

C'était le premier juin

Oyé, le recensement est urgent !

Rejeanne Guay-Galbraith
C'est le premier juin 1976 qu'aura lieu le recensement canadien organisé par Statistique Canada. Selon la loi des langues officielles les questionnaires sont disponibles en français et Des directeurs régionaux responsables du recensement, auraient affirmé que, contrairement aux années passées, des conclusions affectant les politiques linguistiques du gouvernement fédéral seront établies à partir du nombre de questionnaire complétées en français.

L'ACFO s'inquiète de cette situation puisque la population francophone l'ignore et que les questionnaires en langue française ne sont probablement pas facilement disponibles dans certaines régions de l'Ontario.

L'ACFO lance donc un urgent appel aux francophones de l'Ontario pour qu'ils exigent et utilisent des questionnaires en langue française. L'ACFO compte encore une fois sur la participation de tous (média, bénévoles, associations) pour faire connaître cette situation et tenter de la corriger dans les quelques jours disponibles.

L'influence

L'influence de l'anglais sur la forme des mots français

Quant des termes anglais passent en français il y a souvent une amputation des termes anglais.

Par exemple, rock n' roll. Nous allons dans un self (en anglais) on dit a self service restaurant.

Bien souvent on emploie des mots qui sont parfaitement français, mais nous donnons un sens anglais aux termes.

Contrôler - le contrôleur passe dans le train pour s'assurer que les gens ont bien leur billet, mais contrôler n'est pas un synonyme pour "diriger" comme en anglais.

"Compléter une formule" n'est pas correct, on dit remplir une formule. Caraïbes devient les Antilles - Caraïbes est plus vaste qu'Antilles, le nord de l'Amérique du Sud fait partie des Caraïbes.

Voici trois exemples intéressants: changer - Tout le monde change (faux); Tout le monde descend charger: Combien chargez-vous? (faux); Combien prenez-vous (correction ou demandez-vous).

Circulation: La circulation d'un journal (faux); le tirage d'un journal (correction)

On dit la circulation d'une voiture

Civique - employés civiques (faux); employés municipaux (correction).

On dit: "avoir l'esprit civique, des vertus civiques, des qualités civiques".

AND THAT'S THE NEWS FOR TONIGHT!

More than any other news medium, the local newspaper is identified with your community and is relied upon by almost every family in your town.
