

Welcome guest

Hakan Rudstrom, a world champion curler and a member of the Swedish national team, signs the guest register at the Penetanguishene municipal offices yesterday. The curling team is in Penetanguishene for the rest of the week to play in exhibition games, practice on Canadian ice and play in the Wally's Men's Wear Bonselpiel on Friday.

From Sweden

World champions play local curlers

The Swedish National Curling team—the current world curling champions, arrived in Penetanguishene Monday, and are spending the entire week here.

Penetanguishene is the last stop of their fifth Canadian tour. The tours are to publicize the Silver Broom bonspiel, in which the world champion team is determined. The bonspiel is being held in Winnipeg this year.

During the Swedes stay, as well as getting a feel for the local flavour of Penetanguishene, the team will be practicing, playing in exhibition games and as a grand finale taking on some local talent in the Wally's Men's Wear Bonselpiel. The bonspiel is being held at the curling rink and begins on Friday morning.

Although the team has only just arrived in Penetanguishene, Ragnar Kamp, the skip of the team said "I think we made a really good choice to come here."

The team was not originally scheduled to come to Penetanguishene however, when they were in Pickering, Paul MacDonald, a member of the Midland curling team that went to the Briar, asked the Swedish team if they wanted to play in our part of the country.

The team has a busy schedule but for those interested in watching world champions in action, they are practicing on Thursday afternoon in Penetanguishene and playing an exhibition game against Midland at the Midland Curling Club Thursday evening at 8:30. On Friday they are playing in the Wally's Men's Wear Bonselpiel—starting at 9 a.m. They are also playing in the Bonspiel on Saturday and Sunday, but the times will depend on whether they win their games or not.

Local curlers beware!

Ragnar Kamp, skip of the Swedish national curling team, chats with his coach and team member Bjorn Rudstrom, in the Mayor's office yesterday. Mayor Moreau presented each of the four world champion curlers with a medallion as a memento and a reminder of their stay in Penetanguishene. This is the team's fifth visit to Canada but their first visit to this neck of the woods.

Kings take advantage of helpless foes

Huntsville Huskies might just as well have stayed at home Saturday. Penetanguishene's Chemical Valley Junior Kings were at home in Elmvale's Community Center, their first home game of the Ontario Junior C hockey season, and humoured themselves with a 14-2 win over the severely undermanned Huskies.

Within the first two minutes of play, Kings took the lead and started a bombardment that left the Huskies helpless.

Huntsville came to play on Saturday night, only because the game had been rescheduled from an earlier date. Coach Elgin Bolton explained after the game that, most of his players were unable to play on Saturdays.

"Our nights are Tuesdays and Fridays," he said, "the fellows were told that at the beginning of the year and they made arrangements to be off then. But that's the end, no more Saturday games for us from now on."

In fact Huntsville's manpower problem was brought on by more than a Saturday night game—two of Huskies players are out, because of suspensions and two others are injured, leaving them with only eight forwards.

Kings manager Peter Dubeau was annoyed with the poor showing by Huntsville.

"They wanted to play tonight," he said, "we gave them a choice of two dates and they picked tonight."

St. Amant leader Kings' John St. Amant was leading scorer for the night as he and linemates Marc Duquette and Ross Prentice combined for five goals, four of them in the second period.

Duquette had two goals of his own, assisted on all of St. Amant's five goals and was named player of the game.

Prentice was awarded assists on three of St. Amant's goals as well as both of Duquette's goals. Huskies scored once in the first period as Don Fowler, a juvenile brought up for the night, beat Kings goal tender Joe Gibson to make the score after the first period 6-1.

Penetanguishene's first goal was scored by Andy Zurawski who beat the Huntsville goal tender on a play from Mark Decourcy at 1:02.

At 8:09 Mike Orser made it 2-0 assisted by Aime Gignac and less than two minutes later Ken Cowan went in alone to score King's third goal.

Cowan and Prentice fed Duquette for his goal at 17:10 and 29 seconds later, Duquette scored again, this time from Prentice and St. Amant. Zurawski made it 6-0, 38 seconds later and was helped out by Decourcy and Kelly Larmand.

St. Amant got the first of his five goals at 0:57 of the second period with both Prentice and Duquette assisting. Gary Walters got his first two for the night from Cowan and was followed less than two minutes later by St. Amant again, this time from Duquette.

Both teams called a temporary halt to the barrage until Huntsville broke the silence with their second goal, by Marvin West, at 9:51 of the second period.

St. Amant started scoring again at 17:28, assisted by Duquette and 18 seconds later made it 11-2 with a goal from Prentice and Duquette.

