Concert a festival preview

A concert in Penetanguishene last Sunday afternoon featured local choral groups, instrumentalists, soloist vocalists, and the combined musical talents of a 132 member massed band.

The concert bands from Midland and Penetanguishene secondary schools joined together for the event, and as well as 76 Trombones from The Music Man they played the theme from Star Wars, Second Suite in F, by Gustav Holst, Concerto for Madison Avenue (a medley of familiar advertising jingles), A Folk Song Suite, selections from Jesus Christ Superstar and The Lord is My Shepherd.

The combined bands were conducted alternately by John Coull, PSS Music Head, and Phyllis McCullough, who heads the music department at MSS.

For the audience, the sound of the massed bands was impressive and stirring. It's the first time the two long student bands have combined their talents, and the concert was all the more impressive when one considers that the combined group had only one rehearsal together.

A favourite moment in the concert was the Tribute to Glenn Miller, (Tuxedo Junction, Little Brown Jug, Jersey Bounce and American Patrol) played by the massed bands.

Kathleen Mounter directed the St. Paul's United Church Choir in Tonight, The Way We Were and a bouncy rendition of Just A Closer Walk With Thee.

More choral selections were contributed by the Intermediate Glee Club from Parkview Public School, directed by Mrs. Widdes.

Mrs. H. Veall conducted a choral group from Huron Park School in Land of the Silver Birch, and the Blue Tailed Fly.

The program was rounded out by performances by a number of instrumental and vocal soloists - Martin Veall, Brent Farquhar, Cindy Grozelle, Kelly Ehler, Karen Wright, Rosalyn Fancy, Claudia Slama, Carl Newman, Cheryl Smith and Lee Livingston. Each performer demonstrated that there is a lot of young musical talent in our area.

It was a pleasant way to spend a February Sunday - best described by the words to one of the jingles in the Madison Avenue medley - M-m-m, Good!
