

Joe Dolezel

Exercise not ugly word to Joe Dolezel CKVR at full power

For most of us, exercise is an ugly word. We're known as a nation of slightly degenerate slobs who drink too much, work out too little, and at 30 are behind the average 70-year-old Swede in terms of conditioning.

That may be the norm, but it's by no means the reality for all Canadians.

In Midland, a quiet, introspective doctor of internal medicine has fun with his shoes on. He runs up to 20 miles a day, six or seven days a week, whenever he has the time and inclination. And he does it quite simply, because it's "fun".

Dr. Joe Dolezel came to Midland four years ago to establish a specialist's practice in a part of the province in need of expertise.

But he also brought with him a commitment to physical fitness as a way of life borne of a trial experience in his native Czechoslovakia. At the age of 19 he tried running and found it an enjoyable release from the pressures of everyday life. It made him "feel good" and that's kept him at it past his 37th birthday.

As a diversion, he also enjoys downhill skiing, bicycle riding and taking to the waters of Georgian Bay in a canoe or kayak as a natural extension of his belief that the human body is like a machine that must be kept finely tuned for the health of mind, spirit and body-with the spirit benefitting probably most from the activity.

He's no fitness nut who pushes his activities on others. He just quietly takes to the street or track for an activity session that helps erase the pressures of a demanding profession. And he feels one of the keys to developing similar interest in young people is the YMCA. He talks in interviews of the unity of mind, body and spirit, emphasizing that pleasurable exercise rather than fiercely competitive sports first learned in schools is a key to physical and emotional health.

And he adds there "is a large group of people who want to be fit and need facilities and movitation only organizations like the YMCA can provide."

He says people should set goals for themselves, but "not negative ones. Set positive goals, something you're enjoying."

Dr. Dolezel stresses the difference between the person who works out-preferably with the fellowship of others found at the Y- and competitive sports enthusiasts. They are, in his book, two very different animals.

When you're enjoying what you're doing, be it running, swimming or whatever you should "not be obsessed with like a professional athlete". He stresses instead, that "everybody should take as relaxing an activity as possible—but they have to be told how to do it." And he adds that physical work and physical exercise "have totally different effects on the individual." One is stressful, the other is not.

At the Y, he feels, you can "do your own thing it's a place to change your clothes, and it makes a tremendous difference if you go out with someone in fellowship.'

Few of us will match Dr. Dolezel by running 60 or more miles a week. He claims he would do it whether he was a doctor or not.

He feels, in short, that what he does in his leisure hours can be both fun and beneficial to his health. He sets an example for some of us more inclined to retire to the reading room with book, drink and cigarette in hand.

And that's why he thinks the new building at Little Lake Park for the Midland Y will be an important addition to the area and its citizens. In the end, true recreation and physical activity, he feels, together with developing personal relationships, benefits us all.

The financial campaign for the new Midland area Y is due to be launched next week. Anyone for ping-pong?

Wolves pose real problem for area farmers

by Terri Howell

A $25 reward is offered for the arrest and slaving of a creature described as grey-haired, and mean with an animal-like build. Witnesses say he often takes fits of howling and bearing his teeth. This creature answers to the name of Timber Wolf.

department officials.

which was held on Wednesday, has set the legal seating capacity of the new arena, when the ice is in place, at 1,350

According to fire chief

Francis Miller, an anonymous phone call to the fire department on the day of the first hockey game in the arena was the cause of the Wednesday

He outlined that the caller said there were too many people in the arena

for safety. Chief Miller people.

meeting.

Simcoe County council the $25 bounty on wolves was a hotly contested issue. Midland Deputy-Reeve Bill Ogilvie, Port McNicoll Reeve Robin Talbot and Matchedash Township Reeve Gordon Priestman, all fought for an end to the wolf bounty.

Arena capacity set capacity.

says the fire department was not called ahead of time and told about the game and there were no signs posted outlining the maximum crowd

There doesn't seem to be any clear cut figure for how many people attended the April 2 Major

Bantams game. Jim

MacLaren, manager of the arena told The Times that 1,200 attended.

Francis Miller says

everyone seems to give

When the ice isn't in the manager Art Evans, he has interviewed all of the candidates and will be making a recom-

Mr. Evans said if he feels there isn't a suitable candidate after interviewing all five, he will discuss reopening the competition with the commission. He pointed out that they may have to raise the salary range to The applicants range in attract more people.

age from 29 to 44.

mission next week.

him different figures

Tune up your television September, CKVR clear again.

sets, Wednesday night for television in Barrie, sent the first time since last a picture booming in Five people are vying Public Utilities Commission.

