MSS boys' basketball under way

Midland Secondary School's boys' basketball program will get underway today when the senior, midget and junior boys' basketball teams will face teams from Elmvale and District High School.

The three coaches, Chester Graham, Jeff Attwood and Dennis Hern all have good beginnings on competitive squads.

Sr. Boys' Basketball
Coach Chester Graham should have another strong senior boys' basketball team this year.

John Faragher, disappointed that the volleyball season is over, is the quick, big man on both boards.

Whistling Glenn Haughton will supply the ballhandling and outside shooting skills.

Both of these fine athletes have aspirations of playing for university ball.

Scott Shaw, the quickest player on the team will lead the team offensively and defensively.

The boards will also be controlled by six foot, three inch Al Delange who always needs a challenge to reach his potential.

Ian Hunter, Dave Leduc and Steve Friesen will contribute to this well disciplined, hustling team.

Steve Frost, Kevin Cowden, Mark Pumptis and Gerry Richard will be the needed height and depth for the Marauders.

Jr. Boys' Basketball
Six foot, six inch Bill

Middleton attended a summer basketball camp and coach Dennis Hern is very pleased with his development.

Captain Wilson Cowan will backbone a tall forward corps.

John Johnson will contribute ball handling skills and needed rebounding.

Coach Hern is very pleased with the improved play of John Friesen and John Hudson at the guard position.

Sloan Campbell is working hard at his game and Phil Whan shows improvement every day.

Rob Leduc, Tim Platt, Drew Varley, Mac Speers and Gord Gaines are fighting it out at guard.

Paul Northcott, Lloyd Pilon and Craig Pender will compete for the forward position.

Coach Hern has a great group of young men.

Midget Boys' Basketball

Coach Jeff Attwood is starting his first year of coaching midget boys basketball. Jeff has an excellent background of playing the game at Laurentian University and as a former M.V.P. and Athlete of the Year at Midland Secondary School.

Three starters from last year's team are back bigger and stronger.

Todd Gray, Darryl Burns and Duncan McCready will offer the needed experience to help the new people.

Tim Grenier and Doug Woods will give the team height and muscle on the boards.

Andy Franz, Tom Hook, Jim Edgar, Bev Southon, Bill Richardson, Jason Marion, Bob Devine, Steve Bisson and Andrew Durrwachter round out the first year players who will represent the future of MSS boys' basketball program.
