P. Cs. pro tempore watchmen, guardians, and other officials were on duty. Even Mr. Langrell, the Chief of the Force, on horseback, was present, as was also Government Police, Superintendent O'Neil. The booths and stalls, too, are now completely fitted up. Among those many present vesterday were many of the leading public men of the Dominion. Lieut. Gov. Macdonald. of Ontario; Capt. Grant, A.D.C; Hon.
