

A First-rate Stock,
A First-rate Cutler,
A First-rate Fit,

T. W. Kenny & Sons,
MERCHANTS OF FINE CLOTHING, AND GENTLEMEN'S OUTFITTERS,
16 (late 80) SPARKS STREET, OTTAWA.

Agents for the "Star" Life Assurance Society of London, England.

New Advertisements.

No Old Advertisements Inserted in This Line

Bankrupt Dry Goods—W S Wilson
Commodated Leopoldine—W Hearn
Silks—Alex Russell & Co
Half-Cone Price—W S Wilson
Public Notice—Jas D Joynt
Pasture to Let—Apply at This Office
Call at once—W S Wilson
Potato Bug Destroyer—W Hearn

The Times.

OTTAWA, TUESDAY, JUNE 18, 1876.

The Government have official information from Washington to the effect that instructions have been issued to the Collector of Customs at Plattsburgh, N. Y., to allow Canadian vessels laden with imported goods to pass that port on a clearance to Albany, and to any other intermediate port between Philadelphia and Albany, under such conditions as would govern the navigation of United States barges and vessels going from Canada, under Section 4,102 of the Revised Statutes, but under such regulations as would apply to foreign vessels generally, when importing foreign cargoes under Section 4,347 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, but without regard to the several provisions in this Section which apply specially to imported goods transported in bond, and to allow free transit to all return cargoes shown by the manifests of Canadian vessels to be destined for Canada. It is further stated that instructions similar in tone and object to those addressed to the Collector at Plattsburgh will be issued to the Collector of Customs at Buffalo and Oswego, N.Y., and Burlington, Vt., and to the Surveyor of Customs at Albany, and the Deputy Collector at Troy, N.Y., will be notified of these orders. It will be observed that these instructions at least concede the free navigation of all canals of the State of New York to Canadian vessels on the same terms as to United States vessels.

RECIPROCAL NAVIGATION OF CANALS.

His Excellency the Governor General, family and suite, leave the capital next Thursday on a visit to Quebec. His Excellency will be entertained at a banquet by the citizens of Quebec on the 21st inst.

Advice received by the Fisheries Department state that the herring fishing this spring has been most successful. Fish were more abundant than for many years past. Ninety vessels had loaded with full cargoes in a short time; thirty-two cargoes of 33,000 barrels were shipped to the United States; fifty-seven cargoes of 32,100 barrels were sent to ports in Denmark; and one cargo of 900 barrels finds its way to Sweden. Codfish and mackerel replaced the herrings, and are being caught in large quantities. Several lobster factories have begun operations at Amherst Harbour, and having found lobsters plentiful, are doing a good business.

SCARCITY OF FISH AT THE GRAND BANKS.

The reported scarcity of fish at the Grand Banks of Newfoundland, will have the effect of making the inshore fisheries for mackerel, herring and other fish now in demand, unusually valuable this season.

A SUGGESTION.

The almost insufferable heat of the last two days naturally suggests a number of subjects bearing very directly on the general health, but which with a cooler temperature would remain in abeyance indefinitely, though all the while they would be equally worthy of grave consideration and endeavours at improvement. The intense heat of the last day or two has brought out numerous complaints to which we are quite sure the gentlemen who pay for the maintenance of the kennels on Sandy Hill will be very ready to pay heed. It is complained by neighbours all round that the stench from this establishment is almost beyond endurance, that at the source of the infrequent drifts of air they are compelled to keep their doors and windows closed. The dirt of these interesting animals is not of the sweetest; to say nothing of their odour; while their music is sometimes painfully plaintive. It is with reluctance we call attention to this matter, for we love the spot dearly, but ex officio we love the public well-being far more.

THE OPPOSITION LEADERSHIP.

