Sonix need work

Mr. Submarine Sonix volleyball team is the newest addition to Midland-Hurononia Volleyball Club.

They failed to qualify for senior B competition in Toronto Oct. 19 and because of that, they will compete in Ontario's Volleyball Association's Intermediate Men's League.

On Sunday, they played their first intermediate tournament in Toronto and won two of their six games.

They first played Bloor JCC and won the first game 15-11.

They however couldn't hold onto the momentum and went down in defeat 15-9 and 15-8.

The same thing happened in their second match against Davesville.

The Sonix came on strong, winning their first game 15-3 but let their guard down and lost the next two games 15-12 and 15-8.

Coach Peter Beeney feels that the team will need more exhibition games to help their team play, needing more work on their defensive skills of blocking and digging.

The tournament Sunday showed their spiking and serve reception had improved greatly.

Practices for the team are every Tuesday and Thursday evening at Midland's YMCA with OVA action beginning again in late November.
