Eady celebrates Queen's Silver Jubilee with parade, pot luck supper

by E. Lorraine Orr
The community of Eady held their own celebrations for the Queen's Silver Jubilee beginning with a children's costume parade to the Community Hall led by drummer Jeff Thatcher. Teenager Jean Morton played God Save the Queen on her accordion to open the ceremonies. The ladies of the Eady Institute presented the community with a flag and flagpole which was erected beside the hall. The dedication service was conducted by Jim Bell and Geordie Kent with Mrs. Rita Whiston offering the prayer.

for the best float in the parade and the best costume. Each child from age 1 to 16 received a special plate commemorating the Queen's Jubilee.

Following a pot luck supper, Norman Campbell of Orillia showed slides of New Zealand, Australia, the Changing of the Guard at Buckingham Palace as well as pictures of the Jubilee celebrations which he had taken as they were shown on his television screen.

Adventure / 77 is a day camp program which is operating in Tay Township from June 27 - August 13. Sponsored by the Ministry of Culture and Recreation this is the second year for the popular program. Registration fees are $3.00 for the camp and $7.00 per child if they wish to be included in the daily swimming program at the "Y" in Midland.

There is a pre-school (ages 4-5) program each morning as well as an all day program for juniors (4-8) and seniors (9-15). The registration is very good with 58 at Waverley and 48 seniors and 46 juniors at Vasey. Waubausene is to have only one week of camp, later in August, as they have been operating a swimming program each day.

The children are involved in a variety of activities, such as arts and crafts, archery, nature hikes, learning how to read a compass and orienteering. Kites have been made and go-carts constructed. A "Mutt Show" was a highlight with the dogs in costumes. One pooch was dressed as a member of the Blue Jay Baseball team. A variety pet show ranged from gerbils to a homing pigeon that flew in the wrong direction to a pet rock.

The very competent senior councillors are Cheryl Duffy and Cathy Snider. Their able assistants are Connie Cunningham, Ellen Jones and Devin Curry.

The people responsible for organizing these camps are Mrs. Bunny Snider, Mrs. Carol Graham and Mrs. June Lok.

During the last week of camp there will be a corn roast to which all parents will be invited so they may view their children's crafts.

Special birthday celebrations were held for two Coldwater residents last week. Roy Galbraith met with friends in honor of his 88th birthday, and Harry Stonehouse was honored with a buffet dinner on the occasion of his 83rd birthday.

Travelling to Pelee Point, Mrs. Gladys Dale spent several days with her husband Harry. Mr. Dale is a helicopter pilot

Coldwater Official Plan prepares for growth

by E. Lorraine Orr
Coldwater's Official Plan was the topic at an open meeting held at the council chambers last week. Although the meeting had been well announced in advance, very few residents attended.

George Robert, a representative of the consulting firm of Windland Associates Engineering Ltd. was on hand to explain in detail the many aspects of the plan and how it will affect Coldwater residents.

An official plan designates the use of land by zoning. Coldwater's plan covers the whole of the area which presently comprises the corporate limits of the Village.

A survey by the TASK force indicates Midland and Orillia will each grow in population to 80,000 by the year 2011. Coldwater is approximately in the middle of the two and will certainly be affected.

Mr. Roberts explained that an official plan helps keep a balance of future growth, meeting the needs of present and future. It is an overall frame of reference to guide land-use development for the individual or developer in Coldwater until 1991.

The zoning is not to curtail a person from doing what he wishes with his own land but to protect each person from undesirable workings beside him.

At present Coldwater has 147 acres of vacant land. Of this 105 acres are within the Village, and 42 acres are rural. A breakdown indicates 12 acres are existing lots without buildings, rivers and their