The question as to who is to lead—we might say does lead—Her Majesty's loyal Opposition has been honoured with a distinction characterised by energy far beyond the importance of the matter in dispute. The frank admission of the Montreal Star, which, nominally independent, is practically as strong as more pronounced journals in its opposition to the present ministry as any other are worth putting on record. It says—

Opposition Leader.—Political writers are discussing a wonderful degree of interest just now, as to the leadership of the Conservative party. The physiognomy of Sir John A. Macdonald is a source of anxiety to gentlemen who do not acknowledge him as their chief, and the fact that accumulating years have somewhat dimmed the fire of his youthful enthusiasm, with serious apprehension for the welfare of the school of political thought of which he is the embodiment. There has, in consequence, arisen a discussion of a rather interesting subject as to the probable future leadership of the Conservatives, in view of the presumed disappearance of the present chieftain, and the rivalry likely to spring up between aspirants for the first place on the left bank of the St. Lawrence. There does not seem to be any man of sufficient rank to succeed him in the position of leader of the Conservative party to any extent. He allows men like Dr. Tupper to come to the front occasionally to show their incapacity for command, as it were. When the remains control, he causes his own pre-eminence to be heralded afar, and the lights who strive to shine in his absence pale to their real standard of brilliance. Until newer and stronger blood is infused into the Conservative system there does not appear to be any great chance of Sir John A. Macdonald being supplanted in the leadership.

BATHING ACCOMMODATION.

Nothing can be more desirable than the indoctrination of the masses, whether of low or high degree, with ideas of duty of regard to personal cleanliness. It is a duty which hardly needs pressing on those of the latter class, who, however rapidly they rise into it from lower grades of social life quickly learn that the bath and its accessories deserve their attention, while to those born within the charmed circle of upper-temperament they are among the necessities of life. But with middle class and low class human beings, the principle in distinction from the porcelain—it is different. They need to be taught the necessity of personal and domestic cleanliness, and to have presented to them effective motives to the practice of both. It has often occurred to us that commendable are the labours of tract distribution, it would doubtless be useful if, with the pile of tracts they carry around for dissemination, they were also to take a bar of soap and a demijohn of diluted chloride of lime. But while such means of reaching the uncleanliness, which is as great a bane to the low neighbourhoods of large cities, as the gin palaces, whose flaring lights fascinate the worn-out and sickened labourer, and might do an immense deal of good in lessening the attractions of the "public," and enhancing those of home, something further is necessary. It is not enough that the homes of the poor should be clean; their persons have an equal right to purification. That one, however intent on cleanliness, could possibly attain his object by dipping a sponge or towel in a bowl, is an idea too old-fashioned for refutation, and even the lowest classes are intent now on obtaining more ample means of ablution. A canal bank, a river bank, or even the parapet of a reservoir or the sluice of a mill is—per se—a legitimate starting point in the pursuit of cleanliness. If the quest of purity displeases society, or some members of it who might with personal profit serve a more dignified designation, we hope to give the same tone of urbanity which is at present languishing so sadly—so rutinously, indeed, we might say with perfect propriety.

system of navigation of which the Champlain canal is a link, and at the first United States port on the route—Whitehall—when an attempt was made to pass, the Customs officer refused permission. Again the Washington Government were appealed to, and the actual condition of affairs pointed out to them. Their next move was to discover and quote a Constitutio Statute, which they alleged did not permit of any foreign vessel passing through the first United States port without unloading. The Canadian Government, however, possessed a knowledge of the laws of our neighbour which was somewhat inconvenient in this case, for they were able to remind Mr. Field of a statute passed a considerable number of years ago, and re-enacted recently, which made treaty obligations paramount to all the laws passed for the internal government of the nation—a principle which other countries uniformly observe without any such legislative formality. This was the stage which the correspondence had reached when Parliament had the papers brought down. It was then the impression, and indeed the Premier was honest enough to give expression to it, that nothing satisfactory was likely to arise out of the negotiation. It is creditable to the American Government that, although somewhat tardily, they have agreed to carry out the Treaty in this important respect in good faith, and especially creditable to the Canadian Premier, who had enough to do, to the satisfaction of his colleagues, that they have succeeded in carrying their point with honour to themselves and without injury to the sensibilities of those upon whom the demand was made. As a result of their labours, we expect to see an immediate and much-needed revival in the carrying trade from the port of Ottawa, and a corresponding revival in the business of "large" building. We may also be induced to hope that the same tone of urbanity will in some degree be communicated to the lumber industry and the other branches of industry which are at present languishing so sadly—so rutinously, indeed, we might say with perfect propriety.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

