November the time to choose and plant corn

Perhaps the next step should be a look at the Ontario Corn Committees report for 1976. In this report information is given for each hybrid on stalk strength, moisture at harvest and acre yields. This information is collected at fourteen locations across Southern Ontario and is quite a reliable guide.

If you would like a copy of this report to assist you with your choice of seed, please call the Agricultural Office.

Sheep production meeting
Sheep producers in the Simcoe and Muskoka-Parry Sound zone are invited to attend an Information Night being held at the Ministry Office in Elmvalle on November 24, 1976.

The meeting gets underway at 8:00 p.m. and features speakers and a panel on the topics of lamb marketing, winter feeding, and producing breed stock.

Farm Tax Seminar
Each fall, the OMAF holds a series of seminars across Ontario on the topic of Farm Taxes and Estate Planning. The Seminars provide an opportunity for an exchange of ideas among lawyers, and accountants who service the farmers' tax needs.

The Seminar for our area will be held on November 25th at the Nottawasaga Inn, Alliston. The registration fee is $12.00. Enrolment forms are available at the County Agricultural Offices.

Paying Wages to Family Members?
November is usually a good time to bring the farm records up to date. One question that is frequently asked at this time of year is "What do we do about paying wages to family members for their summer work?"

The age of the child is the first consideration. If under 16, a child can earn up to $1407 and still be claimed as a full dependent. If over 16 a child can earn up to $1472 and still be considered a dependent.

All employers have a responsibility to submit T4 forms for their employees once wages paid exceeds $250. In addition to wages the T4 requests information on Income Tax, Canada Pension Plan and Unemployment Insurance.

Selecting corn seed
November is usually the time farmers start shopping for next year's corn seed. There are a great many varieties offered by an increasing number of companies.

Hybrid corn should be selected first on its heat unit rating. In North Simcoe this is around 2600. The next consideration is the type of hybrid. Is it a single cross, double cross, three way cross or modified cross? Single crosses are usually considered better for a grain corn system.

Costumes highlight Players' Devil's Disciple

by Shirley Whittington
The Huronia Players will be exceedingly well dressed for their next production, The Devil's Disciple, by George Bernard Shaw.

Their costumes will be the same ones worn by Shaw Festival Players for their touring production of the same play.

These days, those players who aren't actively involved on stage in rehearsal can frequently be found backstage admiring the impressive wardrobe - two dozen or more outfits - loaned to them by the professional troupe.

The costumes are absolutely authentic replicas of what would have been worn in New Hampshire village in 1777. The gowns are lined, boned, hand tucked and delicately trimmed with lace and fur. The men's suits are faultlessly tailored, and come complete with hose, boots, vests, and shirts. The tricorne hats are made of real felt, and the cloaks for both men and women and heavy, full and sweeping.

Nothing has been overlooked. At one point in the script, General Bourgoyne is required to look at his watch. His costume came complete with a chained, ormulued watch in the pocket.

The uniforms of the British officers were made by the same tailor (Sheldon Kasman) who outfitted the "soldiers" at the reconstructed Military Establishment at Penetanguishene.

The play, a melodrama, is one of Shaw's Three Plays for Puritans. ("I think" says Shaw, "That I have always been a Puritan in my attitude toward Art.")

The cast is large, and gives 23 Players an opportunity to demonstrate their skill with the witty Shavian dialogue. There is also a large group of townspeople, young and old. Lead parts are taken by Nora Thompson, Bill McNery, Bill Hanna, Julie Noack, Eric Rothwell and Trish McConnell. Dick, the Devil's Disciple, is played by McNery, who admits that although he was brought up in the other service, he knew from the first that the Devil was his natural master and friend. What does Anthony Anderson, the Presbyterian minister make of this? You'll have to see the play to find out. It could be said that no noose is good news.

Shaw plays his usual tricks, and attacks hypocrisy, joylessness and militarism with sardonic wit.

Not the least of the challenges presented to director Joan Hanna and producer May Williams was the set for Devil's Disciple. The three acts take place respectively in a farm house, a "fairly grand" Presbyterian manse, and a military headquarters. A fireplace which could be moved, and instantly changed in character was one ingenious solution to the problem. Shaw's Disciple has taken a devilish amount of work and attention to detail to produce. You can see the result on November 26 and 27, and December 3 and 4, at Sacred Heart School. Curtain time is eight p.m.

Huronia Players will be dressed in authentic period style for their next play "The Devil's Disciple" by George Bernard Shaw. All costumes worn are on loan from the Shaw Festival's production of the same play which toured the US last year.

WHAT IS QUALITY?

Our dictionary defines quality as a "degree of excellence" and it is on these words that we have based the goals of our pharmacy. This not only applies to medicines and other products but to the type of service we try to give to every customer.

Quality is an attitude that we strive for in the appearance of our pharmacy and the appearance of those who work here. Auality is our goal when filling a prescription, talking to a physician or selecting an over-the-counter medicine. If you want quality, we think you will find it in our pharmacy.

"A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions, health needs and other pharmacy products. We consider this trust a privilege and a duty. May we be your personal family pharmacy?"