Five people are after

PUC controller job

for the position of controller of the Midland

Therrien tops

at track meet

Pierre Therrien, of

Penetanguishene Secondary School claimed the highest placing for his team, last week at the

Georgian Bay Indoor

Track and Field meet in Therrien ran to a fourth place in the Senior boys'

400-metre race held at the Canadian National

Dave Downey of PSS

finished fifth in the Senior boys' long jump and John

Roi placed seventh in the Junior boys' 800-metre

Louis Lepage also of

PSS, was the fourth member of her team to qualify for the finals,

after placing well in the Simcoe County meet the week before. But in doing so, she injured herself and could not participate in the Junior girls' long

Exhibition grounds.

Toronto.

Their fight was lost and the wolf bounty budget was raised to $9,800.

To those of us who sit comfortable in residential houses and make our livings from industry and business in a town setting, the wolf bounty seems like a cruel and senseless waste of our tax dollar.

arena more than 1,350 will be allowed. Chief Miller says that when the ice is gone and the event being staged at the arena

requires floor space, the Public Halls Licencing

Act bylaw takes over. He says there are different figures for crowds size, depending on the type of function being held in the

The Shriner's Circus,

which is coming up and is being held in the arena,

will be governed by the Public Halls Licencing

Wednesday the station

returned to full power

according to Doug

Garraway, CKVR

programming services

The station has been broadcasting under limited power since

small aircraft hit the CK-

VR tower, killing all five men aboard and knocking

the television station out

CHAY-FM, which was director.

According to general September 1977, when a mendation to the com- of commission.

Bylaw, he said.

who makes his living from his land and livestock, the wolf is a becoming more and more destructive and the wolf

Gerald Reid, a farmer from RR3, Coldwater lost 10 spring lambs to wolves one night last October.

"All the sheep were out in the pasture. The wolves must have come out of the bush and came on them unexpectedly. Seven or eight were killed, the rest died from injuries. They were all froze over when I found them in the morning," says Mr. Reid.

The mass slayings were a shock to him. He claims that usually a wolf won't kill more than he needs to Ministry of Natural Resources officials came out to the Reid farm to investigate the killings. Mr. Reid says he has lost sheep to dogs before, but was almost sure this mass slaying was not

The ministry officials told him there was a good chance that an old wolf with pups had come on his flock. The old mother was Resources 31 complaints probably teaching her were filed last year in- the wolf bounty isn't young ones to kill.

never had trouble with compensation were filed wolves before last October. Since the Agiculture and Food. killings, he has seen and heard wolves "just south for a dead wolf. People He added that the wolf of his farm." He can't speculate whether or not he will loose more spring lambs this fall.

"I can't keep them in the barn all the time," he

Farmers can get compensation for lost

PARKVIEW vs

HURON PARK

live on TV

Channel 12

April 17, 3:00 p.m.

FASTMATICS

CHAMPIONSHIP also affected by the crash, still hasn't during returned to full power. According to Vin Dittmer, Education Week general manager, the sponsored by station should be back to full power soon. Penetanguishene The radio station Secondary School.

transmits from CKVR's tower and had to wait for the tower to be completed.

township paid him the price lambs were selling for on the Toronto market. He didn't want to say how close this was to what his sheep were worth, but he hinted that bounty is a good control.

> worth more. Mr. Reid says wolves attack in the fall when their normal prey such as groundhogs and rabbits are beginning to hibernate and livestock is still in the fields. He says in the spring the sheep are they might have been safe in the barn. Mr. Reid is in favour of the wolf bounty, as means of controlling the farming menace

Howard Dunlop of RR4, Coldwater, lost four lambs last fall as well. He got between $40 and $50 each to compensate him for his loss

Mr. Dunlop says that wolves were a problem last year and have been in years before.

James Lindsay of RR4 Creemore lost 90 lambs from his farm between mid-May and October last

According to the Ministry of Natural with the Ministry of who shoot one must take pelt can also be sold.

township office. Here they fill out a card and the money is sent to them. Some townships have a wolf bounty as well. In Medonte Township where Mr. Dunlop and Mrs. Reid live, there is another $25. bounty on wolves. This means that a wolf shot in Medonte is worth $50.

