OTTAWA, THURSDAY, JUNE 15, 1876

The announcement of the death Judge Duggan will be received with regret

A telegraphic report from Father Point, announces the arrival at 3 a. m., yesterday, as Austrian arrived with 41 cabin and 288 steerage passengers.

Letters for registration should be mailed half an hour earlier.

We understand that Mr. Gowan's Opera House is leased and will shortly be open ed with an entirely new dramatic company, and popular management, introducing startling sensations. The particulars of which will shortly be appounced.

The election in North Ontario rendered necessary by the demise of Mr. Gordon will not, as appearances go, weaken the party much, as the Reform Convention have already selected a candidate who is certain to command a majority of votes, should there be any opposition, which we doubt.

The following Canadian visitors regisered their names at the Government office, London, during the week ending 14th June, 1876 :- Messrs. H. Dade, Winnipeg; Allan J. Barker, Portland, N. B. D. M. Brown, Halifax ; Hector Robertson Toronto ; C. H. Murray, M.D.; H. L. Reddy, M.D.; Jas. J. Evans, John McEntyre, Mrs. Mullarky, Montreal.

It is with the deepest regret we have to announce this morning the decease of Mr. E. Billings, whose obituary notice it is scarcely necessary to write, as well known in literary and scientific circles as highly esteemed in private life. It is something to say of any man that death is a country's loss; in this case we say it with our utmost emphasis. There was no man in Canada who has rendered such service to the cause of science - Sir Wm. Logan excepted -as the gentleman whose decease it is our painful duty to record. That he will have a worthy sucnfold itself to an inquiring and knowadge-hungering generation like our owncannot, however, have a better missionary, than the one on whose bier we let

It is a gracious act graciously done, and we are quite sure all the members all the Service, and the community generally, including even those who are already "donati rude," and may never strike a tennis-ball, will cordially appreciate His Excellency's consideration in taking thought to provide, even during his absence, for the recreation of the community generally, among whom he lives. It is the kindly appearance in the employment of active spirit which prompts His Excellency to the Royal cause in the Paris of 1702, and who like his son was recognized during life by his military title, though he held the offices of Sheriff of Three Rivers and afterwards of Montreal, and was a member of the Legislative Council, as was his father Bartholemew Gugy, who was also known in life by the prefix of Colonel from his command of a regiment of guards in the French service, and was a member of the Legislative Council, as was his father Bartholemew Gugy, who was also known in life by the prefix of Montreal, and was a member of the Legislative Council, as was his father Bartholemew Gugy, who was also known in life by the prefix of Montreal, and was a member of the Legislative Council, as was his father Bartholemew Gugy, who was also known in life by the prefix of Montreal, and was a member of the Legislative Council, as was his father Bartholemew Gugy, who was also known in life by the prefix of Montreal, and was a member of the Legislative Council, as was his father Bartholemew Gugy, who was also known in life by the prefix of Montreal, and the recognized. In those days this attitude was very different from what a similar position would be to-day.
