Armstrong plaque won

by

Walter McGilvray An annual invitational tournament took place at the Midland Lawn Bowling Club Monday afternoon when the Fred Armstrong Plaque was played for.

The plaque, designed and crafted by Ron Hunt out of balsa wood, was first put up for competition by the Armstrong family in recognition of their father's 70th birthday and has been competed for the past three years.

Eight representatives of the Leaside Bowling Club, the club where Fred Armstrong still maintains membership, were invited to bowl against eight members of the Midland Club.

Midland were successful in taking the plaque this year, amassing more points than the Leaside visitors.

The visiting bowlers were accompanied by their wives.

Refreshments were served during the game.

Indusmin plays game of year Wednesday

One Indusmin soccer club supporter was overheard to say, "This was the best game of soccer I have ever seen in Midland" at Wednesday night's game at Midland Secondary School in Midland.

Although Indusmin lost the game 2-1 to Simcoe Block, the play demonstrated by both teams was impressive to say the least.

Gord Fleming provided the lone marker for Indusmin with John Swales and Andy Monro, among the many others giving excellent performances.

The one player who may deserve the most credit would be Willy Rademaker who played in net for Indusmin, despite the fact he is not the regular goalie.
