Beaverree attracts 90 youngsters

by Robin Nutbrown
Beavers from 2nd Midland, Elmvale, Victoria Harbour, Penetanguishene A and B Colony attended the annual Beaverree which was held at Little Lake Park on Saturday. Theme for the day was pirates. The boys were clothed from head to toe with the latest in pirate attire. There were a total of 90 in attendance. Games, songs, and a craft was done by all. Everyone had a good time, it showed on the boys' faces as they left Camp Buccaneer. Betty Walker and I would like to thank St. John Ambulance, Gail Cybulski for supplying the meat trays, Lanny Davidson for the ties which were used on the obstacle course, A and W for the rootbeer which quenched our thirst, Betty Laurin and Penny Tessier who helped out as volunteers. The boys were 6th Midland attended the Cuboree which was held at Bass Lake Provincial Park on the outskirts of Orillia this weekend.

working towards the goal of obtaining their conservation badge. All who attended the Cuboree had a fantastic time and it was a big success.

Acquires rights to lots

Georgian Bay Developments, according to Bryson McQuirter Jr., of Midland, has acquired the rights to a dozen lots on Randles Cr., here.

Plans initially call for the construction of four homes on the Midland property with other residential dwellings to be constructed at a later date.

Starting price for the three bedroom homes is $57,500. Each will be situated on 6,000 square foot lots.

They'll feature single and double car garages, full basements and paved driveways.

Bullet proof vests
Province of Ontario has set aside $3.3 million for bullet proof vests for Ontario Provincial Police and municipal police forces.

Spare time job

The young women and men who entertain an audience at the Penetanguishene Mental Health Centre, Saturday evening, who call themselves Project People, travel the country with their show in their spare time. The members of the Kitchener based group have regular jobs and perform in their spare time.

Student employment getting involved

Bonnie Curry, left and Bev Evans, right, were two of the riders who biked their Sunday morning for Contact. The two girls rode for the Student Employment Centre located on Bay Street. Altogether, 43 riders took part, raising over $3,000 by riding the course for pledges.
