

Court report

One year for trafficking
A 21-year-old Penetanguishene man was sentenced to one year in jail after pleading guilty to trafficking a narcotic.

The sentence was handed down for Mitchell Maracle of 207 Church Street, in provincial court in Penetanguishene last Thursday.

Maracle was charged with trafficking a narcotic on September 7th, 1974, when he sold three hits valued at $2.50 apiece to a man who turned out to be a police officer.

The defense lawyer pleaded for a lenient sentence saying that Maracle was the product of a broken home and was unemployed. While claiming that unemployment was not an excuse to traffic in drugs the defense lawyer noted, "it is not unusual for youthful people in this area."

Midland lawyer Doug Haig claimed, "a jail sentence should be mandatory." He said that the charges before the court indicate there still is a good supply of drugs in this area and pressed for Mitchell to be incarcerated for at least a relatively short time.

Judge Len Montgomery sentenced Maracle to six months in jail on a previous break, entry and theft charge for which Maracle had been on probation at the time of the trafficking offense. Maracle was convicted on a charge of break, entry and theft in provincial court in Midland back in 1974. At the time he was put on probation for 18 months.

Montgomery handed down another two months concurrent to the first sentence for breach of the original probation order.

Maracle received another six months consecutive, after pleading guilty to trafficking a narcotic.

In handing down the sentence Judge Montgomery emphasized the deterrent aspect stating "we must consider the protection of the public."

Three plead guilty
Three Port McNicoll men pleaded guilty to a total of four charges of break, enter and theft of summer cottages and two additional charges of break and enter, at provincial court in Penetanguishene last Thursday.

The three men were Wayne David Simpson, 21, Leslie Windover, 20, and Paul Kenneth Madon, 35.

All the break-ins occurred within Tay Township in February. In the four break-ins where theft was involved, household items such as jewellery, a colour TV, a radio and appliances, were stolen.

All three men were remanded out of custody until May 22 while presentence reports on them are prepared.

Five days in jail
A 17-year-old Highland Point youth, Roland Botineau, was sentenced to five days in jail on one charge of break, enter and theft, and placed on suspended sentence for an 18 month probation period after pleading guilty to three more counts of break, enter and theft and three counts of breaking and entering.

Bottineau had no previous record. The case was heard in provincial court in Penetanguishene last Thursday.

Impaired driving
Richard Earl Paul, 49, of Sunnyside pleaded guilty to a charge of impaired driving in provincial court in Penetanguishene last Thursday.

The court was told that police stopped Paul on Highway 12 west of the west entrance into Waubaushene because his vehicle was weaving on the roadway.

A breathalyzer test given to Paul shortly afterwards registered a reading of 200 milligrams.

Richard Paul was fined $200.

Snowmobile theft
Two 18-year-old Penetanguishene youths Douglas Bidan and Glen Bertrelot, were granted conditional discharges and put on probation for 12 months after pleading guilty to theft of a snowmobile on January 26.

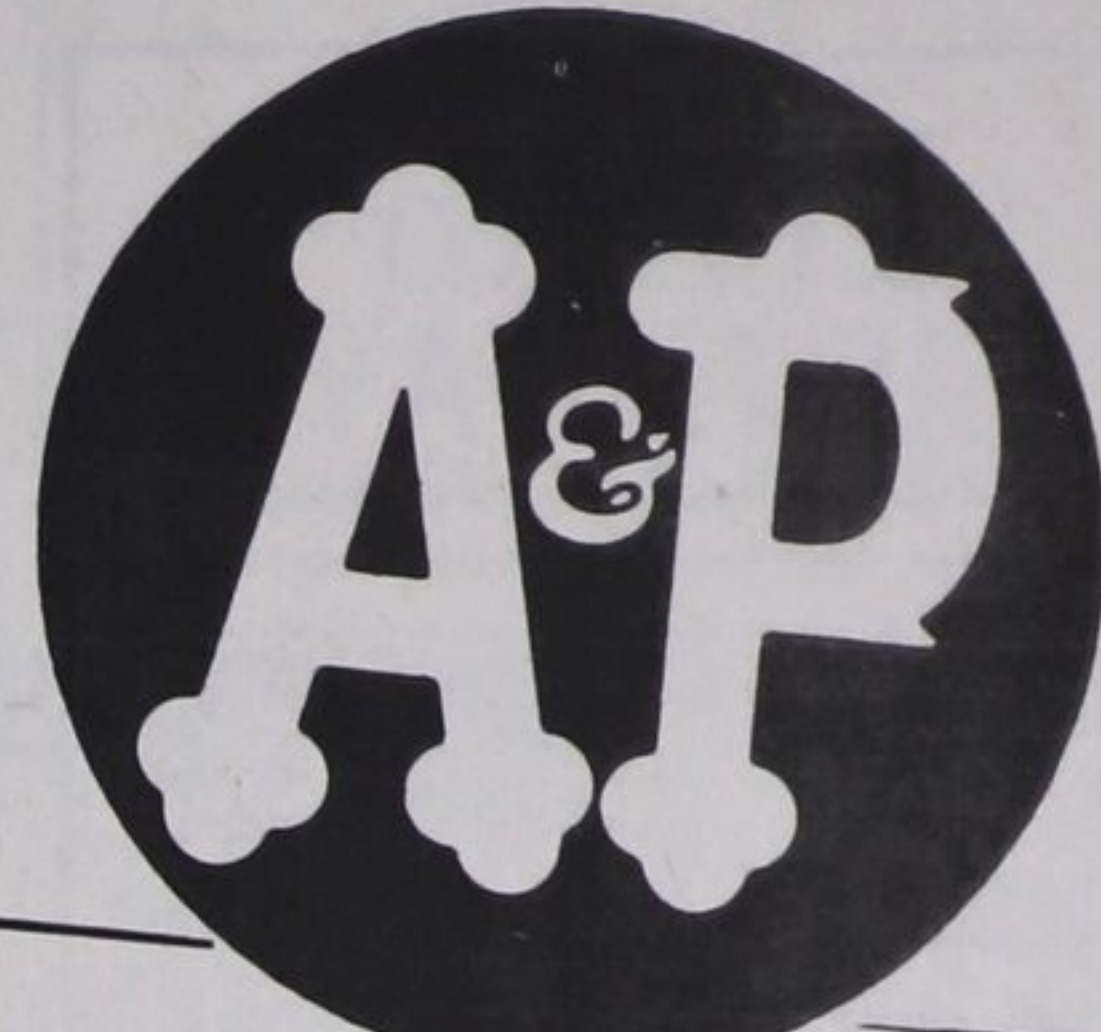

The case was heard in provincial court in Penetanguishene last Thursday.
