Consumers...what are our responsibilities?

We all know there are two sides to every coin, two sides to every story. If we are to enjoy our rights we must accept our responsibilities.

As consumers we have these responsibilities: The responsibility to protect ourselves by shopping carefully and wisely, understanding the terms of the sale, reading and following instructions, getting guarantees in writing and saving receipts, asking questions at point of sale and keeping informed about new products.

The responsibility of carrying out our transactions in a business-like way; such as reporting unsatisfactory products to retailers and manufacturers in order that they may be removed from shelves and future production.

The responsibility to tell other consumers about any unfair treatment by a retailer or manufacturer so consumers can protect themselves in future dealings. (The Better Business Bureau can warn other consumers of firms which have a number of complaints filed against them).

The responsibility to report apparently unsafe merchandise to Consumer and Corporate Affairs Canada so it can be tested and, if specifically labelled. Already action has been taken against some dangerous items such as certain baby rattles, toys, flammable fabrics and car seats.

If we discover dangerous items and simply toss them into the garbage, we are shirking our responsibility as a consumer.

Effective July, 1981 the G.A.I.N.S. levels have been increased to $479.46 for single pensioners and $903.92 for married couples. On an annual basis the guaranteed levels are $5,753.52 and $10,847.04 respectively. If you require detailed information about G.A.I.N.S. rates or eligibility requirements please call Contact Information Centre at 526-9333 Monday to Friday, 9 a.m. - 5 p.m.

This week we received an updated copy of the "List of Physicians Participating in O.H.I.P." from the Ministry of Health. Please call if you require any details.

Judy Limoges is spending her last two weeks with Contact on the phone calling local business, resorts and public places to inquire what facilities are available for the handicapped. If you have any of that type of information that would prove helpful to Judy in her research please call.

Contact said good-bye to Susan French on Friday, Aug. 21 with a presentation of a book to read while flying out West where Susan is spending the last two weeks of her summer.

Kathy Anest, co-ordinator of the Community Service Order Program will be attending a C.S.O. Co-Ordinator Conference on Sept. 29,30, and Oct. 1. This conference is to be held at the Guildwood Hill in West Hill.

The Junior Civitans are staging an appeal for new members. If you are between the ages of 12 and 20 and are still in school please call Contact. Meetings for Junior Civitans are held every second Wednesday at the Seniors Citizen's Building at Hugel and First Streets.

Contact's Culinary Creations will be available approximately on Aug. 30 depending on delivery date. The Recipe Book will be available at a cost of $4.50 a copy.

The solution to even the most difficult problem begins with the first step. If you have a problem, take the first step. Call Contact your Community Information Centre today.

Provincial playdowns

by Dave Chalmers

After dropping a 9-5 decision to Huntsville during the week, the A.E. LePage Lacrosse Novices rebounded with a pair of wins in Huntsville over the weekend to qualify for provincial playdowns.

Midland bounced Huntsville 11-5 in game one with an explosive five goal outburst from Jesse Perrault as Jamie Peden and Mike Waltenbury notched two apiece. Chris Walser and John Brophy also found the mark with one goal each.

David Chalmers handled the scoring in game two with a string of four goals as Shaun Desjardins and Jesse Perrault also picked up singles. Midland was able to turn back the huntsville attack and maintain the 6-5 win.

The weekend scoring action produced an amazing scoring statistic as Jesse Perrault and David Chalmers have clicked for 100 goals in 23 games to assist the team on the road toward the Provincial Playdowns this coming weekend in Kitchener.

The Midland A.E. LePage Novices will be well represented at the Playdowns and should hold their own during the tournament.
