

Rob has the best d... band in the land

by Shirley Lane stared, bug-eyed and Ever since the days petulant - at his central-when Perry Mason casting jury, courtroom

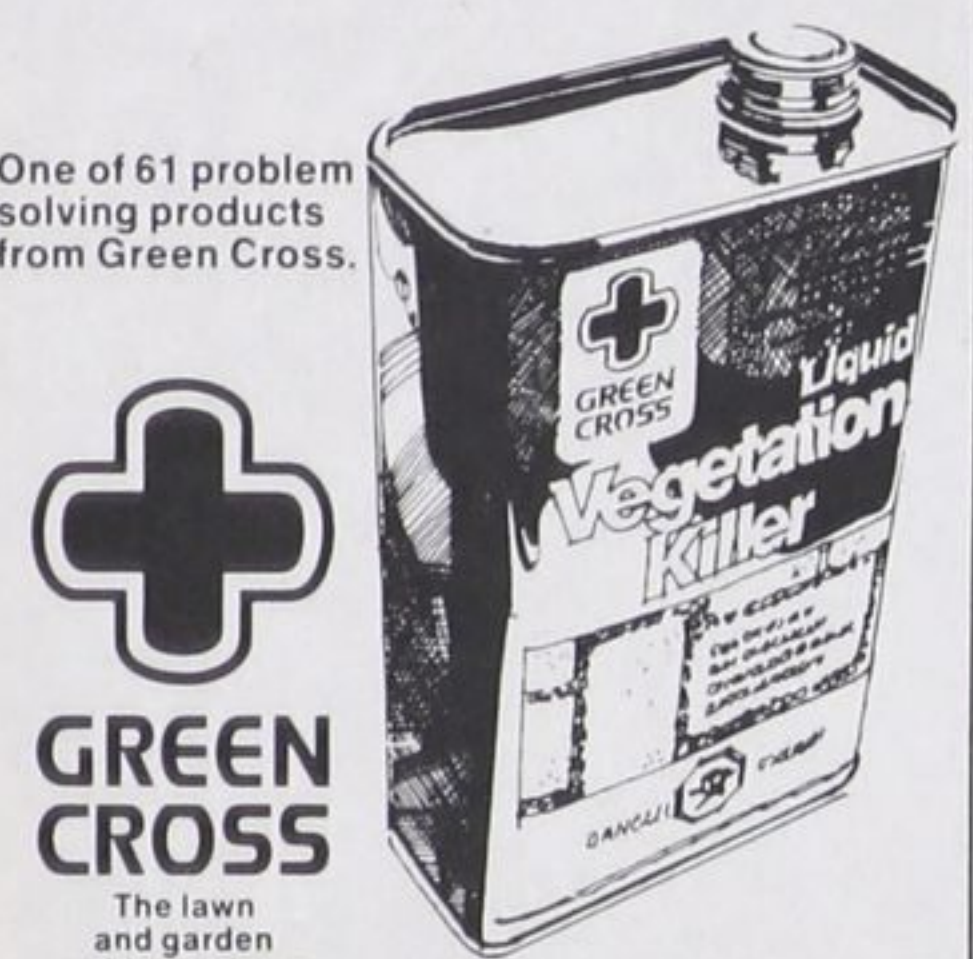

If you've got green

where it shouldn't be seen...

Get Green Cross Vegetation Killer.

Eliminates all unwanted vegetation - on paths, lawns, gravel driveways - for at least one full year.

- Gives two way action - works through both roots and leaves.
- Effective, easy-to-use - comes in liquid spray concentrate (also in granula form).

One of 61 problem solving products from Green Cross.

GREEN CROSS
The lawn and garden problem solvers.

drama has been a prime favourite with TV audiences. On The Evidence, CBC's newest show, is court-room drama with a difference. Here's how it works.

The show begins with a quick sketchy outline of a crime that may or may not have been committed. Then a suspect is brought into court and charged with the crime - rape, murder, assault, robbery or whatever - and this is where realism enters.

The opposing lawyers, the judge and the clerk of court are supplied by the Ontario branch of the Canadian Bar Association and each one goes through the procedure as though there were no cameras present, exactly the way it is done in Canadian court rooms.

The jurors are chosen at random from the studio audience and no one knows in advance how the case is going to turn out. Nothing is scripted except the details of the alleged crime, narrated by Ken Haslam.