Race or War?—This publication, edited by Mr. P. Morris, and published from the press of Carlton & Co., New York, is modestly characterized as a "scrap book" of current news. It deserves a more dignified designation.

THE NEWSPAPER.

Under this rather breathless designation the Montreal Witness notices an entertainment which would appear to have been of a novel and highly interesting character. It was held in the skating rink, and we find that the worthiness of the object—which is not very explicitly stated—

"And the creditable results of the arduous efforts of the ladies forming the committee of management certainly deserve to be better patronized. However, the ladies have decided to give those who have seen the exhibition, an opportunity still to see it again, and it is to be hoped that many will, by their attendance this afternoon, give encouragement to this laudable enterprise." The ladies state that although the number of entries of articles of industrial work was small compared with what was expected, yet such has been the response that the young lady who made the sweepstakes winning should be established in a cooking school for young ladies. Much credit is due to the indefatigable efforts of Mrs. H. Baylis, a fine specimen of the Infants' Home, and to the other members of the Committee of Management of the Home. The ladies were in attendance during the afternoon as well as evening yesterday, and their sweet music added much to the enjoyment of the entertainment. However, next to the Infants, the Punch and Judy exhibition, which was engaged from Boston by the ladies, especially for this entertainment and at a large expense, was evidently the object of greatest interest. There was a slight difficulty in getting the Infants' Home to whom, even if the exhibition do not result in all the success, financially that was looked for, for incompleteness of arrangement nor any other lack on their part cannot easily be attributed. The Managers of the exhibition consist of Mr. H. Baylis, Mrs. Shaw, Secretary, and Mrs. Baylis, Treasurer, together with the other members of the Committee of Management of the Home. The ladies were in attendance during the afternoon as well as evening yesterday, and their sweet music added much to the enjoyment of the entertainment. However, next to the Infants, the Punch and Judy exhibition, which was engaged from Boston by the ladies, especially for this entertainment and at a large expense, was evidently the object of greatest interest. There was a slight difficulty in getting the Infants' Home to whom, even if the exhibition do not result in all the success, financially that was looked for, for incompleteness of arrangement nor any other lack on their part cannot easily be attributed. The Managers of the exhibition consist of Mr. H. Baylis, Mrs. Shaw, Secretary, and Mrs. Baylis, Treasurer, together with the other members of the Committee of Management of the Home. The ladies were in attendance during the afternoon as well as evening yesterday, and their sweet music added much to the enjoyment of the entertainment. However, next to the Infants, the Punch and Judy exhibition, which was engaged from Boston by the ladies, especially for this entertainment and at a large expense, was evidently the object of greatest interest. There was a slight difficulty in getting the Infants' Home to whom, even if the exhibition do not result in all the success, financially that was looked for, for incompleteness of arrangement nor any other lack on their part cannot easily be attributed. The Managers of the exhibition consist of Mr. H. Baylis, Mrs. Shaw, Secretary, and Mrs. Baylis, Treasurer, together with the other members of the Committee of Management of the Home. The ladies were in attendance during the afternoon as well as evening yesterday, and their sweet music added much to the enjoyment of the entertainment. However, next to the Infants, the Punch and Judy exhibition, which was engaged from Boston by the ladies, especially for this entertainment and at a large expense, was evidently the object of greatest interest. There was a slight difficulty in getting the Infants' Home to whom, even if the exhibition do not result in all the success, financially that was looked for, for incompleteness of arrangement nor any other lack on their part cannot easily be attributed. The Managers of the exhibition consist of Mr. H. Baylis, Mrs. Shaw, Secretary, and Mrs. Baylis, Treasurer, together with the other members of the Committee of Management of the Home. The ladies were in attendance during the afternoon as well as evening