Standing room only at Huronia Players' 'Paint Your Wagon'

by Shirley Whittington
There was standing room only last Friday night in Sacred Heart auditorium at the Huronia Players' production of Paint Your Wagon, by Lerner and Loewe. In fact late comers had to be turned away - there just wasn't any more room.
This happened several times during the play's four night run. Midland loves musical comedy, and Paint Your Wagon was received with tremendous enthusiasm.
Paint Your Wagon is not Lerner and Loewe's best musical. The songs are mediocre and aside from a lively can-can by some high kicking dancing girls, the action seems to consist mainly of people standing around in clumps.
However, the Players pulled their Wagon off with great skill and polish. Backed by a solidly dependable musical ensemble (Nancy Capps, piano; Tom Plant, guitar; Brian Kitemetry, base guitar; Larry Huth, banjo; Jim McConnell, drums) the male chorus was resonantly robust, and the many solo bits were delivered with confidence and excellent diction.

Cheryl Smith, playing Jennifer Rumson, deserves special praise. Her singing voice was warm and sweet, and every phrase she sang was clear and meaningful.
The vocal highlight of the evening was the trio between Jacob (Ed Guthrie) Sarah (Jris McInerney) and Elizabeth (Cindy Kelly). The three sang an evening prayer together in gentle harmony, then each of the ladies stepped aside for some nasty (the singing) counterpoint.
Mike MacVittie was impressive in his solo, They Call the Wind Maria, and as an offstage voice in the last scene.
Other vocalists - Bill McInerney, Richard Gorell, Glenn Campbell, Alan Drysdale, and Raymond Holt, did so well that several members of the audience commented at intermission, that they didn't know there was so much talent in our community.

Choral director Janet French gets full marks for inspiring a polished performance.
Simple set - almost stark - and one wonders why in the barroom scenes, tables and chairs weren't provided for the weary miners.
Directors Lynn Gorell and Raymond Holt made good use of off-stage exits and entrances. This play gave the audience a good look at the dazzling ladies of the night - Catherine Gignac, Jean Kelly, Karen Redditt, Saskia Van Toledo and Florence Brock.
The biggest mystery of the night was the quill pen with which storekeeper Murray Tyndall wrote out a bill of sale. Was it a fountain quill pen? Or did Tyndall have a pot of ink concealed in his vest pocket? This is a minor quibble. John Hansler was so evil and commanding as Raymond Janney, awaiting that bill of sale that it didn't matter how it was drawn up.

Others in the cast of Paint Your Wagon included Alan Drysdale, Stephen Hartnell, Stephen Quesnelle, Elmer Vuorimaki, Marshall Hubbard, Peter LaCroix, Peter Knight, Keith McNally, Bill Nieuwland, Marc McInerney, Chipper Thompson and Gord Redman.
Paint Your Wagon closes what surely must have been one of the most successful Huronia Players' seasons so far. There's no word yet on whether a musical comedy will be part of next season's fare, but if it is - be warned - you'll have to be there early if you want a seat.

Plant care talk at St. James tomorrow, June 2

Buying a plant to decorate your home is easy to do but caring for the plant properly can sometimes present problems. On Thursday night at 8 p.m. in the Anglican Church Women are having a guest speaker from Bradford to talk about different kinds of plants and how to care for them. Plants will also be on sale.

The action takes place at the St. James Church Hall on Church St. in Penetanguishene. For tickets call Mrs. Nellie Grigg at 549-8850.

Women's Day at Midland YMCA June 2

A day of learning is being provided by the Midland YMCA and Georgian College. 'Focus on Women' Day on June 2 will zero in on a number of topics which may interest women. Guest speakers will be directing seminars on subjects such as creative play, women and the law, relaxation in the home and office, housewives plus more.
Noon hour movies will be part of the program and for the evening they've slated a guest speaker from the Ontario Status of Women Council. Beverly Kirkpatrick's talk will include several of her concerns, stereotyping in children's school books, female's rights to sport facilities and protecting the individuality of retarded children.
Edith Weber, teacher at Georgian College in Barrie, will be guest speaker at the Women's Day and will be speaking on women in various fields including literature and media.
"We hope that this day will have a spin-off, long-range effect," Ellie Van Der Heuvel of Georgian College in Penetanguishene says. "We're hoping that, with a lot of public input, it could become an annual event."
Focus on Women Day is open to all who wish to attend.

