Junior Kings undefeated in three starts, win one, tie one in weekend hockey action

The Penetanguishene Chemical Valley Junior Kings finished the weekend of play with their unbeaten record intact, as they defeated Huntsville 7-4 Friday night, and tied Parry Sound 4-4 Sunday afternoon.

In Friday night's game, played in Huntsville, Huntsville took an early two goal lead, on goals by Hazelton and Kelly. Hazelton's goal came on a hard shot at the 16:13 mark of the first, and Kelly scored on a partial breakaway just over three minutes later.

The Kings came back with two goals before the period ended, the first at 7:22, when Mike Orser scored on a slap shot from the right side, assisted by Marc Duquette and John St. Amant.

Andy Zurawski got the tying goal at 3:09 of the first, assisted by Ross Prentice, on a breakaway.

At the 18:45 mark of the second, the Kings took advantage of a power play situation to get the go-ahead goal. St. Amant worked hard to set up the play, and passed the puck to Prentice in the slot, allowing Prentice to score.

Kelly Larmand made it 4-2 a few minutes later when, with both teams two men short, he took a good shot from the point. St. Amant and Vince DeCola got the assists on that goal.

What turned out to be the winning goal was scored with 9:15 remaining in the second, when DeCola took the face-off and got the puck to Ken Cowan who put it in the net.

With only 3:11 remaining in the second, Huntsville put a two man advantage to good use, and made it 5-3 on a goal by Pearce.

The Huntsville team came back to within one goal early in the third, when Mullen scored on a deflection.

With the third period nearly half over, St. Amant scored his first goal of the night, as Larry Cowan kept the puck in at the blue line and passed it into the slot.

He scored again four minutes later, when Duquette dug the puck out of the corner and got it to St. Amant in front of the net.

The Kings outshot Huntsville 40-33 in the game, but Huntsville outdid them in penalty minutes. Huntsville players were assessed a total of 86 minutes in penalties, while the Kings were assessed 72 minutes. Three of those penalties were for fighting, and eight game misconducts were handed out.

In the net for the Kings, Joe Rankin started the game, but was relieved by John Duval half way through the second period.

Settle for tie
Sunday afternoon's game was a lot closer, as about 600 people turned out at the Parry Sound arena to watch the Kings and the Parry Sound Shamrocks battle to a 4-4 tie.

The game was close throughout, and neither team was ahead by more than one goal at any point in the game.

John St. Amant opened the scoring with the only goal of the first period, from Vince De Cola, with only 2:01 remaining.

The team appeared a little sloppy in the first period, and failed to mount an effective attack when it had a two man advantage for about a minute.

It took Parry Sound until the 6:43 mark of the second to tie the game, and then St. Amant scored his second of the game shortly after that, on a power play, from Andy Zurawski. St. Amant took the puck near the blue line, stick handled his way in to the net, then pulled the goalie out of position and tucked the puck in behind him.

Early in the third period, Crawford scored for Parry Sound on a breakaway to tie the game once again.

Then, just over a minute later, Andy Zurawski picked up an unassisted goal when he beat the Parry Sound goal tender cleanly with a shot through the legs from about 40 feet out.

Casey Orr scored for Parry Sound off the draw at the 6:51 mark of the third to tie the game once again, and picked up his second of the game five minutes later to put the Shamrocks out in front for the first time in the game.

Their lead was short-lived. The Kings worked hard in the Parry Sound end, and 32 seconds after Orr's goal that work paid off when Ken Cowan put the puck into the net from the slot to tie the game for the fourth time.

In the dying seconds of the game the Kings, with a man advantage and a face-off in the Parry Sound end, pulled goal tender Joe Gibson, who made his first appearance as a King and played the whole game. They scrambled and managed to keep the puck in the Parry Sound end, but were unable to get a clear shot on net before the final buzzer sounded.

The Kings play again Friday night in Bracebridge, and they play their home opener in Elmvale Saturday night at 8:30. Since there won't be any games in Penetanguishene until the new year, the team is hoping to get full fan support when it plays in Elmvale.