yesterday, and their sweet music added much to the enjoyment of the entertainment. However, next to the Infants, the Punch and Judy exhibition, which was engaged from Boston by the ladies, especially for this entertainment and at a large expense, was evidently the object of greatest interest. There was a slight difficulty in getting the Infants' Home to whom, even if the exhibition do not result in all the success, financially that was looked for, for incompleteness of arrangement nor any other lack on their part cannot easily be attributed. The Managers of the exhibition consist of Mr. H. Baylis, Mrs. Shaw, Secretary, and Mrs. Baylis, Treasurer, together with the other members of the Committee of Management of the Home. The ladies were in attendance during the afternoon as well as evening yesterday, and their sweet music added much to the enjoyment of the entertainment. However, next to the Infants, the Punch and Judy exhibition, which was engaged from Boston by the ladies, especially for this entertainment and at a large expense, was evidently the object of greatest interest. There was a slight difficulty in getting the Infants' Home to whom, even if the exhibition do not result in all the success, financially that was looked for, for incompleteness of arrangement nor any other lack on their part cannot easily be attributed. The Managers of the exhibition consist of Mr. H. Baylis, Mrs. Shaw, Secretary, and Mrs. Baylis, Treasurer, together with the other members of the Committee of Management of the Home. The ladies were in attendance during the afternoon as well as evening yesterday, and their sweet music added much to the enjoyment of the entertainment. However, next to the Infants, the Punch and Judy exhibition, which was engaged from Boston by the ladies, especially for this entertainment and at a large expense, was evidently the object of greatest interest. There was a slight difficulty in getting the Infants' Home to whom, even if the exhibition do not result in all the success, financially that was looked for, for incompleteness of arrangement nor any other lack on their part cannot easily be attributed. The Managers of the exhibition consist of Mr. H. Baylis, Mrs. Shaw, Secretary, and Mrs. Baylis, Treasurer, together with the other members of the Committee of Management of the Home. The ladies were in attendance during the afternoon as well as evening yesterday, and their sweet music added much to the enjoyment of the entertainment. However, next to the Infants, the Punch and Judy exhibition, which was engaged from Boston by the ladies, especially for this entertainment and at a large expense, was evidently the object of greatest interest. There was a slight difficulty in getting the Infants' Home to whom, even if the exhibition do not result in all the success, financially that was looked for, for incompleteness of arrangement nor any other lack on their part cannot easily be attributed. The Managers of the exhibition consist of Mr. H. Baylis, Mrs. Shaw, Secretary, and Mrs. Baylis, Treasurer, together with the other members of the Committee of Management of the Home. The ladies were in attendance during the afternoon as well as evening yesterday, and their sweet music added much to the enjoyment of the entertainment. However, next to the Infants, the Punch and Judy exhibition, which was engaged from Boston by the ladies, especially for this entertainment and at a large expense, was evidently the object of greatest interest. There was a slight difficulty in getting the Infants' Home to whom, even if the exhibition do not result in all the success, financially that was looked for, for incompleteness of arrangement nor any other lack on their part cannot easily be attributed. The Managers of the exhibition consist of Mr. H. Baylis, Mrs. Shaw, Secretary, and Mrs. Baylis, Treasurer, together with the other members of the Committee of Management of the Home. The ladies were in attendance during the afternoon as well as evening yesterday, and their sweet music added much to the enjoyment of the entertainment. However, next to the Infants, the Punch and Judy exhibition, which was engaged from Boston by the ladies, especially for this entertainment and at a large expense, was evidently the object of greatest interest. There was a slight difficulty in getting the Infants' Home to whom, even if the exhibition do not result in all the success, financially that was looked for, for incompleteness of arrangement nor any other lack on their part cannot easily be attributed. The Managers of the exhibition consist of Mr. H. Baylis, Mrs. Shaw, Secretary, and