Sailing learned best by doing

by Pat McGee
Gliding along the water in a sailboat appears easy to the untrained eye. However, there are a lot of ins and outs to be learned before smooth manipulation of the boat is achieved.
On July 4 the Midland

Bay Sailing Club kicked off the new season of sailing lessons for adults and youngsters. They are offered in Midland and Penetanguishene.

Sailing is one of those subjects which is best understood by doing rather than studying and this is what makes the courses enjoyable. The club has four Flipper Scows, two Sunfish and a Puffer to instruct on and most of the instruction is on the water.

Some people are taking the course to improve their skills and others are learning the basics for the first time. One of the first skills to be learned is how to upright a tipped boat. This way, if the boat does tip accidentally the sailing students wouldn't panic but have it bobbing upright in no time.

Those new to sailing will soon be adding words like "tacking" and "jibing" to their vocabulary.

There are both junior and adult programs taught by four summer students, two from university and two from secondary school. There will be four junior sessions and they run Monday to Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. July 18-29 Penetanguishene, Aug. 1-12 Midland, Aug. 15-26 Penetanguishene.

The adult programs are slated for Monday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings plus Saturday mornings. On the Saturday mornings training will be given on the larger sailboats owned by members of the sailing club.

More information can be obtained by calling Bob McVean 526-9580 or Ron Marchildon 549-7453.

Time to bail out

Camera Club executive elected

Victor Denise is the newly elected President of the Midland and District Camera Club. His executive assistants for the 1977-78 season are Bob Rhem vice-President; Carl Scott, Treasurer and Secretaries Jessie Kettle and Betty Carter. Membership, communications and publicity will be in the hands of Gordon MacKay. Bryson McQuirter Jr. will be in charge of competition.

The Midland and District Camera Club does not meet during the summer. However regular meetings will resume in the fall. For further information about club activities, call Victor Denise, at 526-7718.

Helping hand

Sailing instructor Alan deLange helps these sailing students get their Sunfish out into the bay. The students bring a life-jacket, sneakers and a change of clothes and the rest of the equipment is supplied. Staff photo