Third period calm The third period was a much quieter 20 minutes and although Huskies were almost dead on their feet, Kings held their offence back scoring only three goals.

Walters scored from Gignac and Orser at 2:17 of the third followed by St. Amant's fifth goal one minute and 13 seconds later.

Vince Decola scored the final goal for Penetanguishene seven seconds on a pass from Decourcy.

King's obvious strength so far this year has been their offence which has never failed to score less than four goals. St. Amant however, was guarded in his enthusiasm for the team's goal scoring successes. "That wasn't good for us, scoring all those goals. Everyone was up ice all the time, and we were giving them three on two breaks."

Manager Dubeau said the defence played better than their last game, which they lost to Bracebridge.

"They played perfectly tonight. They rushed when they were supposed to and played defence when they were supposed to."

Kings outshot Huntsville 45-31 but were outshot 17-12 in the third.

Legal check?

Joe Gibson took matters into his own hands during Saturday's hockey game between Penetanguishene and Huntsville. The Kings goaltender came out to meet Huskies' Mike Didsbury and tried to slow him down as he flew by for the rebound. Kings won the game 14-2.

League leaders defeat Kings

The Penetanguishene Chemical Valley Junior Kings took their first loss of the season Friday night, as they went down to defeat 9-6 to the first place Bracebridge squad.

Penetanguishene took the lead for the first time in the game before the first minute had gone by. Gary Walter beat the Bracebridge goal tender with a shot from the slot at the 58 second mark of the first period. Less than a minute later Bracebridge tied it up, and six minutes after that the Kings went out in front again for the last time in the game when Walter scored his second of the game from the point.

The Kings held the lead until there were just under seven minutes left in the period, when Bracebridge scored two in quick succession, one on a power play, to take the lead by a score of 3-2.

John St. Amant tied the game again early in the second period on a power last time in the game when Walter scored his second of the game from the point.

The Kings held the lead until there were just under seven minutes left in the period, when Bracebridge scored two in quick succession, one on a power play, to take the lead by a score of 3-2.

John St. Amant tied the game again early in the second period on a power play, when he deked the goalie to pop in the shot.

Throughout the rest of the second period, the teams alternated goals, with Andy Zurawski and St. Amant scoring for the Kings, and at the end of the second, the score was tied up at five goals apiece. St. Amant's goal came while the Kings were a man short. Vince Decola got a face off to St. Amant, and St. Amant scored on the shot.

Bracebridge dominated the third period, scoring four goals evenly spaced throughout the period, the last coming with only 2:06 remaining in the game while the Kings had the man advantage. The Kings were pressing hard trying to get back into the game, when a shot from one of the defencemen was blocked and Bracebridge managed to get a breakaway.

The final Kings goal came with only 49 seconds left in the game, as St. Amant picked up a hat trick with assists going to Mark Decourcy and Mike Orser.

The game was not lost because of any lack of shots on net; the Kings outshot Bracebridge 37-35.

The loss leaves the Kings in third place, two points behind Bracebridge and Huntsville. The Kings, however, have one game in hand over Bracebridge, and three games in hand over Huntsville.

Recreation scene

Well, things seem to be moving very well at the arena at the present time. The work seems to be going on schedule and hopefully, the weather will keep relatively mild which will help immensely with the floor pouring. I have sent letters to groups which had ice rented last year, and I must remind them to get back to me and arrange a meeting before the end of November. If I do not hear from your group by then, I'm afraid your ice time will be rented to someone else. Please contact me as soon as possible to arrange this meeting.

I would like to encourage all hockey fans to please support the Junior "C" Kings when they play their home games in Elmvale. The team has lost only once so far this year and certainly deserve your support.

by Ron Marchildon
Penetanguishene Recreation Coordinator

I'm sure you will enjoy their brand of hockey. A reminder that there are still a few Grey Cup Pool tickets available. This pool is being sponsored by the Junior Kings and tickets can be acquired at Stoneleigh Motors or Ken Gauthier Sports. Your support would be greatly appreciated.

I fully intend to call at least two organizational meetings very early in the new year. It is imperative that both minor soccer and minor softball have a very strong executive this year. Without this, executive support it is very likely that both sports may not operate this coming summer. Your interest and help will definitely be needed if our children are to participate in these two sports.

Private Property. No Trespassing. Keep out. Each year our hunting and fishing territory gets smaller and smaller because of these signs. At times it may make a few of us a little angry to say the least.