A big problem for producer David Pears was boiling down the actual on-camera work into one hour for telecasting.

Each program is complete in itself. The stories change, the principal actors and actresses change and so do the members of the bar.

On the Evidence premieres on Saturday night, (June 21) at ten. The Best Damn Band in the Land - there's no other way to describe Rob McConnell's Boss Brass, and that's the title of a one hour special on CBC Friday June 20 at 9. If you haven't heard the sound great surging sound of the judge and the clerk of court are supplied by the Ontario branch of the Canadian Bar Association and each one goes through the procedure as though there were no cameras present, exactly the way it is done in Canadian court rooms.

The jurors are chosen at random from the studio audience and no one knows in advance how the case is going to turn out. Nothing is scripted except the details of the alleged crime, narrated by Ken Haslam.

A big problem for producer David Pears was boiling down the actual on-camera work into one hour for telecasting.

Each program is complete in itself. The stories change, the principal actors and actresses change and so do the members of the bar.

On the Evidence premieres on Saturday night, (June 21) at ten. The Best Damn Band in the Land - there's no other way to describe Rob McConnell's Boss Brass, and that's the title of a one hour special on CBC Friday June 20 at 9. If you haven't heard the sound great surging sound of the judge and the clerk of court are supplied by the Ontario branch of the Canadian Bar Association and each one goes through the procedure as though there were no cameras present, exactly the way it is done in Canadian court rooms.

The jurors are chosen at random from the studio audience and no one knows in advance how the case is going to turn out. Nothing is scripted except the details of the alleged crime, narrated by Ken Haslam.

A big problem for producer David Pears was boiling down the actual on-camera work into one hour for telecasting.

Each program is complete in itself. The stories change, the principal actors and actresses change and so do the members of the bar.

On the Evidence premieres on Saturday night, (June 21) at ten. The Best Damn Band in the Land - there's no other way to describe Rob McConnell's Boss Brass, and that's the title of a one hour special on CBC Friday June 20 at 9. If you haven't heard the sound great surging sound of the judge and the clerk of court are supplied by the Ontario branch of the Canadian Bar Association and each one goes through the procedure as though there were no cameras present, exactly the way it is done in Canadian court rooms.

The jurors are chosen at random from the studio audience and no one knows in advance how the case is going to turn out. Nothing is scripted except the details of the alleged crime, narrated by Ken Haslam.

A big problem for producer David Pears was boiling down the actual on-camera work into one hour for telecasting.

Each program is complete in itself. The stories change, the principal actors and actresses change and so do the members of the bar.

On the Evidence premieres on Saturday night, (June 21) at ten. The Best Damn Band in the Land - there's no other way to describe Rob McConnell's Boss Brass, and that's the title of a one hour special on CBC Friday June 20 at 9. If you haven't heard the sound great surging sound of the judge and the clerk of court are supplied by the Ontario branch of the Canadian Bar Association and each one goes through the procedure as though there were no cameras present, exactly the way it is done in Canadian court rooms.

The jurors are chosen at random from the studio audience and no one knows in advance how the case is going to turn out. Nothing is scripted except the details of the alleged crime, narrated by Ken Haslam.

A big problem for producer David Pears was boiling down the actual on-camera work into one hour for telecasting.

Each program is complete in itself. The stories change, the principal actors and actresses change and so do the members of the bar.

On the Evidence premieres on Saturday night, (June 21) at ten. The Best Damn Band in the Land - there's no other way to describe Rob McConnell's Boss Brass, and that's the title of a one hour special on CBC Friday June 20 at 9. If you haven't heard the sound great surging sound of the judge and the clerk of court are supplied by the Ontario branch of the Canadian Bar Association and each one goes through the procedure as though there were no cameras present, exactly the way it is done in Canadian court rooms.

The jurors are chosen at random from the studio audience and no one knows in advance how the case is going to turn out. Nothing is scripted except the details of the alleged crime, narrated by Ken Haslam.

A big problem for producer David Pears was boiling down the actual on-camera work into one hour for telecasting.

Each program is complete in itself. The stories change, the principal actors and actresses change and so do the members of the bar.