Carling O'Keefe sponsors

player of the month award

Carling-O'Keefe Breweries has agreed to sponsor "Player of the Month" awards for members of the Penetanguishene Chemical Valley Junior Kings.

The winning players will receive either a watch, a jacket, or a kit bag. The presentations will be made by Gary Kennedy, of Orillia, the Carling-O'Keefe representative for this area.

Accordingly, a "King of the Game" will be selected after each game. For away games, the executive of the team will make the selection, while the fans will make the selection at home games.

The players of the month will be chosen from among these players.

So far, the Kings have played three games, and three "Kings of the Game" have been chosen. In the first game, against Oro, Ross Prentice was chosen "King of the Game" because of his five goal performance. Kings won the game 15-4.

John St. Amant was given the honour for his part in the team's 7-4 victory against Huntsville last Friday. He scored two goals and picked up three assists for a total of five points.

In Sunday's 4-4 tie against Parry Sound, the "King of the Game" was Andy Zurawski, who scored one goal and got one assist, and played an all round excellent game.

Interceptions hamper drives

P.S.S. drops final game to Alliston last Friday

Last Friday was not a good day for the Penetanguishene Secondary School football team; they went down to defeat in the league finals to Alliston, by a score of 24-6.

Coach Larry Banks said the defeat was not as bad as the score would indicate. He said the team moved the ball well, but just couldn't get the scores.

Early in the game, with the score still nothing, the P.S.S. squad found itself in the position of having a first down, goal to go, on the Alliston two-yard line. They came up dry.

By the end of the first half, the score was 12-0 for Alliston.

Banks said the tide seemed to turn in the second half. P.S.S. kicked off, and managed to recover its own kick. They marched the ball down the field, and finally Lloyd Cascagnette scored to put the team back into the game.

On the kickoff they tried a short kick, but couldn't recover it. They did, however, manage to get the ball back a few yards later, got rolling, and looked as though they would tie the game up when Alliston came up with a big interception.

Banks said interceptions were a major factor in the game. He said P.S.S. was intercepted four times, and each time it seemed to happen just when the team was moving the ball well.

"All through the game we got chances to come back," he said. "But every time we started to move the ball, we were intercepted."

Banks said that the entire coaching staff of the team, including Mate Lichtenberg, Wayne Morrison, Jake Dupuis, and himself, were "more than pleased" with the performance of the team over the season.

He said the coaches had started off the year with only four players who had ever played football before. This season, he said, had been intended to be a building year, and the team's second place finish and subsequent trip to the finals was more than they had dared hope for at the beginning of the season.

P.S.S. girls lose two straight in senior tournament Saturday

Penetanguishene's Senior Girls' Basketball team didn't have much luck in the Fifth Girls' Senior Basketball Tournament held Saturday at Penetanguishene and Midland Secondary Schools.

The P.S.S. girls lost their first game of the eight team tournament by a score of 21-20 to Newmarket. The game was close throughout, and Ann Roi led the team in scoring with 10 points.

In the second game of the tournament, played at 1:00 p.m. Saturday, P.S.S. lost to Alliston, 31-26. Penetanguishene played a poor first half, and at the halfway point in the game, they found themselves in a 23-2 hole.

They came on strong in the second half, outscoring Alliston by a 24-8 margin, but it wasn't enough to overcome the deficit. Ann Roi was again the top scorer, for Penetanguishene this time with 13 points, and April Copeland scored 10 points.

In the championship round of the tournament, Collingwood emerged victorious over Elmvale by a score of 40-15. Collingwood's Norah McLean was the top scorer in that game with 12 points, while Brenda Columbus led the Elmvale scorers with six

Juniors win sudden death game in high school basketball playoff

The Penetanguishene Junior girls' basketball team came a step closer to the zone championship yesterday, when it downed Brock 51-29 in a sudden death game at Penetanguishene Secondary School.

Gail Kingsley said the Penetanguishene girls played a very strong game, particularly in the last quarter, when they scored 17 points.

P.S.S. led throughout, and at the half way mark, they led 23-13.

The high scorer for Penetanguishene was Judy Payne, who scored 14 points. K. McRae was the high scorer for Brock, scoring nine points.