After talking to a few of the land owners and seeing some of the damage that has been done to private property in the last few years I can honestly say I really don't blame the landowners. Many men and women forget that while they are fishing or hunting on private land they are, in fact, guests of the owner. Just as being a guest in a home it is up to the sportsmen to show the landowner he is deserving of the trust shown him.

Leaving debris scattered through out the streams bush and lakes is no way to say thank you to the landowner. If, while out in the bush, every outdoorsman would pick up just a little bit of litter, it would not take long before we would be leaving nothing behind us but our footprints. Just maybe a few more landowners would allow us on their property knowing we are there to hunt and fish and not to cause damage or leave a mess.

Just recently I had asked a landowner for permission to enter onto his property. The owner laid it on the line, "Its all right if you don't leave any garbage laying around. I'm tired of picking up after you guys." It was the first time I had ever met the man. It can only mean that because of a few we are all given the same reputation. Its up to the sportsmen to show that we appreciate and respect the landowners property.

Don't be afraid to offer some of your game to the owner. You may find that it will go a long way in the future to ensure many hours of outdoor enjoyment.

Deer season

Weather was not the best for the deer hunter. As I sit banging away on the typewriter the rain is once again falling. There will have been many wet hides (Not only of deer) during the open season in the Muskokas. Since Manitoulin Island has not as yet opened its season for deer I can still hope for better weather than we are having now.

The grapevine has it that the deer are staying close to Highway 69 and are not deep in the bush as we might expect. Ron Lalonde of Midland says he cannot explain it, but the deer seem to be within a mile of the highway. Ron does admit that it's a pleasant surprise and does save a lot of leg work. The weather was so bad on the day I met Ron that he and his party decided to take a break and dry out at home for a change. The party had seen deer but up until then had not bagged one as yet.

If perseverance pays off Ron and his crew will at least get a taste this year.

In the column of Sept. 28 / 77 some readers may have been misled by some of the statements made. At an executive meeting at which I was invited, as a guest, Lloyd Wilson informed me that over $1600 were paid in dues to the Federation of Anglers and Hunters that filters its way down in many Conservation projects throughout Ontario. This is only one of the examples I was given.

Late rally gives PSS senior girls finals berth

The senior girls' basketball team from Penetanguishene Secondary School executed a fourth quarter rally in their semi-final game last week to earn a spot in the zone two finals.

P.S.S. defeated Twin Lakes Secondary School 40-36 November 8 after being down 28-22 going into the last quarter. The win means PSS will meet Orillia District Collegiate and Vocational Institute in a two game, total points series to decide the zone two champion. The teams will meet here November 24 and in Orillia November 26.

Penetanguishene saw their narrow 18-15 first half lead disintegrate in the third quarter as a result of four first-stringers fouling out.

"It was an aggressive game," said Gail Kingsley, "because we were playing a full court press."

This strategy, she explained, is like forechecking in hockey. All five players play deep in the opposing team's zone in an attempt to cause turnovers and force the other team to rush their plays.

"In the last quarter we also tired the other team," Kingsley said in explaining why PSS outscored Orillia 18-8 in the final period without the help of their top shooters. Debbie Tinney led the charge for Penetanguishene with 12 points. Ann Roi was right behind with 11. Bonnie Stilgs was high scorer for Twin Lakes hitting for 10 points.

Penetanguishene's opposition in the upcoming finals was victorious in the only meeting of the season between the two teams.

ODCVI downed PSS 49-19 in that match-up. However Kingsley said coach Bruce Brown has a new strategy worked out which is designed to even the difference.

Loss leaves PSS juniors with tough uphill struggle

Three connections on long shots by an Orillia player in quick succession reversed the momentum in last week's zone two finals and ultimately resulted in Penetanguishene Secondary School losing 39-25.

The game, played last Wednesday, was the first in a two-game, total-point series. PSS is now at a 14 point deficit going into next Thursday's final game.

Penetanguishene held a 14-10 lead entering the second half and appeared to be carrying the play. Then Orillia's C. Adams got possession of the ball and struck three times from 25 feet out to catapult her team into the lead and demoralize the opposition.

"It changed the momentum," said Gail Kingsley of Adams' performance. "We had to find a way of handling this player."

Kingsley admitted it wasn't all Adams' doing in ODCVI's resurgence. "We made a lot of turnovers in our end of the court."

Bev Fitzgerald topped the score sheet for Penetanguishene, netting 13 points. J. Hughes and J. Caburoc scored 12 each for Orillia.

The zone two champion will be decided in the second game of the total point series, slated for next Thursday at PSS.