According to spokesman from the Medonte Township office, if you shoot a wolf within the township boundaries you must bring the entire wolf to the office. The clerk will-check to be sure it is a wolf and clip the

There is no township bounty on wolves in Tiny or Tay, so wolves shot in these areas are only worth $25. At last month's Simcoe County council meeting, the three main objectors to the bounty objected to the inhumane way of killing the animals. Deputy-Reeve Ogilvie says, "the province did away with bounties several years ago," He pointed out that there are more humane ways of animal control.

The deputy-reeve says volving wolves in the economical. He outlined Mr. Reid claims that he county. Fifty claims for the fact that people from other counties and townships will come into Simcoe County in order to Simcoe County pays $25 collect the wolf bounty.

Special

Have your children's portraits taken by Brian Studio before April 30, 1978, and receive your 8xl0s for $8.10 each. (Regular studio price $19.95)

Brian Studio

PHOTOGRAPHERS 212 King St., Midland, No. 5 526-4139

Weddings, Portraiture, Child Studies, Passport Photos $2, Business Portraits, Commercial and Industrial.

JORY'S

We restore old photographs.

Board to review costs of retrainable retarded

The Simcoe County its deliberations that a this difference, Mrs. Board of Education voted slight adjustment, based MacKenzie explained, is Wednesday night to upon enrolment factors, that undue strain is put on petition the Ministry of Education to have it review the total costs of providing education for determined that con- ministry were to revise trainable retarded stantly increasing costs its funding for trainable children, and to ask it to for traiable students retarded children, as make adjustments to outweigh the small in- requested in the petition Ministry funding schemes for programs for the provided.

trainable retarded. for the petition came MacKenzie of Elmvale, the Ontario Public School from the board's explained that the fun- Trustee's Association to Advisory Committee on ding problem lies in the support the petition. School for Trainable fact that trainable Retarded Children, which mentally retarded recently reviewed the students are included by costs of education for the ministry in the same trainable children within funding category as the board's current secondary school operating budget. It had students. The difficulty embarked on this review with this, she said, is that in light of a resolution the cost of educating a sent the board by the trainable retarded child Leeds Grenville Board of is about double that of a Education, asking the secondary school student. retarded programs.

had been granted the the secondary school SCBE by the ministry for budget. its 1978 budget, but

Chairperson of the somewhat The recommendation committee, Mrs. Wendy The SCBE will request SCBE's support in its It costs $2,040 per year attempts to persuade the to educate a secondary ministry to alter its school student, while the funding for trainable cost of educating a retarded child amounts to The committee noted in $4,039. The net effect of

She said that if the crease this adjustment passed by the SCBE, the situation would ease

MIDLAND NURSERY SCHOOL, INC

308 King St., Midland

Registration for 3 and 4 year olds

OPEN HOUSE April 18 to 21

from 9:30-11:30 a.m. and from 1:30-3:30 p.m.

R.R. No. 1, WAUBAUSHENE

538-2573

call out of town - collect

CALLING ALL CARS SPRING SPECIALS

shock absorbers Any necessary parts and installation extra, if required most passenger cars.

Any additional parts or service will be quoted before work is started.

SHOCK ABSORBERS front and rear suspension

Installation included Passenger cars and light trucks

Call our Service Department, ask for Mike or Alvin "They give a care" (Expires May 15th)

472 Hugel Ave., Midland 526-2278

GUARANTEED 90 DAYS OR 4000 MILES

We'll give you a special DISCOUNT on your purchase when you cash

your baby bonus cheque here. Excludes cigarettes, prescriptions and specials.

JORY I-DA PHARMACY

Serving the community for over two generations DELIVERY SERVICE

Friday, April 14, 1978, Page 3

268 King St 526-2781

Council passes BIA bylaw

The Ontario Municipal Board has approved Midland's request to have King Street between Elizabeth Street and Bayshore Drive designated as a Business Improvement Area. The announcement came at a regular meeting of council held on Monday night. Mayor Moreland Lynn said it was one of the fastest OMB approvals he had ever seen. The bylaw designating the area on King Street as a BIA was only passed three weeks

Alderman Bill Orr, who made the announcement to council as chairman of the Finance Committee, said that the next step was to appoint a committee to organize the BIA. He said the best way to go about this would be to get suitable people listed by the Downtown Revitalization Committee and submitted to council. Only one member of council will sit on the committee.