This Week's
Horoscope

ARIES (March 21-April 19): You're off and running on a self-improvement program expanding your mind and social circle. Is it this that causes a strain on an existing friendship? Analyze the situation. If an apology is called for—make it.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): A work situation may be driving you up the wall. You know what you'd like to do about it, but try to cool it for awhile. Your solution could be final—and regretted later. Calm down—then trust to impulse.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): You'd really like to fly this week but may have difficulty even getting off the ground. Domestic routine is a real drag right now and unexpected guests won't help matters any. Whiz through trivia as fast as possible then make invisible.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Expect some flak when it comes to how and where you spend your money this week. Fortunately it's YOUR money to do with as you like. Right now there's a bit more of it than usual, so live it up.

LEO (July 23-August 22): Like most Leos, you adore center stage. This week you're better off backstage. Conditions are somewhat limiting right now—a real drag. You'll get the insight you need from an unexpected source. In the meantime, keep a low profile.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22): Are you looking backward when you should be looking toward the future? The answer's apt to be "Yes." And yes again—you can expect problems. Conflicts arise with someone who'll attempt to play on your sympathies.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22): Cool, calm, sometimes calculating Lib is apt to turn flighty this week. Yes, your ideas are good but try to keep them on the back burner until you have all the details worked out.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 22): No, Scorp, this is not the time to let it all hang out. Reveal too much, come on too strong and you lose. On the other hand, if you stick to the known facts and allow your natural charisma to work for you, the outcome's up to you.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23-December 21): First the warning: Don't try anything iffy where money's concerned. Also make sure that anyone involved in a business dealing is super honest. Now the fun stuff: Romance should sizzle come Tuesday. Someone new looks awfully good.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19): Objectivity may be the key to solving this week's riddle, Cap. Something's not quite right. Could be your bank account or is it your lover? Maybe both. You've had better weeks but this one begins to improve by Wednesday.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18): Take a good look at Scorp's starcast, Aquari. The grass is not always greener on the other side. Try something drastic and you could find yourself exchanging one set of problems for another. It isn't easy for a kook like you to be cautious but it's best now.

PISCES (February 19-March 20): If you can keep your head when all about you are losing theirs—well, if you can, tell me about it! This is a wild week, Pi. Fortunately your night life makes the days a lot easier to live with.

'Gaslight' at Gryphon

"Gaslight" (also known as "Angel Street") by Patrick Hamilton, is a grippingly suspenseful tale of London's gaslight era, skillfully elaborate in its writing and menacingly quiet in tone; like the stealth of stockinged feet.

The Gryphon Theatre Company presents this psychological thriller at Georgian College Theatre, Barrie from July 31 to August 5.

Heading the cast of the chill-filled melodrama, under the direction of Vernon Chapman are: Marcia Bennett, in the role of the fearful wife; David Brown, as her suavely-sinister husband; and Sandy Webster as the suspicious police inspector.

In the order key roles are Denise Baillargeon as the saucy, young maid and Eleanor Beecroft as the stolid older servant.

Jack Timlock has designed the elegant but gloomy Victorian setting; Barbara Suarez has designed the period costumes and Simon Reeve the lighting.