On the Evidence premieres on Saturday night, (June 21) at ten. The Best Damn Band in the Land - there's no other way to describe Rob McConnell's Boss Brass, and that's the title of a one hour special on CBC Friday June 20 at 9. If you haven't heard the sound great surging sound of the judge and the clerk of court are supplied by the Ontario branch of the Canadian Bar Association and each one goes through the procedure as though there were no cameras present, exactly the way it is done in Canadian court rooms.

The jurors are chosen at random from the studio audience and no one knows in advance how the case is going to turn out. Nothing is scripted except the details of the alleged crime, narrated by Ken Haslam.

A big problem for producer David Pears was boiling down the actual on-camera work into one hour for telecasting.

Each program is complete in itself. The stories change, the principal actors and actresses change and so do the members of the bar.

On the Evidence premieres on Saturday night, (June 21) at ten. The Best Damn Band in the Land - there's no other way to describe Rob McConnell's Boss Brass, and that's the title of a one hour special on CBC Friday June 20 at 9. If you haven't heard the sound great surging sound of the judge and the clerk of court are supplied by the Ontario branch of the Canadian Bar Association and each one goes through the procedure as though there were no cameras present, exactly the way it is done in Canadian court rooms.

The jurors are chosen at random from the studio audience and no one knows in advance how the case is going to turn out. Nothing is scripted except the details of the alleged crime, narrated by Ken Haslam.

A big problem for producer David Pears was boiling down the actual on-camera work into one hour for telecasting.

Each program is complete in itself. The stories change, the principal actors and actresses change and so do the members of the bar.

On the Evidence premieres on Saturday night, (June 21) at ten. The Best Damn Band in the Land - there's no other way to describe Rob McConnell's Boss Brass, and that's the title of a one hour special on CBC Friday June 20 at 9. If you haven't heard the sound great surging sound of the judge and the clerk of court are supplied by the Ontario branch of the Canadian Bar Association and each one goes through the procedure as though there were no cameras present, exactly the way it is done in Canadian court rooms.

The jurors are chosen at random from the studio audience and no one knows in advance how the case is going to turn out. Nothing is scripted except the details of the alleged crime, narrated by Ken Haslam.

all Canadian 22 piece jazz band, prepare yourself for a treat. It's straight ahead, big band jazz at its finest.

The band is composed of five trombonists (McConnell is boss here) five saxes (Moe Koffman on alto sax), five trumpets (Guido Basso leads the herd) two french horns (one of them plays in the T.S.O.) and a five piece rhythm section (Eddie Bickert on guitar).

McConnell created Boss Brass in '68 and the group has cut five Canadian Talent Library albums - the latest bearing the Best Damn Band in the Land title, after which the show was named.

Rob has worked in New York, played with Maynard Ferguson and later took over Bob Brookmeyer's chair in the Gerry Milligan quartet. He has played with Count Basie on several occasions. The status and drive of his Boss Brass is such that no guest artists or soloists appear on the hour long show Friday night - just McConnell and the cream of the Toronto jazz scene.

Max Ferguson's daily stint came across the sea from Ireland last week. He was apparently impressed with the modern facilities of Radio Telegr Eiran in Dublin. "Quite a change," he mused, "from the former girls' school on Jarvis Street, which is the nerve centre of Canada's broadcast industry."

Remember The Whiteoaks of Jalna, the CBC's massively confusing adaptation of Mazo De La Roche's stories? Don't be surprised if you see it on your hotel TV screen if you're travelling around Europe this summer. Poland and Spain are the latest to purchase the series which has now been sold to seven countries around the world. The series currently runs on the CBC French Network.

The Nature of Things is another export. 18 programs have been sold to Granada TV in Britain and Poland, Norway and Spain have bought others.

Howie Meeker left for his Newfoundland home immediately after the May Stanley Cup games. He carries on his love affair with hockey on a year round basis. Right now, he and a CBC TV crew are filming Howie Meeker's Hockey School for next season.

Allen Funt and his hidden candid cameras must have been the inspiration for CTV's new show, Are You Putting Me On? which begins June 14 at 7. Watch it if you like spontaneous reactions to a dynamite toting stranger asking for a light, or unsuspecting stenographers taking dictation from a mobster played by John Kastner. All will be recorded by hidden cameras. And if you stop to watch a man reeling in fish from a sewer on a Toronto street this summer, be careful what you say.