Mrs. Baylis, Treasurer, together with the other members of the Committee of Management of the Home. The ladies were in attendance during the afternoon as well as evening yesterday, and their sweet music added much to the enjoyment of the entertainment. However, next to the Infants, the Punch and Judy exhibition, which was engaged from Boston by the ladies, especially for this entertainment and at a large expense, was evidently the object of greatest interest. There was a slight difficulty in getting the Infants' Home to whom, even if the exhibition do not result in all the success, financially that was looked for, for incompleteness of arrangement nor any other lack on their part cannot easily be attributed. The Managers of the exhibition consist of Mr. H. Baylis, Mrs. Shaw, Secretary, and Mrs. Baylis, Treasurer, together with the other members of the Committee of Management of the Home. The ladies were in attendance during the afternoon as well as evening yesterday, and their sweet music added much to the enjoyment of the entertainment. However, next to the Infants, the Punch and Judy exhibition, which was engaged from Boston by the ladies, especially for this entertainment and at a large expense, was evidently the object of greatest interest. There was a slight difficulty in getting the Infants' Home to whom, even if the exhibition do not result in all the success, financially that was looked for, for incompleteness of arrangement nor any other lack on their part cannot easily be attributed. The Managers of the exhibition consist of Mr. H. Baylis, Mrs. Shaw, Secretary, and Mrs. Baylis, Treasurer, together with the other members of the Committee of Management of the Home. The ladies were in attendance during the afternoon as well as evening yesterday, and their sweet music added much to the enjoyment of the entertainment. However, next to the Infants, the Punch and Judy exhibition, which was engaged from Boston by the ladies, especially for this entertainment and at a large expense, was evidently the object of greatest interest. There was a slight difficulty in getting the Infants' Home to whom, even if the exhibition do not result in all the success, financially that was looked for, for incompleteness of arrangement nor any other lack on their part cannot easily be attributed. The Managers of the exhibition consist of Mr. H. Baylis, Mrs. Shaw, Secretary, and Mrs. Baylis, Treasurer, together with the other members of the Committee of Management of the Home. The ladies were in attendance during the afternoon as well as evening yesterday, and their sweet music added much to the enjoyment of the entertainment. However, next to the Infants, the Punch and Judy exhibition, which was engaged from Boston by the ladies, especially for this entertainment and at a large expense, was evidently the object of greatest interest. There was a slight difficulty in getting the Infants' Home to whom, even if the exhibition do not result in all the success, financially that was looked for, for incompleteness of arrangement nor any other lack on their part cannot easily be attributed. The Managers of the exhibition consist of Mr. H. Baylis, Mrs. Shaw, Secretary, and Mrs. Baylis, Treasurer, together with the other members of the Committee of Management of the Home. The ladies were in attendance during the afternoon as well as evening yesterday, and their sweet music added much to the enjoyment of the entertainment. However, next to the Infants, the Punch and Judy exhibition, which was engaged from Boston by the ladies, especially for this entertainment and at a large expense, was evidently the object of greatest interest. There was a slight difficulty in getting the Infants' Home to whom, even if the exhibition do not result in all the success, financially that was looked for, for incompleteness of arrangement nor any other lack on their part cannot easily be attributed. The Managers of the exhibition consist of Mr. H. Baylis, Mrs. Shaw, Secretary, and Mrs. Baylis, Treasurer, together with the other members of the Committee of Management of the Home. The ladies were in attendance during the afternoon as well as evening yesterday, and their sweet music added much to the enjoyment of the entertainment. However, next to the Infants, the Punch and Judy exhibition, which was engaged from Boston by the ladies, especially for this entertainment and at a large expense, was evidently the object of greatest interest. There was a slight difficulty in getting the Infants' Home to whom, even if the exhibition do not result in all the success, financially that