

For the fun they run

Fifty-two joggers turned out Sunday at the Midland YMCA for the third annual YMCA run for fun. After leaving the Y the joggers split off into different routes, depending on whether they had signed up for the two mile, four mile, six mile, or eight mile run. Prizes of jogging socks and Y t-shirts were given out at random to finishers. The event was not a competitive race.

Run For Fun draws full deck

What was anticipated to be a poor turnout of 15 or so runners for the Third Annual Midland YMCA-CKMP Run For Fun held Sunday in Midland actually drew a total of 52 runners.

The majority of those runners only joined in the last two days of registration though.

There were 18 runners in the two mile run with another 15 in the four mile run.

In the six mile run, there were 12 runners, with the remaining seven in the eight mile run.

Prizes in the two mile division were awarded to Ian Porter and Fred Melnyk who received jogging socks while Bill Northcott and Richard Pady each got a YMCA T-shirt.

In the four mile run, Jason Brown and David Langridge each received jogging socks with Rob Richardson picking up a YMCA T-shirt.

William Boulanger and Wally Ross both were awarded jogging socks in the six mile run with John Gammell getting a YMCA T-shirt.

For the eight mile run, Perry Rintoul and Paul Noack received YMCA T-shirts.

This has been one of the lowest turnouts for this event but all in all, those who took part had fun.
