

Expert care provided

Deb Stewart and Bob Arnold, conservators with the National Museums of Canada, hold one of the exhibits in the Penetanguishene Centennial Museum that they will be handling this week. The hand tinted photograph, Canoe bringing Champlain to Huronia, will be removed from it's backing, rematted, and remounted so that the front is not in contact with the glass.

Fun and bargains

Penetanguishene Sidewalk Sale and Gameland rolls into high gear for three big days

Fun, games, balloons, bargains...you'll find them all and plenty more tomorrow through Saturday during Penetanguishene's annual Sidewalk Sale and Gameland.

During the giant event you can pick up free Sidewalk Sale Bucks from any Penetanguishene merchant.

Children may use these Sidewalk Sale Bucks to play games set up in the Main Street parking lot or to buy a balloon.

These Sidewalk Sale Bucks can also be used on Saturday, Aug. 1 as admission to the matinee at the Pen Theatre in Penetanguishene.

In recent weeks both Midland and Elmvale have staged successful sidewalk sales and weather permitting this week's big event in Penetanguishene should be another success story.
