Peter B. Sweeney, once a prominent member of the Tammany Ring, under the Tweed regime in New York city, in his reply to the papers of the $6,000,000 suit instituted against him, boldly denies that he entered into a conspiracy to defraud the city, or had anything to do with the issue of fraudulent warrants while in office.

The Oddfellows of the State of New York have erected a monument sacred to the memory of the late Secretary Stanton, who, during his lifetime, held the office of Grand Master of that Order.

Nothing could have been much worse for the conditions of samples, and our abundance of foreign old wheat seems to be the chief security from wholesome dread. The more we know of the crop of 1875, the less satisfaction it gives. France about maintains her ratio. Belgium and Holland are rather dearer. Germany generally is very poor.

QUEBEC.

Rough Passage across the Atlantic—Arrivals.

QUEBEC, Oct. 25.—The captain of the steamship Lake Nepigon reports having had a fearfully boisterous passage. From the morning of the 5th inst., he says, we had nothing but gale after gale with a heavy head sea. All went well, however, until 9 p.m., on the 10th, when a sea struck the upper bridge of the starboard side, breaking the rails and starting the planks. On the next day, at 11:50 p.m., when I thought we had got over the worst of it, we shipped a tremendous sea abaft the starboard fore-rigging, driving in the fore part of the chart room, completely gutting it and the little side houses, lifting the fore part of the bridge deck about two feet, and carrying away the two foremost boats. The water went down one of the stoke hole ventilators and broke two of the funnel stays. On the morning of the 14th we encountered a perfect hurricane, beginning at west south west, and rapidly veering to north west, with a high, dangerous sea running." In this gale the captain was lashed to the mast for fourteen hours, directing the vessel. During the gale the steward, John McConnachie, was killed by being pitched against the upper deck-combing of the companion way and, then knocked back, falling into the 'tween deck. He was picked up insensible and died twenty-four hours afterwards.

A Danish War Galley.

About two and half miles from Botley, on the bank of the Hamble, which runs out of the Southampton water, there lie exposed at low spring tides two tiers of old piles covered with mud and seaweed, which have long been a favorite haunt of the cormorant and other seabirds. The piles extend from the water's edge for some distance into the bank of the river in the direction of Swanwick, and according to a tradition they formed part of the wreck of a Danish war galley burnt and sunk at the time of the Danish invasion of England in the year 870. Within the last few days a gentleman who has lately taken a residence in the neighbourhood, conceived the idea of raising the presumed wreck, and employed a number of men in making explorations. When at a depth of some 8 ft. or 10 ft. in the mud planks were found attached to the piles, and the shape of the vessel was traced. These planks were attached to the timbers in three thicknesses, each planed to a bevel and bent to the shape of the ship. The thickness of the planks was from 4 in. to 6 in., and the timbers 14 in. by 10 in. The researches were continued to the keel the measurement of which was found to be 130 feet in length. A quantity of cement was embedded between the keel and timbers, and the planks were caulked with moss. The timber appeared to be of oak, but the colour being changed, it resembled coal, as I was extremely hard; otherwise it was perfectly sound and even saw marks were distinguishable in places, the instruments used being of a much thicker make than those of the present day. It is hoped that these examinations will be continued, and further information obtained respecting this remarkable relic of past ages.

The $6,000,000 Suit Against Peter B. Sweeney.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Peter B. Sweeney's attorney filed his answer on Saturday to the papers in the suit for $6,198,957 85. Sweeney denies that he conspired with the late Jas. Watson, or with any other person, to defraud the city, and furthermore he denies that he received any part of the $933,740 44, mentioned in the complaint, as having been drawn on six warrants for the payment of fraudulent claims.

The Labours of the Great Revivalists.

Moody and Sankey began their morning prayer meetings at Brooklyn Tabernacle this morning, and the building was crowded before eight o'clock, the hour for opening the services. Yesterday it took twenty-five minutes for the people to get out of the Rink, and many were of opinion that provision should be made for a quicker egress.

The evangelists held forth to another immense audience in the Brooklyn Rink this evening. The large building was filled in every part, and none were so unfortunate as to be turned from the doors. During Mr. Sankey's singing the audience was so quiet that the dropping of a pin could be heard. Moody took his text from Romans iii, 8, and delivered a vigorous address. At the close a meeting for young men was held.

The thirtieth annual meeting of the Board of Missions began to-day, Rev. Samuel C. McCoskey, Bishop of Michigan, presiding. MONTREAL.

