The fact of the matter is, Greytown is no place for ambitious [people of common place] when most profitable to all concerned in abilities to go, as they are not likely to live long enough to reach fame and di . tinction; but it is just the country for a brilliant journalist and aspiring politician, such as Tom White, to emigrate to, as changes take place so often. Greytown and the adjacent municipalities have an indefinite number of chatcaux d' Espagne, in the shape of railroad peojects, and the sage of the Bourbon organ at Montreal would there find ample opportunity of proving himself a public benefactor in the eyes of his adopted countrymen by exposing, "rail contract frauds,"&c ; and find time, we hope, during his hours of leisure, to contribute to the amusement, if not instruction, o the grave and sedate Dons, by his " learned" essays on "Varino phobia" and other subjects of a like cosmopolitan character.

THE TRUE POLICY.

The New York Evening Post in discuss ing the trade policy of the United States Government, and treating it in the discussion with great severity, advances the " a country which, like Canada, lies at " our very doors, ought to be cultivated 4 in every possible way; and all that we " can do to facilitate commercial inter-" course between the two countries is so " much for our own benefit."
