

Seed and Feed Show

The 1981 Seed and Feed show Friday at Elmvale Community Hall and organizers are hoping for a good turnout at the two day event.

Judges at the show will be looking at close to 43 classes of entries including grains, forage seed, feed, maple and potato and championship and reserve awards will be handed out.

Friday judging will commence at 9 a.m. and at 11:45 a.m. a luncheon will be provided for judges, helpers and guest speakers.

At 12:30 the Community Hall becomes open to the public and the exhibits in the fair can then be viewed.

The educational program of the 1981 Seed and Feed Show will begin at 1 p.m. with the early bird draw and a film presentation by Ted Whitworth, Farm Safety Consultant dealing with Silo Gas will be shown.

Neil Moore of the Soils and Crops Branch of the OMAF will be the next guest speaker and he will lecture on "Soil Conservation - What Farmers are Doing". A film break will follow and the film will be entitled "Land - Our Best Resource".

A short 10 minute break will precede Bob Fulkerson's presentation dealing with Crop Planning and Rotation. Mr. Fulkerson is with the Crop Science Department of the University of Guelph.

And to wrap the day up completely, the presentation of awards to worthy entries will be made at approximately 3:30 p.m.

Members only
The Seed and Feed show is open to North Simcoe Farmers only and entrants will be required to hold a membership in the North Simcoe Soil and Crop Improvement Association.

Only seed grain grown in 1980 will be eligible and only clover seeds grown in 1979 or 1980 may be shown.

Local champions

Bantams lead quarter finals

By: G. Allen

The Sunday night play-off between Coldwater and Elmvale promised to have all the excitement of a deciding game, although both teams were aware that it was a third game in a best-of-five series.

Sensing the importance of the game, a large crowd of spectators left for Coldwater to support the locals.

Having scored five points in the previous encounter (four goals and an assist), it came as no surprise to Doug Kirton that when he moved toward the Coldwater end of the rink he seemed to be moving in a crowd. In spite of this he assisted Dave Bannerman's goal.

Perhaps it was unfortunate for Coldwater that they concentrated on Kirton because Rodger Allen on the same line, scored from Steve Chalmers to send Elmvale into a two goal lead.

Then, by mid game Coldwater's Leigh Brandon scored to bring Coldwater within one of Elmvale.

As if some hidden hand turned on the scoring switch, Elmvale took over the remainder of the game.

The final score was 9-2 for Elmvale.

Doug Kirton got six points; Dave Bannerman, four goals and an assist; Wayne Allen, four assists; Rodger Allen, two goals; Dan Clement, one goal and one assist; Steve Chalmers, two assists; Mike Hall, two assists; and Paul Steel, one goal.

Equally as important as the firing of the big guns was the fierce defensive play of the small boys on the team who were determined not to give away any of the ground gained by the others.

Any person who enjoys hockey could be proud of the persistence of players like Keith Norwood, Rob Connelly, Paul Bumstead, and Greg Miller.

It is difficult for players whose role it is to prevent goals against to feel the same thrill in victory as the person who triggers the light and brings the crowd to its feet.

However, without the dogged efforts of the troops in the trenches there would be no glory for the more visible stars.

Jason Pender was a standout in net.

This was indeed a hand-shake game. Congratulations Bantams.

Junior Farmers meet No-Stars

North Simcoe Junior Farmers will be cutting up the ice at Wasaga Stars Arena as the group meets the Barrie CKVR No-Stars in a fun game of hockey (or a reasonable facsimile).

Cost for admittance will be $2 per person and all proceeds will go to the March of Dimes.
