THE OTTAWA MARKETS. Tunspay, Feb. 8. - The market to-day was more largely attended, both by buyers and sellers, than it has been at any time since the new year came in, and business altogether looked livelier than before. These two causes were continued until 10 o'clock, when the however, so equally balanced, that no material change in prices took place. The weather, too, was mild enough to enable holders of fruit to bring them to market and there were a few parcels of apple
