

T. W. Kenny & Sons, 18 (late 23) SPARKS STREET, OTTAWA. Agents for the "Times" Life Assurance Society of London, England.

Advertisements section listing various services and businesses such as 'Cheap Parasols', 'Summer Hats', and 'Sole Water'.

OTTAWA, SATURDAY, JUNE 17, 1876. We think we do the clergy a service in advising the abandonment of Sabbath observance, now that tropical weather has set in—within such limits of restriction as is possible.

THE COMING MAN. It seems a pretty rare thing that the duty of bearing the Republican standard during the coming contest for the Presidency of the United States will devolve on Mr. Blaine, it being enough to say that the telegraph has indicated it day by day.

AN ABOLITION SQUABBLE. Some of our Tory friends are in a state of excitement over long years of pure political life, the country has fallen to us, and we are to be the beneficiaries of a bill which the latter, in the ordinary course of business, formed it proper to present.

A THING WORTH CONSIDERING. The gentlemen who superintend our civic affairs have a matter which may better employ their time than the discussion of trivial personal matters, or the frolics of local representatives who must either talk or die.

THE LATE JUDGE DUGGAN. There are two ways in Turkey of going out of the world than by bowing or by being tied up in a sack—not always made to measure—and pitched into the glorious sea which laps the banks of the city of Misamis.

THE CAYUGA CAOL AFFAIR. Any endeavor to expunge official negligence, or to render the public service more effective, deserves consideration and encouragement, and the subjects touched far outside the limits of party politics when they relate to such matters as the safe looking of a cell door.

has been quite enough of evidence elicited to show the consciousness of guilt of discipline which has rendered the Cayuga prison management notorious throughout the Dominion; but in fact of the reasons for which there is fear too much to publish to find that the most important questions have been omitted in the examination of those representatives of judicial authority.

Why was not Mr. Martin asked to do all the circumstances of the scene that took place in the Court House at Ottawa last March, in which Mr. Lawrence, and a couple of constables were the prominent actors, was the color of the coat worn by the prisoner, and why was the Sheriff compelled to resort to physical force on that occasion?

THE FORGER WINLOW. The forger Winlow is now at liberty, and there has been a complete failure of justice. Yesterday Chief Justice Mellor granted an order for Winlow's release.

THE LATE JUDGE DUGGAN. The late Judge Duggan was a man of high standing in the law, and his death was a great loss to the community.

THE CAYUGA CAOL AFFAIR. The Cayuga Caol affair has been a subject of much discussion, and it is worth considering the reasons for the actions taken.
