

Penetanguishene Council Briefs

Monday evening's Penetanguishene council meeting, during which the budget for the town for the year was released, was attended as could best be determined by not one member of the general public there for their own interest.

Of eight people in the audience, three were town employees, four were people with specific inquiries, and the eighth was a reporter. In just under two-and-a-half hours the town council gave first or third reading to 16 bylaws, and passed eight motions.

Orser Night
June 30 is Brian Orser Appreciation Night. The town council, the Chamber of Commerce, and the Legion are working together to honour the native son who is the reigning Senior Men's Canadian champion, and a creditable representative for Canada at the last world figure skating championship.

Promotion
Constable Gerald Fuller was promoted to Second Class Constable from Third Class Constable. The promotion is retroactive to May 4. He has been with the local force for more than one year, and was a first class constable when he arrived.

Blitz okayed
The Penetanguishene General Hospital Women's Auxiliary was given permission to hold a door to door canvass blitz on October 5, starting at 6 p.m.

Brock Street Lane resident Charles Desroches addressed council in a repeat of a previous appearance during which he asked council to not, as proposed, give the lanes of the town new, official names.

Monday he claimed to represent a total of 75 people, who, like him, oppose the change. He was alone at the meeting however. Desroches told council that he finds it "shameful" and "horrifying" that the town police and firemen do not know the names of all of the streets and lanes.

The change of names for the lanes will be inconvenient and expensive, he said.

The mayor pointed out to Desroches that the bylaw was to be sent back to committee for further study after one reading, because council has received two petitions from two different areas.

Baker ill
The special committee that will meet with Tiny Township council tonight to discuss the zoning freeze in that township might be one member short.

Councillor Ray Baker was unable to attend Monday's council meeting because of illness. He, along with the mayor, Reeve Stewart, and Councillor McNeww, were appointed to a special committee, the Highway 27 Committee.

Tonight's meeting, however, is only the first of several expected meetings, the mayor said. Baker was appointed because of his experience on the local planning board and his many years on the Tiny-Tay Peninsula Planning Board.

Permission was granted to the Penetanguishene Midland Gym Club to hold a tag day here on June 27.

The Ontario Humane Society will be allowed to have a tag day here on July 10.

Beer Garden
Penetanguishene Minor Hockey will be allowed to have a beer garden in McQuire Park in conjunction with the Penetanguishene Old Timers Hockey Club's second annual slow pitch tournament on June 13, with June 20 an alternative date, depending on the weather.

The Centre d'activites franaises was given council's permission to sell beer and wine at the Cafe de la Cour, on June 25, July 1, 3 and 4, and at the curling club on June 23 or June 24, weather permitting, and on June 26.

All council permissions are contingent on the applicants getting special occasion permits from the Liquor Licence Board.

Belated presentation

by Eileen Hocken

A dinner party was held at the Bavarian House, on Friday night, in honour of Ernie Quesnelle who retired from the Port McNicoll Fire Department after 34 years of active service.

Village officials and 32 volunteer firefighters, along with their wives, attended the party. Mr. Quesnelle, though retired from active service, is still a member of the fire department, serving in a honorary capacity.

Unfortunately, he was unable to attend the party in his honour because of an illness in the family.

Mr. Quesnelle was later presented with a plaque from the village in appreciation of his many years of service to the community and with a watch from the fire department.

The presentation was made in his home on Saturday afternoon.

Reeve John Moreau presented Mr. Quesnelle with the plaque and Fire Chief Gordon Duggan presented the watch. Mrs. Quesnelle received a dozen red roses.

Congratulations are extended to Ernie Quesnelle, along with our sincere thanks for the many years he has served our community. We also wish him a long, pleasant retirement.

The Bonfire put on by the Recreation Board last Saturday is another success the group can claim to have under their belt. About 60 attended the get-together at Paradise Point.

There was a lot of family fun as everyone joined in a sing-along of good old Irish songs accompanied by several volunteer guitar players.

The Recreation Board has planned an adult dance to take place at the Port McNicoll Legion on June 20, beginning at 9 p.m.

Music will be supplied by the band, Harmony. Tickets will be available at the Lucky Dollar Store and Elsa's Cafe on First Street. Admission price is $10 per couple and a buffet lunch will be supplied.

On Tuesday, May 26, the Port McNicoll Lions Club paid tribute to George Hills for his contribution to sports and recreation in our village.

This event took place at the Bavarian House. Dr. Talbot was Chairperson for the evening's festivities. Eight member of the Hills family were present.

The Lions Club has applied for and received a Summer Works Grant for the village. They will be receiving about $15,000.

Port McNicoll

With the money, seven students will be hired for the summer months. The Lions Club plan on putting the students to work on the restoration of our skating rink at Jaycee Park. A new sign, "Welcome to Port McNicoll" will also be going up some time this summer.

Port McNicoll Cubs and Scouts will have a bottle drive on Saturday May 30, in the morning. The boys will be collecting bottles throughout Port McNicoll, Paradise Point and Midland Bay Woods.

The Cubs and Scouts will be participating in a Church Parade in Midland on Sunday.