Smiling Rob McConnell

The best damn band in the land. That's what the CBC calls Rob McConnell and his 22 piece jazz band. The CBC will be showing a one hour special of smiling Rob on Friday, June 20 at 9 p.m. It's big band jazz at its finest. Catch it if you can. It'll make you smile.

purchase the series which has now been sold to seven countries around the world. The series currently runs on the CBC French Network.

The Nature of Things is another export. 18 programs have been sold to Granada TV in Britain and Poland, Norway and Spain have bought others.

Howie Meeker left for his Newfoundland home immediately after the May Stanley Cup games. He carries on his love affair with hockey on a year round basis. Right now, he and a CBC TV crew are filming Howie Meeker's Hockey School for next season.

Allen Funt and his hidden candid cameras must have been the inspiration for CTV's new show, Are You Putting Me On? which begins June 14 at 7. Watch it if you like spontaneous reactions to a dynamite toting stranger asking for a light, or unsuspecting stenographers taking dictation from a mobster played by John Kastner. All will be recorded by hidden cameras. And if you stop to watch a man reeling in fish from a sewer on a Toronto street this summer, be careful what you say.

Remember The Whiteoaks of Jalna, the CBC's massively confusing adaptation of Mazo De La Roche's stories? Don't be surprised if you see it on your hotel TV screen if you're travelling around Europe this summer. Poland and Spain are the latest to purchase the series which has now been sold to seven countries around the world. The series currently runs on the CBC French Network.

The Nature of Things is another export. 18 programs have been sold to Granada TV in Britain and Poland, Norway and Spain have bought others.

Howie Meeker left for his Newfoundland home immediately after the May Stanley Cup games. He carries on his love affair with hockey on a year round basis. Right now, he and a CBC TV crew are filming Howie Meeker's Hockey School for next season.

Allen Funt and his hidden candid cameras must have been the inspiration for CTV's new show, Are You Putting Me On? which begins June 14 at 7. Watch it if you like spontaneous reactions to a dynamite toting stranger asking for a light, or unsuspecting stenographers taking dictation from a mobster played by John Kastner. All will be recorded by hidden cameras. And if you stop to watch a man reeling in fish from a sewer on a Toronto street this summer, be careful what you say.

Remember The Whiteoaks of Jalna, the CBC's massively confusing adaptation of Mazo De La Roche's stories? Don't be surprised if you see it on your hotel TV screen if you're travelling around Europe this summer. Poland and Spain are the latest to purchase the series which has now been sold to seven countries around the world. The series currently runs on the CBC French Network.

The Nature of Things is another export. 18 programs have been sold to Granada TV in Britain and Poland, Norway and Spain have bought others.

Howie Meeker left for his Newfoundland home immediately after the May Stanley Cup games. He carries on his love affair with hockey on a year round basis. Right now, he and a CBC TV crew are filming Howie Meeker's Hockey School for next season.

Allen Funt and his hidden candid cameras must have been the inspiration for CTV's new show, Are You Putting Me On? which begins June 14 at 7. Watch it if you like spontaneous reactions to a dynamite toting stranger asking for a light, or unsuspecting stenographers taking dictation from a mobster played by John Kastner. All will be recorded by hidden cameras. And if you stop to watch a man reeling in fish from a sewer on a Toronto street this summer, be careful what you say.

Remember The Whiteoaks of Jalna, the CBC's massively confusing adaptation of Mazo De La Roche's stories? Don't be surprised if you see it on your hotel TV screen if you're travelling around Europe this summer. Poland and Spain are the latest to purchase the series which has now been sold to seven countries around the world. The series currently runs on the CBC French Network.

The Nature of Things is another export. 18 programs have been sold to Granada TV in Britain and Poland, Norway and Spain have bought others.

Howie Meeker left for his Newfoundland home immediately after the May Stanley Cup games. He carries on his love affair with hockey on a year round basis. Right now, he and a CBC TV crew are filming Howie Meeker's Hockey School for next season.

Allen Funt and his hidden candid cameras must have been the inspiration for CTV's new show, Are You Putting Me On? which begins June 14 at 7. Watch it if you like spontaneous reactions to a dynamite toting stranger asking for a light, or unsuspecting stenographers taking dictation from a mobster played by John Kastner. All will be recorded by hidden cameras. And if you stop to watch a man reeling in fish from a sewer on a Toronto street this summer, be careful what you say.

