

T. W. Kenny & Sons, 18 (Old No. 1) BRADSHAW STREET, OTTAWA. Advertisements for various goods and services.

The Times, OTTAWA, MONDAY, JUNE 19, 1876.

The Hon. Mr. Letellier De St. Just left the city on Friday.

We regret to learn that an accident has happened to Mr. Charles Tupper, son of the Hon. Dr. Tupper, now studying at Harvard.

In our correspondence column this morning we give some communication relating to the case of Mr. Smiley, whose statement it will be seen has been fully established by the Minister of Education, to whom he appealed in his official capacity.

The New York Journal is compelled to make another appeal for aid to carry on the paper. The amount, which was to have been provided by the publisher, has not been forthcoming.

We are informed, says the Globe, that his Excellency the Governor General purpose visiting a visit to British Columbia during the present summer.

The following from the London News is one of many proofs of the favourable impression Mr. Mackenzie's public utterances have created in Great Britain.

These speeches have a double value, for while they delivered in Scotland last autumn will be useful in securing many prevalent misconceptions as to the nature and character of British North America, Mr. Mackenzie's political speech at Toronto, Montreal, and elsewhere, have only explain the policy pursued by his Ministry.

Some of our Liberal friends are putting themselves very needlessly to trouble to explain away the facts in this case, just as our Tory friends are doing to make them bear the most possible construction.

It is gratifying to note the hopeful tone of almost every rural exchange that reaches us in respect of the prospect of a speedy return of general prosperity.

The hotter the weather the more need to wash, and the greater the obligation of the authorities to provide means for the performing of the ablution.

COMMERCIAL TRAVELLERS.

The Dominion Pacific Herald commenting on an act assented to at the close of the late session of the British Columbia Legislature, expresses an earnest hope that it will be disallowed, which hope we heartily echo.

SHANTIES IN CITIES.

The belief seems to be gaining ground in Kingston and Quebec, both of which have recently had a very bad season, that it is not a wise thing to crowd cities with small wooden buildings.

PROHIBITION.

The friends of prohibition must feel high gratification at the assistance which the Toronto Mail has, without solicitation on their part, rendered to their cause.

HERALD VS. WORKMAN.

man—one who was not before the Convention at all—would at the last moment be taken up as a compromise.