was looked for, for incompleteness of arrangement nor any other lack on their part cannot easily be attributed. The Managers of the exhibition consist of Mr. H. Baylis, Mrs. Shaw, Secretary, and Mrs. Baylis, Treasurer, together with the other members of the Committee of Management of the Home. The ladies were in attendance during the afternoon as well as evening yesterday, and their sweet music added much to the enjoyment of the entertainment. However, next to the Infants, the Punch and Judy exhibition, which was engaged from Boston by the ladies, especially for this entertainment and at a large expense, was evidently the object of greatest interest. There was a slight difficulty in getting the Infants' Home to whom, even if the exhibition do not result in all the success, financially that was looked for, for incompleteness of arrangement nor any other lack on their part cannot easily be attributed. The Managers of the exhibition consist of Mr. H. Baylis, Mrs. Shaw, Secretary, and Mrs. Baylis, Treasurer, together with the other members of the Committee of Management of the Home. The ladies were in attendance during the afternoon as well as evening yesterday, and their sweet music added much to the enjoyment of the entertainment. However, next to the Infants, the Punch and Judy exhibition, which was engaged from Boston by the ladies, especially for this entertainment and at a large expense, was evidently the object of greatest interest. There was a slight difficulty in getting the Infants' Home to whom, even if the exhibition do not result in all the success, financially that was looked for, for incompleteness of arrangement nor any other lack on their part cannot easily be attributed. The Managers of the exhibition consist of Mr. H. Baylis, Mrs. Shaw, Secretary, and Mrs. Baylis, Treasurer, together with the other members of the Committee of Management of the Home. The ladies were in attendance during the afternoon as well as evening yesterday, and their sweet music added much to the enjoyment of the entertainment. However, next to the Infants, the Punch and Judy exhibition, which was engaged from Boston by the ladies, especially for this entertainment and at a large expense, was evidently the object of greatest interest. There was a slight difficulty in getting the Infants' Home to whom, even if the exhibition do not result in all the success, financially that was looked for, for incompleteness of arrangement nor any other lack on their part cannot easily be attributed. The Managers of the exhibition consist of Mr. H. Baylis, Mrs. Shaw, Secretary, and Mrs. Baylis, Treasurer, together with the other members of the Committee of Management of the Home. The ladies were in attendance during the afternoon as well as evening yesterday, and their sweet music added much to the enjoyment of the entertainment. However, next to the Infants, the Punch and Judy exhibition, which was engaged from Boston by the ladies, especially for this entertainment and at a large expense, was evidently the object of greatest interest. There was a slight difficulty in getting the Infants' Home to whom, even if the exhibition do not result in all the success, financially that was looked for, for incompleteness of arrangement nor any other lack on their part cannot easily be attributed. The Managers of the exhibition consist of Mr. H. Baylis, Mrs. Shaw, Secretary, and Mrs. Baylis, Treasurer, together with the other members of the Committee of Management of the Home. The ladies were in attendance during the afternoon as well as evening yesterday, and their sweet music added much to the enjoyment of the entertainment. However, next to the Infants, the Punch and Judy exhibition, which was engaged from Boston by the ladies, especially for this entertainment and at a large expense, was evidently the object of greatest interest. There was a slight difficulty in getting the Infants' Home to whom, even if the exhibition do not result in all the success, financially that was looked for, for incompleteness of arrangement nor any other lack on their part cannot easily be attributed. The Managers of the exhibition consist of Mr. H. Baylis, Mrs. Shaw, Secretary, and Mrs. Baylis, Treasurer, together with the other members of the Committee of Management of the Home. The ladies were in attendance during the afternoon as well as evening yesterday, and their sweet music added much to the enjoyment of the entertainment. However, next to the Infants, the Punch and Judy exhibition, which was engaged from Boston by the ladies, especially for this entertainment and at a large expense, was