Urban cowgirls and cowboys

Hockey fans are one thing but Midland Athletic hockey fans are a completely different story. These cowpokes were the few that poked their head out of their home corral in Midland to brave the wild frontiers of Owen Sound Sunday night. Alas, the Athletics were ambushed 14-5 by Owen Sound.

Student swims set

If you're a student and wondering what to do on your day off Nov. 20 or Nov. 21, you might consider taking a dip in Midland YMCA's pool.

Nov. 20 is a professional development day for teachers in elementary schools in the area and the kids have a day off.

Midland's YMCA is offering an open swim for those kids between one and two p.m.

Nov. 21 is the day set for high school teachers in the county to have a chance to better themselves, giving high school students the day off.

An open swim for these students has also been set up with a modest charge of a quarter being set.

It will run between one and two p.m. as well.

In other news, Midland's YMCA will be holding a National Lifeguard Service and it will run for two weekends in January.

Registration for the lifeguard program closes Nov. 30.