Failure—Guibord Burial—Robber of Joliette Mail Arrested—Seizure—Sugar Refinery—Lachine Canal Enlargement—Messrs. Morgan & Co.—New Canadian Loan—Money Market.

MONTREAL, Oct. 25.—Wm. Markland Molson, of the Moisie Iron Works Co., has failed, with liabilities estimated at a quarter of a million dollars.

An evening paper says the Guibord burial will take place in about a week from Thursday or Friday next, and arrangements are now completed for carrying it out.

On Thursday night last a successful robbery occurred near Joliette, by which the mail was robbed of registered letters to the amount of $3,300. At the time the mail driver stopped his express on the road and proceeded to the store of a merchant to transact some business he had with him. On returning, he found that the mail had been broken into and a large number of money letters abstracted. He immediately telegraphed to Chief Inspector King, and a detective proceeded to Joliette and this afternoon the thief was fortunately nabbed in the California hotel. He was taken to the Central Police Station and searched, when on his person were found $3,154 in money. The prisoner is about 25 years of age, and looks very much depressed. Since his arrest, he has confirmed the suspicion that one of the guilty parties was a young man named Edmond Cotte, of this city, a relative of Dr. Ever.

Acting under instructions from the Customs' authorities, Mr. Barry last week visited a number of points on both sides above Cornwall, and made seizures in different stores. Some 50 barrels of coal oil were seized, which will not stand the fire test, and is exceedingly dangerous. Some of the oil had been smuggled.

A morning paper states that the Redpath sugar refinery was to be again opened this week, but owing to the United States Government having cancelled the recent order reducing the drawback on the export of refined sugar to $3 21 per one hundred pounds, and returned to the $3 75 rate, pending investigation into the matter; the opening may be further postponed.

Section No. 3 on the line of the Lachine Canal Enlargement has been awarded by the Dominion Government to Messrs. McNamee, Gaterty & Freehette. The section lies between the Wellington Bridge and McGauvran's Mills, at the St. Gabriel locks. The work will be done principally with dredges, and is to be commenced as speedily as possible, which will be a great boon to many poor men in the city.

In addition to the silks and laces stolen from the premises of the Messrs. Morgan & Co., several fine Paisley shawls were taken. The police are energetically working up the case, but believe that the thieves have left the city. It is supposed they had a carriage waiting in Fortification Lane, and carried the goods from a hole in the wall down into the yard, and thence out to a vehicle. The bank watchman on duty on St. James street, states that about one o'clock this morning, a man came up to the police on the beat, saying he had been stripped of his coat by roughs, near the Hotel du France, and asking for help. This is believed to have been a ruse used in order to draw away the attention of the constable while the thieves were removing the plunder. Messrs. Morgan & Co. offer a large reward for the recovery of the goods, or the detection of the burglars.

Alderman Stephens gave notice of a motion in the City Council this evening, calling on the Government to investigate the conduct of the Police Magistrate, in allowing Ehrich, the notorious fence, to flee the country on straw bail.

There is no new feature to note in the money market; rates of interest are unchanged and business is quiet. Stocks are firm, owing to a proposal to float the new Canadian loan of £2,500,000 in London. Sales—Montreal, 164½ to 165; Exchange, 91 to 94; Merchants, 91½ to 91¾; Ontario, 102½ to 104; Commerce, 123½ to 124½. Telegraph, 134 to 134½.

HALIFAX.

The Premier—A Fire—Visited by a Storm—Foundered at Sea.

HALIFAX, Oct. 25.—Hon. Alex. Mackenzie has promised to be here about the end of this week.

A fire at Yarmouth on Saturday night destroyed the Surprise foundry block manufactory of Israel Horton & Son, Joseph W. Crowell's store, and the sail loft of Goudey & Adams, all in Water street. The fire started in a blacksmith's, and is said to be the work of an incendiary; loss between $15,000 and $20,000; very little insurance.

The steamer Bela, from St. Thomas and Bermuda, arrived last evening. Bermuda was visited by a terrific storm on the 9th inst. Three or four houses had their roofs taken away, fruit and ornamental trees were destroyed, and in some cases early planted ones suffered. The vessel was thrown on her beam ends, and continued with the lee rail under water two feet during the night of the 10th. On the following morning it was considered necessary to cut away the masts, after which the ship generally righted, but was so strained she would have foundered, and preparations were made for taking to the boats when the Havana Packet hove in sight. Nothing beyond the personal effects of the captain and crew were saved.