evidently the object of greatest interest. There was a slight difficulty in getting the Infants' Home to whom, even if the exhibition do not result in all the success, financially that was looked for, for incompleteness of arrangement nor any other lack on their part cannot easily be attributed. The Managers of the exhibition consist of Mr. H. Baylis, Mrs. Shaw, Secretary, and Mrs. Baylis, Treasurer, together with the other members of the Committee of Management of the Home. The ladies were in attendance during the afternoon as well as evening yesterday, and their sweet music added much to the enjoyment of the entertainment. However, next to the Infants, the Punch and Judy exhibition, which was engaged from Boston by the ladies, especially for this entertainment and at a large expense, was evidently the object of greatest interest. There was a slight difficulty in getting the Infants' Home to whom, even if the exhibition do not result in all the success, financially that was looked for, for incompleteness of arrangement nor any other lack on their part cannot easily be attributed. The Managers of the exhibition consist of Mr. H. Baylis, Mrs. Shaw, Secretary, and Mrs. Baylis, Treasurer, together with the other members of the Committee of Management of the Home. The ladies were in attendance during the afternoon as well as evening yesterday, and their sweet music added much to the enjoyment of the entertainment. However, next to the Infants, the Punch and Judy exhibition, which was engaged from Boston by the ladies, especially for this entertainment and at a large expense, was evidently the object of greatest interest. There was a slight difficulty in getting the Infants' Home to whom, even if the exhibition do not result in all the success, financially that was looked for, for incompleteness of arrangement nor any other lack on their part cannot easily be attributed. The Managers of the exhibition consist of Mr. H. Baylis, Mrs. Shaw, Secretary, and Mrs. Baylis, Treasurer, together with the other members of the Committee of Management of the Home. The ladies were in attendance during the afternoon as well as evening yesterday, and their sweet music added much to the enjoyment of the entertainment. However, next to the Infants, the Punch and Judy exhibition, which was engaged from Boston by the ladies, especially for this entertainment and at a large expense, was evidently the object of greatest interest. There was a slight difficulty in getting the Infants' Home to whom, even if the exhibition do not result in all the success, financially that was looked for, for incompleteness of arrangement nor any other lack on their part cannot easily be attributed. The Managers of the exhibition consist of Mr. H. Baylis, Mrs. Shaw, Secretary, and Mrs. Baylis, Treasurer, together with the other members of the Committee of Management of the Home. The ladies were in attendance during the afternoon as well as evening yesterday, and their sweet music added much to the enjoyment of the entertainment. However, next to the Infants, the Punch and Judy exhibition, which was engaged from Boston by the ladies, especially for this entertainment and at a large expense, was evidently the object of greatest interest. There was a slight difficulty in getting the Infants' Home to whom, even if the exhibition do not result in all the success, financially that was looked for, for incompleteness of arrangement nor any other lack on their part cannot easily be attributed. The Managers of the exhibition consist of Mr. H. Baylis, Mrs. Shaw, Secretary, and Mrs. Baylis, Treasurer, together with the other members of the Committee of Management of the Home. The ladies were in attendance during the afternoon as well as evening yesterday, and their sweet music added much to the enjoyment of the entertainment. However, next to the Infants, the Punch and Judy exhibition, which was engaged from Boston by the ladies, especially for this entertainment and at a large expense, was evidently the object of greatest interest. There was a slight difficulty in getting the Infants' Home to whom, even if the exhibition do not result in all the success, financially that was looked for, for incompleteness of arrangement nor any other lack on their part cannot easily be attributed. The Managers of the exhibition consist of Mr. H. Baylis, Mrs. Shaw, Secretary, and Mrs. Baylis, Treasurer, together with the other members of the Committee of Management of the Home. The ladies were in attendance during the afternoon as well as evening yesterday, and their sweet music added much to the enjoyment of