Remember The Whiteoaks of Jalna, the CBC's massively confusing adaptation of Mazo De La Roche's stories? Don't be surprised if you see it on your hotel TV screen if you're travelling around Europe this summer. Poland and Spain are the latest to purchase the series which has now been sold to seven countries around the world. The series currently runs on the CBC French Network.

The Nature of Things is another export. 18 programs have been sold to Granada TV in Britain and Poland, Norway and Spain have bought others.

Howie Meeker left for his Newfoundland home immediately after the May Stanley Cup games. He carries on his love affair with hockey on a year round basis. Right now, he and a CBC TV crew are filming Howie Meeker's Hockey School for next season.

Allen Funt and his hidden candid cameras must have been the inspiration for CTV's new show, Are You Putting Me On? which begins June 14 at 7. Watch it if you like spontaneous reactions to a dynamite toting stranger asking for a light, or unsuspecting stenographers taking dictation from a mobster played by John Kastner. All will be recorded by hidden cameras. And if you stop to watch a man reeling in fish from a sewer on a Toronto street this summer, be careful what you say.

Remember The Whiteoaks of Jalna, the CBC's massively confusing adaptation of Mazo De La Roche's stories? Don't be surprised if you see it on your hotel TV screen if you're travelling around Europe this summer. Poland and Spain are the latest to purchase the series which has now been sold to seven countries around the world. The series currently runs on the CBC French Network.

The Nature of Things is another export. 18 programs have been sold to Granada TV in Britain and Poland, Norway and Spain have bought others.

Howie Meeker left for his Newfoundland home immediately after the May Stanley Cup games. He carries on his love affair with hockey on a year round basis. Right now, he and a CBC TV crew are filming Howie Meeker's Hockey School for next season.

Allen Funt and his hidden candid cameras must have been the inspiration for CTV's new show, Are You Putting Me On? which begins June 14 at 7. Watch it if you like spontaneous reactions to a dynamite toting stranger asking for a light, or unsuspecting stenographers taking dictation from a mobster played by John Kastner. All will be recorded by hidden cameras. And if you stop to watch a man reeling in fish from a sewer on a Toronto street this summer, be careful what you say.

Remember The Whiteoaks of Jalna, the CBC's massively confusing adaptation of Mazo De La Roche's stories? Don't be surprised if you see it on your hotel TV screen if you're travelling around Europe this summer. Poland and Spain are the latest to purchase the series which has now been sold to seven countries around the world. The series currently runs on the CBC French Network.

The Nature of Things is another export. 18 programs have been sold to Granada TV in Britain and Poland, Norway and Spain have bought others.

Howie Meeker left for his Newfoundland home immediately after the May Stanley Cup games. He carries on his love affair with hockey on a year round basis. Right now, he and a CBC TV crew are filming Howie Meeker's Hockey School for next season.

Allen Funt and his hidden candid cameras must have been the inspiration for CTV's new show, Are You Putting Me On? which begins June 14 at 7. Watch it if you like spontaneous reactions to a dynamite toting stranger asking for a light, or unsuspecting stenographers taking dictation from a mobster played by John Kastner. All will be recorded by hidden cameras. And if you stop to watch a man reeling in fish from a sewer on a Toronto street this summer, be careful what you say.

How to afford to eat

by Shirley Whittington

What is the Government doing about high food prices? For one thing, the Ministry of Consumer and Corporate Affairs is publishing a four page leaflet called Consumer Contact, which is available to anyone, free of charge, in French or English.

The April issue carried some information on roasting less tender (and therefore cheaper) cuts of meat and an article on vegetable gardening which closed with the following advice: "Plant your onions, potatoes and tomatoes close to each other. Then, when the onions cause the eyes of the potatoes to water, the water will drop on the tomatoes and help them to grow big and juicy."

Consumer Contact will arrive in your mailbox if you write to the following address: The Consumer, Box 99, Ottawa, Hull, K1N 8P9. You might as well, you're paying for its publication.

Strawberries should be happening any time now. As well as being incredibly delicious, fresh strawberries are high in vitamin C. Canada's daily recommended daily allowance of vitamin C is 30 mg, and you can get that, delightfully, in six large berries.

If you have one of those annual pot luck things to go to this spring, why not take along a fresh Strawberry Bavarian Pie. Here's how you make it:

- 1 package (3 oz.) Jell-O Strawberry Jelly Powder
 - 1 2/3 cups boiling water
 - 2 tablespoons sugar
 - 2 cups frozen whipped topping, thawed
 - 1 baked 9 inch crumb crust, cooled
 - 1 1/2 cups fresh strawberry halves
- Dissolve the jelly powder in boiling water. Remove 1/2 cup of it and chill until slightly thickened.