On the weekend, 14 of our Cubs and four Leaders went camping at Awenda Park. The boys had an excellent time.

The Park Naturalist gave the boys a guided tour which lasted two and a half hours. The boys saw numerous kinds of wild flowers, beaver ponds, deer tracks, places where racoons had fed and best of all, they were lucky enough to see spawning carp.

All the boys who went to Awenda earned their Woodsman Badge. These will be presented to them shortly.

Our Scouts, meanwhile, went on their own camping trip to Camp Samac, near Oshawa. This was a dry run for the Scouts, a practice session for their trip to the Calgary Jamboree in July.

The jamboree is a big event for the Scouts as it only takes place every four years.

The Scouts will again be camping this coming weekend. Let's hope they have lovely weather two weekends in a row.

About 30 kids attended the pre-teen dance put on by the Youth Club of Port McNicoll on Saturday. The dance went quite well. Robby Ladouceur and Teddy Marion won L.P.'s.

The Teen Dance that same night had an attendance of approximately 50. The spot dance prizes of $2 were won by Roy Vaughn and Leasa Perrault and Kiven Crawford and Michele Dault.

Door prizes - 45 r.p.m. records - were won by Darlene Butineau and Kelly Stewart. The main door prize was a cake and it was won by Johnny Simpson.

The disc jockey was Shawn Henderson. The chaperones were Jane and Pat Armstrong, Judy Robertson and Bernie Deschamp.

There is to be another pre-teen dance on Saturday, May 30, next to Fancy's Fish and Chips Restaurant. The dance is for 10-13 year olds and will take place from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. It will be chaperoned.

Later that night, from 7 p.m. to 11 p.m., the Teen Dance, for 13-17 year olds, will take place at the same location.

This dance too will be well chaperoned. There are to be door and spot prizes.

The Port McNicoll Girl Guides will be going to Camp Manitamona this weekend. They will be leaving the school at 6.30 p.m. on Friday and returning on Sunday afternoon.

The Lions Club had a Stanley Cup Draw for the final game, 1981. Mr. T. Robinson, First Avenue, Port McNicoll won the winning goal and received $500.

$250 for the first goal went to R.A. Lalonde, Bay Street, Midland. $250 for the last goal of the game went to John Byers, R.R., Victoria Harbour.

Mrs. I. Lefaive, Penetanguishene, Mr. Donald Sample, RR3, Penetanguishene, and Miss J. McGowan, Perkinsfield, were all $25 winners.

Due to Grade 8 trip to Ottawa, there will be no Youth Group meeting this Thursday.

Port McNicoll Brownies and Girl Guides will be having their Annual Banquet on June 2, at the Port McNicoll Legion.

Next Monday will be the last meeting of the Port McNicoll Play Centre. Weather permitting, it will take place at the Jaycee Park.

We are still hoping someone will decide to run the Play Centre in the fall. So far no one has come forward to volunteer for this very worthwhile project.

Investor's Inquiry

by Charles Colling

Would you explain the different types of orders. G.H. Midland.

All the following apply to both buy and sell orders for a security.

Day order. This is automatically cancelled at the close of business on the same day that the order was placed.

Open order. Good indefinitely or until cancelled by the client. These orders can be qualified by the client such as good until the close of business in the current week or month etcetera.

Fixed price order. This is where a trade on a board lot of a stock can only be executed at the price fixed by the client.

Market order. The trade on a board lot of a stock is to be executed at the prevailing trading price when the order reaches the floor of the exchange.

CFO order is used when a change of price is authorized on an order by the client. For example - buy one hundred shares of ABC at ten dollars CFO Nine dollars and seventy-five cents or Cancel First Order and buy at ten dollars.

Contingent orders. This is a situation where a client wishes to sell one stock and buy another but the buy order cannot be executed until the sell order has been filled. In the case of both orders being in excess of a board lot, the orders may be executed in multiples of the board lot. For instance, where one hundred shares is a board lot and each order is for five hundred shares, if only three hundred shares of the sell order is executed then only three hundred shares of the buy order may be filled.

Short sale. This is when a client sells a stock that he does not own in the hope that it may be bought in at lower than the sale price. This should not be attempted by anyone without a good knowledge of trading procedures. These orders MUST be declared as such at the time they are entered by the client.

Stop Loss Order. This is the most controversial of all orders and should not be used unless the client is fully aware of what might happen.

Basically it is this: A client buys five hundred shares of ABC stock at ten dollars per share. In order to minimize his loss, if any, he places a stop loss order to sell five hundred shares at eight dollars per share.

Now, a stop order cannot be executed until a sale has actually occurred at eight dollars per share at which time the stop loss order automatically becomes a market order in which case the order may or may not be filled at eight dollars but at a price or prices under eight dollars depending on the demand for the stock.

Remembering, at this price one hundred shares is a board lot, the five hundred shares could be sold on this type of order at five different prices under the expected eight dollar figure. These orders may be entered with an underlying limit.

All or none order. This is where a client wished to buy or sell more than a board lot of a stock but it must be filled in its entirety in one trade or not at all.