Kingsley said she didn't know yet who the team would be playing in the finals, but she suspected they would play Orillia District Collegiate and Vocational Institute on Wednesday in Orillia.

The junior team wasn't so lucky Monday afternoon; they played Elmvale in Elmvale, and went down to defeat 44-9.

Cathy Bidan was the high scorer for Penetanguishene, picking up three points, while Kim Agar scored 11 points to lead the Elmvale scorers.

Kingsley said Elmvale led throughout, leading 15-4 at the half. She said the P.S.S. girls had difficulty adjusting to the smaller gymnasium in Elmvale.

She said Elmvale made use of a full court press, and managed to keep the P.S.S. girls from scoring. She added that the Elmvale team was bigger than the P.S.S. team, and could out-jump the P.S.S. girls.

Dribbling up the court

In midjet girls basketball action at Elmvale District High School on Monday afternoon, the Elmvale girls overpowered the visiting Penetanguishene Secondary School team. The final score of game was 44-9 for Elmvale. The PSS girls experienced difficulty adjusting to the smaller Elmvale court. The Elmvale team is obviously well trained and appear to be a stronger team compared to the PSS girls. Staff photo

Juniors finish 1st in league

P.S.S. teams overpower St. Theresa's last week

St. Theresa's High School girls' basketball teams ended their regular season Thursday, with three losses to Penetanguishene Secondary School, one each in the Midget, Junior and Senior classes.

St. Theresa's Senior Crusaders were overcome by a stronger PSS squad and lost the contest 28-24 after they had kept it close for most of the match.

Catherine Vander Poel was high scorer for the Crusaders with 9 points.

St. Theresa's finishes the season out of the playoffs as they were behind every team in the league except Park Street Collegiate Institute.

Orillia District Collegiate and Vocational Institute lead the league and finished first ahead of Twin Lakes Secondary School and Brock District High School from Cannington.

Penetanguishene Secondary School took the fourth and final playoff spot in the Senior division.

The Junior Crusaders had a tougher time of it against PSS, losing 26-14 but finished the season in fourth place and will have a spot in the playoffs. PSS Juniors were best in the league and finished in first place among the seven schools in the zone.

High scorer for St. Theresa's was Viki Baziliauskas with five points. Bev Fitzgerald was high scorer for PSS with eight points.

Close Midget game

PSS took the Midget game by one point, winning 18-17 and finished the season in third place. St. Theresa's placed right behind them and both teams earned a berth in the playoffs.

High scorer for the Crusaders was Margaret Hamelin with six points. In the Senior playoffs Penetanguishene drew Twin Lakes as their opponents and ODCVI was pitted against Brock.

St. Theresa's Junior team faces ODCVI in the Junior playoff series while PSS takes on Brock.

The Midget playoffs pit runaway league leaders Elmvale against PSS and second place Park Street Collegiate against St. Theresa's.

St. Theresa's coach Sister Marlene Kelly is looking to the Midget team as Crusaders best hope to advance into the league finals.

"I'm hoping the Midgets beat Park," she said Monday. "They only lost by one point the last time they played and I think they can win this time."

The key to beating Park is to cover their strongest player according to Kelly. "She's almost a team by herself," she said, "she can dribble circles around everybody and she can shoot. They're going to have to keep her out of it to win."

Margaret Hamelin will be the key player for St. Theresa's and will most likely lead their scoring attack as usual.

St. Theresa's Juniors will try a zone defense against their faster moving opponents from ODCVI in an attempt to make the game closer and afford themselves a chance to win.

Kelly cited the Senior teams shooting record as the reason for their failure to place higher this year.

"They had good offence and defence but they couldn't sink them when they got the chance. In one game they had 70 shots at the basket and only scored on 20 of them."

Up for the shot

Jane Dinnington tries to add to the score for Penetanguishene Secondary School but her shot is blocked by a St. Theresa's opponent in their Junior girls' basketball game Thursday at St. Theresa's High School in Midland. The PSS Juniors won the game 26-14 and finished first in the league. Staff photo