A tasty treat

Fold the slightly thickened jelly and sugar into the whipped topping. Chill again, if necessary, until the mixture mounds.

Line bottom and sides of crumb crust with the whipped topping mixture, mounding high around the edge. Chill.

Meanwhile chill remaining jelly until slightly thickened and stir in strawberries.

Spoon into the whipped topping lined crust without covering the rim around the edge.

Chill at least three hours, until it's firm enough to carry out to the pot luck supper without slopping all over the place.

Now here's the HC money saving hint for this week. When you're finished barbecuing, douse the remaining coals with a squirt of water from an empty detergent container. The charcoal can be used for the next barbecue. Anyway, who needs that glowing heat after the cooking's finished?

crossword answer

5-17/18-75

FLAME	GRUFF	TART	DEPT
ROBOT	HAZOR	AMUSE	OVINE
AN AG	AG ER	NORSE	AA
WEM	HEMP	HONK	HUNOR
ERUS	EPIC	HOAD	GER PAWS
MIRAGE	WHIM	DASH
CANARY	KAPP	MART	MEWEE
ADORE	SEALER	LEADWARD
RANT	JARN	TOD	TITERS
AGE	GANS	VENDS	WAS PUEN
TESTATE	AW	MUMOR	WJSC
ASH	THE	PAT	PRO
SCANN	GNASH	HEM	SUMPER
PORK	GAT	BAGGER	SHAW
AM	SUBBS	SEA	HOW
ESTEEH	HARCH	AVAREN	SUSIDE
ESTEEN	NOET	EVOE	TEND
ADDS	WHAY	ARTISTE
GLAW	HAP	BBRY	NORA
LAX	OTTER	GARS	FORM
UG	EG	INURE	TO
VERSE	RALES	SUCIF	SAFER
ERASE	ELECT	TOTED	TRADE

BAYFIELD MALL

HARDWARE BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY

Surveys have continually shown a strong demand for a full line hardware store at Bayfield Mall. Retail space is available in units up to 10,000 sq. ft. at excellent terms. Join the successful merchants at Bayfield Mall. Inquire today.

For further information call:

