The First of 3 Articles by Lloyd Skeaf

YMCA Tax Services

Last April 80,000 Old Age Security pensioners across Canada experienced confusion, anxiety, and even financial hardship when they didn't receive their monthly cheques or were sent ones for the wrong amount. The cause was mistakes and misunderstandings by the pensioners and the Federal government concerning a certain government form. The form was the Application For Guaranteed Income Supplement. It will soon be mailed again to all Old Age Security pensioners.

No other "Piece of Paper" Is As Important To Tens of Thousands Of Pensioners. It Can Affect As Much As 50 per cent Of Their Inomces.

To help pensioners to do their best to avoid an upsetting experience in 1977, the YMCA Tax Services has prepared 3 articles. In them we show why and how the Application For Guaranteed Income Supplement is so important. We also try to clear up some things that puzzle many pensioners, such as: Why is the 'Old Age cheque' larger for some people than for others? How is that one person gets a Guaranteed Income Supplement and another doesn't? What's the reason some pensioners don't? Why is the 'GAINS cheque' not the same amount for everyone? How does the government know what to pay different pensioners? Why does the government send me an Application For Guaranteed Income Supplement? What should I do with it?

The 3 articles are not official government statements. We merely try to explain things in ways we have found helpful while assisting 3000 - 4000 pensioners in the past 2 years.

If the Federal government increases the BASIC amount when the cost of living goes up, the BASIC amount will still be the government never decreases the BASIC amount). Then why are the 'Old Age cheques'

> As it happens many private income which when it is combined with their BASIC Old Age her 'Old Age cheque' Security pension provides an adequate to an excellent income. However, $1.00 and Henry had no not all pensioners are so fortunate. The Federal government recognizes this. Therefore, it says, in effect, that, if a person's her BASIC Old Age applied to the extra money. The G.I.S. supplement is paid by the Federal government. If a pensioner qualifies for some G.I.S. (Guaranteed Income Supplement), the extra amount is added on to his BASIC Old Age Security pension. That means his monthly 'Old Age cheque' is bound to amount to more than the basic Old Age Security pension. It also means that if a person is paid some G.I.S (Guaranteed Income Supplement) and her Age cheque' will be larger

C show why this happens. George was entitled to a Basic pension of $132.00 cheque' for $226.00. Jane had $74.00 G.I.S. added to her BASIC pension. So amounted to $206.00. Hilda was paid G.I.S. of

For money. Provided the one thing, the Old Age person applies for it. The Security department of Guaranteed Income the Federal government uses 4 different tables of figures in determining how much G.I.S. to pay. But, before that, the Old Age Security department must find out a number of things about each pensioner such as: What is the pensioner's marital status? Did he or she have any income last year? How much? Where did it come from? If the pensioner is married, did his or her spouse have any income? How much?

The Application For Guaranteed Income Supplement

Where from?

The Old Age Security department must obtain the above information from a pensioner in order to decide fairly whether the person should be paid some Guaranteed Income Supplement. Every January pensioners are sent an Application which they are asked to report certain information on and then return to the Federal government. When the Old Age Security department gets the Application back it then is able to calculate how much, if any, G.I.S. supplement to pay to each

No other "Piece of Paper: Is As Important To the Lives of Thousands of Pensioners."

When a pensioner fails to return the Application, gets a bigger 'Old Age the government doesn't know whether he or she is Column B and Column qualified to be paid some Guaranteed Income Supplement. So it doesn't pay any. That's not the and a G.I.S. (Guaranteed worst that can happen! If Income Supplement) of the pensioner had been $94. which was added to receiving some G.I.S. his pension. Therefore, he supplement and didn't received an 'Old Age return the Application the government would stop paying the supplement, until the pensioner returned the up-todate Application. That's what happened to many people last April.

In the next article of this series we'll describe why the Application is doubly important to Old Age Security pensioners who live in Ontario. We'll also explain why some people receive a second and different supplement of dollars, he or she may but the difficulty is it's from the Ontario government, and we'll show why some people failed to receive their Gains cheque last April.
