MSS students learn on-the-job in one week work experience program

Midland Secondary School is following Education week with a work experience program for some Senior students taking Business Education subjects.

For many years the businessmen and professionals in Midland have greatly assisted in the education of students graduating from the Business Education Courses. The success of the program last year was quite evident from comments of those students who participated.

This annual program succeeds because of the tremendous cooperation of local professionals and businessmen in the community.

This year initial requests were so generously accepted that MSS had more opportunities than students to take advantage of them.

Although this week's practical experience has been primarily designed for clerical and secretarial students, positive response has allowed some of our senior accounting students to participate in a specialized experience in the accounting sections of local business.

Students are working a regular work week where possible and are still responsible for maintaining their academic instruction. They do not receive any remuneration. They are working for the variety of office experiences, insight into job functions and a crash course in human relations which cannot be duplicated in the classroom. These elements help them whether they are seeking office employment after graduation or after post-secondary business education programs.

This year approximately 30 students and 27 firms or professional offices will be participating.

Lost crest re-made

Two weeks ago the Midland Times carried an article about a local artisan who, using only a drawing, was carving an old, lost family crest for the Schrader family of Port Severn. That crest is now finished, except for painting, and on Saturday artist Merylyn Barnes showed the efforts of two weeks work to the three generations of Schraders: James in the centre, grandfather Erwin and Fred Schrader. "I am speechless. I have never seen a piece of workmanship like this."

Nurses Alumnae plan May 7 rummage sale

by Rena Bell
The regular meeting of the Community Registered Nurses Alumnae was held in the H.D.H. Dining Room, Monday April 11th. The meeting had a three fold plan. First - the business portion of the meeting was held. Secondly, several groups were formed headed by members of the staff and a conducted tour of the hospital was made which was most informative and interesting especially to those who are not on the staff of H.D.H. Third - the girls enjoyed a social hour in the form of a wine and cheese party. One main point of business was the planning of a rummage sale to be held Saturday, May 7th in St. Margaret's Hall. Doors open 10.00 a.m.

The next regular meeting of the Alumnae will be held May 9th in the H.D.H. Dining Room. Program - Alcoholism and the work of the Detox Centre. This will be a panel discussion headed by Father McTague.

LADIES! LECTURED FOR THE FIRST TIME IN MIDLAND!

SEWING NEWS

By Elisabeth Veith

Heinz Bludau, internationally known author, lecturer and designer has created a basic system whereby anybody can now make perfect-fitting patterns simply by referring to the figures set out for her.

"My dresses always look home made," is now a lament of the past. Mr. B. has traveled the world teaching his amazing method of pattern making.

"Everyone makes it so difficult. Why start with a pattern that is all wrong and try to right it, when the logical procedure is to start with your individual fit?"

"At first they're very skeptical," he says, "but you should hear them when the pattern is tried on and fits perfectly."

And the absolute beauty of it is — it takes almost no learning!

Miraculously, and for reasons known only to mathematicians, the final answer is still — your own proportions worked out to scale.

With the cost of living continually on the rise, it's no wonder that women flock to attend his lectures. Not only do they learn to cut their own patterns, thereby making a great saving, but he also nonchalantly drops such gems as how to change the line of a basic pattern by moving a dart or adding a side-panel.