William Buckley, Mgr.
Toronto (416) 270-0330
Barrie (705) 726-7632

Pretty Water Pools

PONDEX
Quality Inground Vinyl Pools

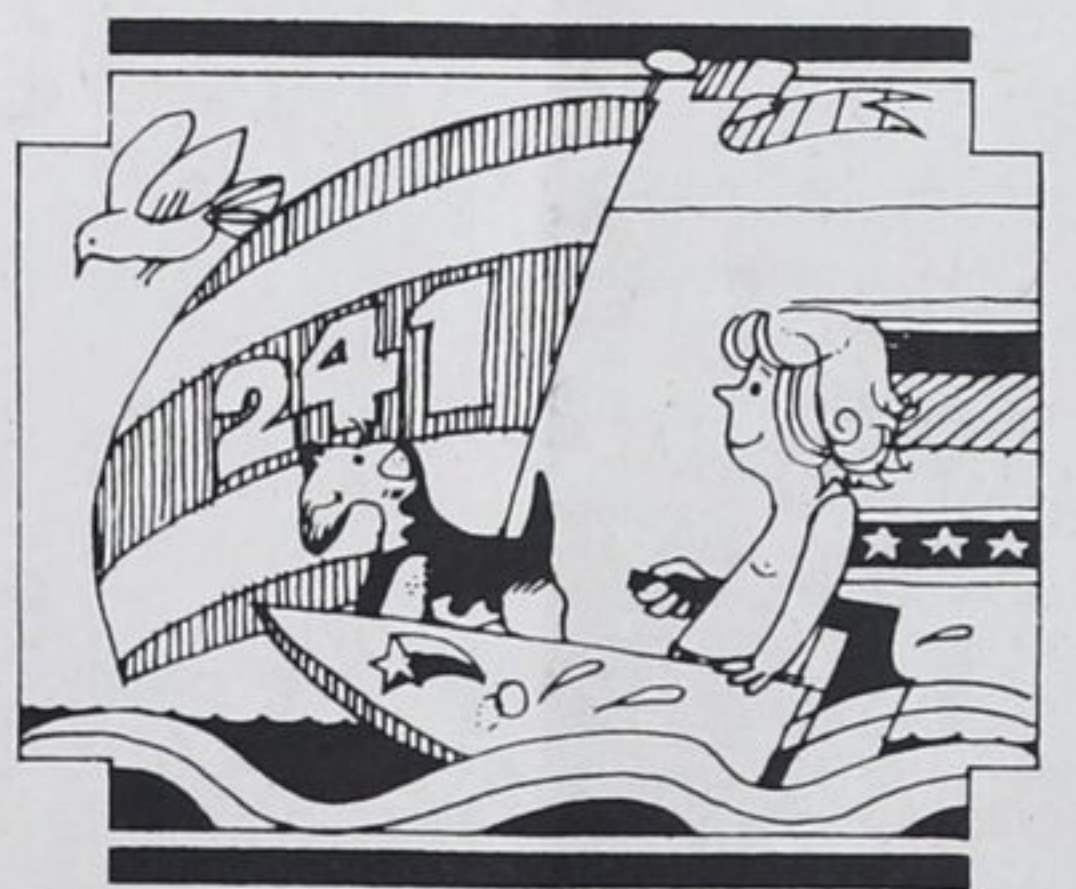

SERENDIPETY
Above Ground Redwood Pools

Let our expert Pool Smiths install your new pool this spring or take advantage of our Cash & Carry prices on Pool Kits, Chemicals & Accessories.

FOR MORE INFORMATION OR FREE ESTIMATE CALL

Pretty Water Construction Ltd.
726-1059 BARRIE

Earn extra holiday cash this summer

Make your summer spare-time hours more interesting and profitable by having a Toronto Star summer route. Routes are now available in the following area(s):

Christy Beach and all Georgian Bay Beaches

We'll get you started and tell you all you need to know. And the newspapers will be delivered to a convenient pick-up point. Reserve your route right now.

Simply complete and mail the coupon below.

Mail to: The Toronto Star
BOX 503
ORILLIA, ONTARIO

I am interested in becoming a Toronto Star summer carrier.

My name: _____
Address: _____
Town: _____ Code: _____
Telephone: _____

If you are 65 or older and have lived here for the past year, most prescription drugs can be free.

This is what Ontario is doing for you to get them.

Ontario residents not receiving Old Age Security.

If you are 65 or older, and have lived in Ontario for at least the past year but less than 10 years, you too are entitled to Ontario's prescription drug benefits. But because we don't know who you are, you'll have to apply for the drug benefit card - at your pharmacy or from the Ministry of Health. After you're enrolled, you'll automatically receive your drug benefit card.

Here's how Drug Benefit works.

There are more than 1,500 prescription drugs listed in the Ministry of Health's Drug Benefit Formulary. When you visit a physician or dentist, tell him your quality for the Drug Benefit so that he can prescribe medication from the Formulary. Then, give your Drug Benefit Card to the pharmacist. Your pharmacist will keep your card. But you can have it returned - in case you move or want to go to a different pharmacy.

No cost to you.

When you get your prescription, you pay nothing. The pharmacist will be paid by your Ontario government.

In Ontario, we wish you the best of health. And we're doing something about it. So if you need to apply (and most people don't), pick up your Drug Benefit application form at your pharmacy, or write to:

Ministry of Health
Drug Benefit
Queen's Park
Toronto, Ontario M7A 2S3

For more information, telephone (free of charge) by dialing "0" and asking the operator for Zenith 8-2000. Residents within the Metro Toronto local calling area should dial 965-8470.

Ministry of Health
Frank Miller, Minister

Effective August 1, we have a new law in Ontario. It will allow almost everyone who is 65 or older and has been an Ontario resident for at least the past 12 months to receive most prescription drugs free.

That means prescriptions written by physician or dentist and filled in Ontario. Only those drugs listed in Ontario's Drug Benefit Formulary are free.

Here is who is eligible:

Ontario residents who receive Old Age Security.

If you are 65 or older and are presently receiving an Old Age Security cheque from the federal government, you will automatically receive your new Drug Benefit Eligibility Card before August 1. (And, of course, if you are already getting a drug benefit card, you will continue to get one.) You don't have to do anything about it.

Government of Ontario
William Davis, Premier