YMCA news

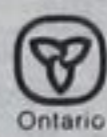

This year we had 5717 contacts with Simcoe North residents on low income. This was an increase of 1035 over 1976. Midland activities were up 58 per cent over 1976 season. Total contacts for: Midland 1977 - 1,276; 1976-810; 1975-656.
Thus, this service is necessary, and a growing need but funding assistance is vital.
The Midland Y.M.C.A. will be running a Ladies Recreation Softball league this summer. Registrations are now being accepted for any of those 16 and over interested in a fun evening out.

First game to start on Friday, June 10th at 6:30 p.m. and don't forget to please supply your own glove. Games will be played each and every Friday following from 6:30 - 8:00 p.m. See you then.

Midland Y's Men's Summer Program 77 is both educational and recreational and offers fun, fellowship, and understanding of the outdoor life for those 6 to 15 yrs.
The playground operates for those 6 to 8

yrs. at Little Lake Park during the month of July. One director along with 10 program people work together to give your son or daughter a summer to remember. Some programming and activities included are rowing, swimming instruction, crafts, games, parents nights, and many more fun filled events.
Day camp
The day camp operates for those 9 to 11 yrs. at Georgian Sands Park, Lafontaine, which operates also during the month of July. Both campers and staff are based daily from the Y.M.C.A. to the park in Lafontaine at 9 a.m. sharp. Again, one director and seven staff are hired to plan programs, and events for your youngsters. The campers are involved in: canoeing, archery, nature study, sleep-outs, games, crafts and many other activities. To avoid disappointment register now as some sessions are filling up quickly.
The Adventure Club a program for boys and girls aged 12 to 15 yrs. consists of a training program followed by a three day canoe trip.

Two trips have been organized, one operates from Aug. 2 to the 5th and the other from Aug. 8 to the 12th.
The Young canoeist will be trained in area such as water safety, camp crafts, canoeing techniques, tenting etc. followed by a 30 mile trip.
Registration operates on a first come, first serve bases so please register early. For further details contact Anne Bourgeois at 526-7828.

Texaco's Marfak AP Grease: the more you buy the less you pay for your grease gun.

Marfak AP is the ideal year-round lubricant. It has excellent resistance to water washing and superior high-load carrying ability.
Buy two cartons of our Marfak AP year-round lubricant and you can get a trigger grease-gun or a lever gun at a special saving.
Buy six or more cartons of Marfak AP and the price of our grease guns is even more attractive. It makes sense to use Marfak AP cartridges. And now it makes more sense to save on the price of our guns.

Elect GEORGE TAYLOR and a Progressive Conservative Government And you'll win ..

strong representation in the legislature

If you believe, as I do, that the most basic issue of this or any other election is personal freedom, not socialism, then I ask you to return a Progressive Conservative government of June 9, with a strong mandate.

If you believe, as I do, that senior citizens have earned the right to a secure old age, free from anxiety and financial stress, that young people have the right to affordable housing in which to raise their children, that all of us have a right to work in whatever capacity we function best, that farmers have the right to grow and produce, and to bequeath the fruits of their lifetime labours to their children, that every child has the right to learn at his or her own rate, that the disabled, the blind, the deaf, the single-parent mother and children, deserve our help, then you believe as George Taylor believes.

And if you agree that small business and big business, which are the backbone of this economy, have the right to expand and employ workers, that there is only one class of people in Ontario and that's first class, that we are all people, working and living together - as individuals - not lumped collectively as robots. If you believe in these, then you believe in the Progressive Conservative way of life.

If you believe in these things, then we will all win on June 9.

G. Taylor
