Quite a mouthful

That's quite a mouthful for 12-year-old Keith Kennedy, a scout from the Second Midland pack who sold the most chocolate bars, mints, and mixed nuts in the cubs and scouts recent blitz. A grade six student at Sacred Heart school, Keith sold $248 worth of the sweets and won himself a seven pound Hershey chocolate bar. Keith, who reassured us that he wouldn't eat it all at once, lives on William Street in Midland.

Pensions increased

Increases in the Old Age Security Pension, Guaranteed Income Supplement and Spouse's Allowance, effective in April 1976, were announced recently by Health and Welfare Minister Marc Lalonde.

Increases in Old Age Security Pension and Guaranteed Income Supplement payments represent the tenth quarterly escalation based on the cost of living, as provided for in the Old Age Security Act.

The new monthly total at the single rate for persons receiving both the basic Old Age Security pension and maximum Guaranteed Income Supplement will be $230.42.

For a married couple who are both pensioners, the combination of the basic pension and maximum supplement will provide a payment of $439.56 for the couple monthly.

The basic Old Age Security pension will rise in April to $135.43 from the present $132.90.

The maximum Guaranteed Income Supplement for a single person, or a married person whose spouse is not a pensioner and is not receiving a Spouse's Allowance, will go up in April to $94.99 from its current $93.22. The maximum supplement for a married couple, both pensioners, will increase to $84.35 each from $82.78. Added to the basic pension, this will give each married pensioner $219.78 monthly, or a total of $439.56 for the couple.

The maximum Spouse's Allowance will increase to $219.78 from $215.68. The maximum Spouse's Allowance is made up of an amount equivalent to the basic Old Age Security pension and an amount equivalent to the maximum Guaranteed Income Supplement at the married rate.
