Provincial Exhibition.

THIRTIETH ANNUAL FAIR.

FOURTH DAY.

Yesterday was the most agreeable day as yet for the holding of the Fair, and the unusually fine weather had the effect of bringing out a much larger number of the fair sex than on the previous days. The number in attendance yesterday could not have been less than that of the previous day. The prize animals were exhibited in the ring with their newly won honours adorning them. The display in horses, especially carriage horses, was grand, and their fine appearance was the subject of much admiration. Three bands of music were on the ground, and alternately delighted the spectators with some excellent music. The result of the competition of the previous day was also announced. The Guards band stood first, the Chasseurs Band of Hull, second, and the independent Cornet band third. Being desirous that as much of the prize list as possible shall be published in this issue, further comment on the products becomes impossible. In a future issue, the successful results may be reviewed at greater length. The day was observed with every decorum, notwithstanding the vast crowd in attendance, and scarcely anything occurred to mar the pleasure of the day.
