Grandmothers feted at special June meeting

by Adelaide Lougheed
The Crossland ladies chose June 11 as the occasion for their Grandmothers' meeting, held at Mrs. Gladys Train's, with twelve members answering the roll call, "What makes life beautiful for you." Mrs. Irene Allen, guest grandmother, was also honoured with a card and a song for her 82nd birthday anniversary. It was decided to place a book in the Elmvale Library in memory of Miss Lillian Sheppard who died recently in Collingwood Hospital. Colleen Regier was in charge of the program and began with several readings referring to Grandmothers, then presented each lady with a boot-shaped holder for scissors. Her guest speaker, Mrs. Ruth Allen of Elmvale, was introduced. Ruth had numerous articles to demonstrate her topic of crafts, starting with a pair of pillow cases trimmed with exquisite knitted lace made by her grandmother when she was 90 years old. Some of the things Ruth demonstrated how to make were pot holders, table mats for cellar rings, trapunt quilting, shadow quilting, holders for holding knitting needles, fringe making, continuous bias binding and other enjoyable activities for nimble fingers. This being the year of the handicapped, Colleen read us part of a letter from a paraplegic, asking us to think of ways we can encourage governments to legislate needed changes on their behalf. Doris Nurcomb's contest was won by Vi McClelland and Ruth Allen. A delightful lunch by Gladys Train and Edith Doan was much enjoyed.

Crossland news
