Since the Rev. Sisters of the Good Shepherd arrived in the City of Ottawa, more than three hundred penitents have lived in their establishment. Many of those have been placed in good families, where they have given complete satisfaction. Many of them, also, have been honourably established, being now good mothers of families.

There are now living in the house 31 penitents, 24 Magdalens, and 30 children of preservation.

We must not omit stating that these penitents and children are never, on any state of the said Morale and Morale a penitents and children are never, on any account whatever, no matter how perfect their conversation, admitted as members of the community of Sisters.

Nor should it be omitted that any applicant is received with charity, of whatever religious denomination she For further particulars apply to the Vendor or his Solicitors or to James Bermingham.
