In the Saturday, April 4 game played on slow ice in Owen Sound, sluggish Stayner team 5-0. Stayner players seemed mystified by superior Elmvale passing plays and spent the entire game concentrating on defensive plav.

Picking up points for Elmvale were Doug Kirton with two, Dave Bannerman with two, Steve Chalmers with two, and singles going to Mike Hall, Rodger the shut-out.

Game two Game two of the bantam series turned out to be an easy win for Elmvale as the boys downed Thornbury by a score of 12-2 in a rather uninteresting game.

Although Thornbury had proven competitive wins Collingwood Wasaga prior meeting Elmvale, the team was no match for the skills of the Elmvale boys, skills honed sharper by three tough OMHA play-off series.

The shock of being bettered by Owen Sound in the final game of the Georgian Bay play-offs had a quieting influence on the team as they lined up to salute the victors.

Being on the low end of a 4-0 score was enough to make the Elmvale players lose sight of the fact that they too were recipients of a pennant, that of "finalists".

The refereeing was good, ice conditions were satisfactory, the crowd was responsive, the players played with skill and enthusiasm. They just lost to a team that was better on this particular Sunday afternoon.

There are some games like that.

To the credit of the local boys the game ended with dignity and sportsman ship and a resigned recognition that in spite of all efforts a game can slip slowly from one's grasp.
